4 Millions Take Action On Program

More Than Million Are Committed to Stay Off Jobs Until Laniel Backs Down

Paris, Aug. 13 (AP)—French organized labor shook a big fist under Premier Joseph Laniel's nose today, calling out upwards of four million strikers to underline its protest against the government's economy program.

Most of the workers were ordered to walk out for only 24 or 48 hours. But a hard core of more than a million already is committed to stay out until the premier backs down, tying up the nation's mines, railways, gas and electricity works, public health services and postal, telegraph and telephone systems.

As the wave of demoralizing strikes went into the ninth day, Laniel, a multimillionaire textile industrialist who learned to fight in the wartime French underground, stuck his chin out and said he would not yield.

Premier's Statement

In a fighting speech to the nation last night, the 64-year-old premier exclaimed:

"I say not to strike. I say no to pressure moves, direct or indirect, which have been imposed on the government."

All factions of French labor were pressing him. The first walkouts last week were called by the Socialist Workers' Force (FO), but the Communist-led General Federation of Labor (CGT) and the Christian (Catholic) Trades Union (FCTC) quickly joined in.

Laniel declared it was the duty of the government of a democratic state to oppose the strike. He asserted the quicker workers realized the strike would end sooner or later, the quicker the nation could buckle down to carrying out the "generous social program" he said he has in mind.

Disclosures Brought Trouble

The wave of walkouts was sparked by disclosure that the government's program for rescuing the nation's treasury from near-bankruptcy included lopping some employes off public payrolls and upping the retirement age for civil servants.

Workers also were angered that Laniel's plan did not put a heavier tax bite on the nation's wealthy. And the Communists chimed in with calls for a general wage boost.

Laniel said the strikes were crippling business by disgusting foreign tourists who no longer will want to spend their summers in France.

"Let us not give to the rest of the world the spectacle of people airing their dirty linen in public," he pleaded.

Replacing Services

The premier declared that "defective services" would be replaced. The government has put policemen, soldiers and convicts to work delivering mail, driving buses and collecting rubbish, it also has issued requisition orders to railroad workers.

Defiance of the orders could result in loss of jobs or even imprisonment. Several thousand railway employes returned to their jobs last night, putting a few express trains back into service.

Postal, telegraph and telephone workers have largely ignored similar requisition orders.

There was no immediate official response from the unions to Laniel's tough talk. Today's strike called for walkouts in nearly every public and private enterprise in the nation. The only industries not affected thus far are chemicals, textiles, hotels and theatres.

120,000 Might Be Homeless; Islands Falling Into Sea

New Security Boost Offsets Income Cuts

Washington, Aug. 13 (AP)—Many lower income families will find they are paying more federal taxes next year despite a 10 per cent reduction in individual income taxes set for Jan. 1.

The explanation: An automatic increase in Social Security taxes, which Congress has decided to let take effect on the same date.

In some cases, the Social Security boost more than offsets the reduction in income taxes.

President Eisenhower asked the lawmakers to cancel the Social Security tax increase, but the administration didn't press the matter and Congress took no action.

A powerful group of lawmakers apparently was ready to try to block Eisenhower's proposal, on the theory that the tax boost is needed to safeguard death and retirement benefits for millions of persons under Social Security laws.

Congressional tax authorities estimate the 10 per cent reduction in individual income taxes, for example, will save $13.20 a year for a married couple with two children and an income of $3,000 a year.

To Reflect Increase

But the same checks will reflect an increase in withholding for Social Security. The boost on workers is from 1½ per cent withheld now, to 2 per cent. Employers must pay at the same increased rate.

So for the $3,000 income family, the Social Security increase will amount to $15 a year—or $1.80 more than the income tax reduction.

A married couple with no dependents and $1,500 income would gain $6.60 from the income tax cut. But the same couple would pay $7.50 more in the Social Security tax increase. Net loss: 90 cents.

The tax effect does not apply to

Unofficial Totals Say Deaths Are Under 1,000 in Quakes

Athens, Greece, Aug. 13 (AP)—Severe earth tremors for the fifth day turned Greece's pleasant Ionian Islands into a place of terror today.

Billowing fires swept earthquake ruins and huge slabs of the ancient mountainous island of Kefallinia, loosened by the tremors, were reported slipping into the sea. Unofficial estimates said just under 1,000 persons have been killed.

Officials of the island reported to the ministry of interior that Argostolion, a city of 10,000 and the island's chief port, was "beginning to sink under water."

The Athens newspaper Katherini quoted reports from the port as saying some sections of the town's waterfront were being submerged slowly.

Cruiser Reaches Area

(The U. S. heavy cruiser Salem arrived in the disaster area with food and medical supplies. It radioed this description to London headquarters: "All villages on the island of Kefallinia levelled, except for reinforced concrete construction which shows serious cracks.

("People in panic and fear island will sink. They refuse to enter buildings to obtain available equipment and are gathered in groups near each town. No fires observed. Evacuation appears impossible pending opening inland roads. Providing food and water and medical teams most urgent task."

(Walter Hawkins of Coatesville, Pa., TWA pilot, and Max Schribner, 4 Terrace Circle, Great Neck, N. Y., engineer, said their plane flew over Kefallinia yesterday afternoon and the stricken island looked like a forest fire. Great chunks of the coast could be seen sliding and splashing into the sea, they said. Clouds of dust rose over the earthslides.

Earth Slides Seen

(Hawkins said slides of earth could be seen under the water from the shelf surrounding the island. The biggest settling appeared to be on the northwest and northeastern coasts, he added, and huge bare spots could be seen where the land had fallen away into the water.)

Greek officials said, however, that reports that all Kefallinia was "sinking" were greatly exaggerated. They said their best information was that such reports were based on excited messages arising from the crumbling of quake-displaced cliffs.

American personnel at Kefallinia reported to the embassy here that two small villages were seen to crumble this morning, but no details were reported.

22 Tremors Registered

The Athens observatory registered 22 tremors between 4 p. m. Wednesday and 5 a. m. today.

The disaster centered at Kefallinia but also struck hard at Ithaca and Zakynthos, two other of the Ionian islands off Greece's west coast.

There still was no official estimate of the dead and injured among the 120,000 people of the three islands.

Ships of all sizes shuttled across the Ionian Sea and brought hundred of injured to hospitals at Washington, Aug. 13 (AP)—The American Red Cross today allotted 50 thousand dollars for the relief of earthquake victims in Greece.

Hurricane Roars Toward Hatteras

High Winds, Tide Rises Predicted; Began Off Daytona

Miami, Fla., Aug. 13 (AP)—The Atlantic hurricane with winds of about 100 miles an hour is expected to pass over or very close to the North Carolina coast in the vicinity of Cape Hatteras tonight.

Grady Norton, chief storm forecaster in the Miami Weather Bureau, said the center was about 200 miles south of Cape Hatteras at 10 a. m. (EST). The North Carolina coastal area was clouding up and rain began as the storm approached.

"It appears from present indications that the storm will pass over Cape Hatteras or very close by about the middle of the night," said Norton.

Tides Will Rise

"The winds will increase and tides will rise during the afternoon. The dangerous winds apparently will be confined to the section around Cape Lookout to Cape Hatteras, although the whole North Carolina coast will have pretty strong winds."

The storm, the second of the season, formed east of Daytona Beach, Fla., yesterday.

At 5 a. m. (EST) it was centered about 300 miles east of Brunswick and was moving in a northerly direction at 8 to 10 miles an hour.

Movement in the same direction and at about the same speed was forecast for the next several hours and winds of strong to gale force were forecast for the North Carolina coast late today and tonight.

Peiping Radio Charges Geneva Convention in Their Favor, Despite Dulles' Views

Panmunjom, Aug. 13 (AP)—Another 400 prisoners of the Communists became free men at this dusty village today even as the Reds warned ominously that they have the right to hold back allied prisoners facing or serving jail terms.

Prisoners freed today in the ninth day of the great POW exchange were 75 Americans, 75 British and 250 South Koreans.

Most of the repatriates appeared healthy as they bounced from the Red trucks that brought them to freedom.

This was the first large group from Camp 1 at Chongsong. Almost all POWs returned previously were from Camp 5 at Pyoktong on the Yalu river.

However, the stories of turncoats, informers and cruelty in Camp 1 struck a note heard before from the Camp 5 veterans.

Sentences Are Cited

Meanwhile, Red China's harsh warning backed stories from returning prisoners that buddies had been left behind, sentenced to jail for terms up to three years by the Reds on such charges as "instigating against peace."

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles warned the Communists Tuesday that the UN command would not return Red captives convicted of crimes "until we know the attitude of the Communist toward ours." He said the UNC wanted all POWs returned.

However, Peiping radio said the Geneva Convention provides that prisoners facing "criminal proceedings for an indictable offense...may be detained until the end of such proceedings, and, if necessary, until the completion of the punishment. The same shall apply to prisoners...already convicted..."

'Blackmail,' They Say

Peiping charged Dulles with "Blackmail" in his threat of retaliation and said that while he charged that the Reds do not intend to return all the POWs, "Dulles, nevertheless, has to admit that it is too early yet to know for sure whether any POWs are actually being withheld."

The broadcast said Dulles "thus . . . unwittingly stamps himself a liar."

Peiping said flatly there is no basis in the armistic agreement for the United States to demand the return of "convicted POWs" and added:

"On the contrary, this claim is in contravention of the Geneva convention."

U. S. State Department officials said in Washington Dulles' statement made clear that regardless of the Geneva convention the truce agreement itself specifically states that all prisoners shall be returned.

Provisions Complicated

It said the Geneva convention has certain complicated provisions regarding retention of POWs, but said the armistice agreement overrides any such provisions. Neither the Korean Communists nor the United States signed the convention, but both have agreed to abide by it.

"The Communists are trying for something to justify their intention to violate the agreement," one U. S. official said.

The prisoner swap itself continued at Panmunjom, with another 409 promised by the Reds for Friday—84 Americans, 74 British, 7 Canadian and 250 South Koreans.

The 75 Americans returned Thursday brought the total of U. S. troops sent back to 823; the Reds said they held 3,313.

The full 400 men brought the total allied figure to 3,572 of the Reds' figure of 12,763.

Last of Chinese Return

The UNC Thursday shipped back the last 222 of 5,493 Chinese POWs who wanted to return to communism. Thursday's total Red shipment brought the number sent back to 24,546 of 74,000 Chinese and North Koreans promised.

The exchange Thursday opened just after a soaking rain.

Bridge Authority Gives Approval for Road Work

Sundown Bridge Bids Are Received: Lowest Is $60,370

Bids for a 120-foot steel truss bridge over Rondout creek at Sundown in the Town of Denning were opened yesterday by Clerk Robert Snyder of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors.

Lowest of three bids submitted was that of Fred W. Johnson of Cornwall at $60,370.

The other two bids received were from Thomas B. Spagnoletti of Binghamton $64,080, and the Shanahan Construction Co., Inc., of Ellenville, $73,700.

The bridge will be located on a county road between Route 55A to West Shokan and Route 28A. Abutments for the bridge were built several years ago but the bridge itself could not be completed for lack of steel.

Sergeant Gives View

Freedom Village, Korea, Aug. 13 (AP)—A returning American sergeant said today that two fellow prisoners who collaborated with the Communists had "guts and brains." Sgt. Richard L. Cones, 21, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, said the two Americans already have been released. He refused to name them. "They have brains enough to know they have done something wrong and guts enough to come home and take their medicine," Cones said. He said five of the 187 men in his prison camp company were "definitely progressives," meaning they had succumbed to Communist influence. "I don't know what happened to the other three," Cones said. "They were taken away just before we left, but I think they are coming through, too."

State Comptroller Is Empowered to Set Aside Money for Grading

The New York State Bridge Authority yesterday took final action to effect a contract between the state and Philip Totonelly, Inc., of Newburgh for clearing and rough-grading the western approach to the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge.

The authority's action authorized the state superintendent of public works to act as agent and supervise the work, and empowered the state comptroller to earmark $156,452, the amount of Totonelly's bid for completion of the project.

Plans Approved

All preliminary work and plans were approved at the session which opened at 3 p. m., in the authority's Ferry street office.

Received July 9

Totonelly's bid was received in Albany July 9. He began moving equipment to the site early this week for start of the work

Editors Fail to Agree Upon McCarthy Probe Results

Washington, Aug. 13 (AP)—Did Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) pose a threat to the freedom of the American press by his closed-door questioning of James A. Wechsler, editor of the New York Post?

A special committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE) spent more than two months studying this question—and failed to agree on a yes or no answer.

The committee's report, made public last night, shows four of the 11 members called McCarthy's two-day interrogation of the editor "a peril to American freedom."

Opinion among the others, the report said, ranged through various degrees of concern all the way to the viewpoint that McCarthy's inquiries did no damage to press freedom.

The seven committeemen who did not join in the separate condemnation of McCarthy methods gave no indication of their individual views.

The special committee, headed by J. Russell Wiggins of the Washington Post, was set up at Wechsler's request after the

Lower Budget Is Director's Plan

Dodge Takes Steps Toward Cuttings, Tells Leaders to Expect Them

Washington, Aug. 13 (AP) — A new federal budget for the current fiscal year, with spending figures marked down below the levels approved by Congress, was reported in the making today.

It was learned budget director Joseph Dodge plans to get the new spending estimate out late this month. He has already ordered stringent money-conserving measures to go into effect immediately and has told government departments to plan budget slashes for next year at least as deep as this year's.

These steps were disclosed yesterday when a secret Dodge letter to all government department and agency heads came to light. It was dated July 9, more than a month before President Eisenhower publicly called for all government executive to "take every possible step" to cut spending immediately.

Would Drop Projects

Dodge not only ordered economizing up and down the line, but directed government executives to look for programs and projects, the government could drop. He directed heads of federal lending agencies to reduce lending and swell treasury coffers where they can by selling government-held mortgages to private business. He told service agencies to charge higher fees so as to put their offices on a self-supporting basis.

He called for reduced government payrolls. Additionally, he demanded intensified efforts to get the government out of business-type programs.

Young Protests Allotment Of 1954 Wheat Acreage

A Napanoch resident has voiced strong opposition to the 1954 wheat acreage allotment for Ulster county on which growers will vote Friday at the Production and Marketing Administration office, U. S. Department of Agriculture, 54 John street.

G. Chandler Young in a letter to the PMA and the Freeman complains that county growers of wheat have been cut by about 35 per cent, whereas the cut for the entire nation is about 20 per cent.

The quotas do not become effective, according to John S. Geary, chairman of the county PMA, unless at least two-thirds of the nation's growers voting at the referendum tomorrow approve their use. Area farmers may cast their ballots at the John street office between 10 a. m. and 9 p. m.

Mentioning that no wheat in Ulster county has been placed under government loan in 1953, Young wrote "We can market our own grain or store it, and do. Why should we be forced to reduce our own acreage to support a government loan program which we do not use."

Meanwhile, Red China's harsh warning backed stories from returning prisoners that buddies had been left behind, sentenced to jail for terms up to three years by the Reds on such charges as "instigating against peace."

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles warned the Communists Tuesday that the UN command would not return Red captives convicted of crimes "until we know the attitude of the Communist toward ours." He said the UNC wanted all POWs returned.

However, Peiping radio said the Geneva Convention provides that prisoners facing "criminal proceedings for an indictable offense...may be detained until the end of such proceedings, and, if necessary, until the completion of the punishment. The same shall apply to prisoners...already convicted..."

'Blackmail,' They Say

Peiping charged Dulles with "Blackmail" in his threat of retaliation and said that while he charged that the Reds do not intend to return all the POWs, "Dulles, nevertheless, has to admit that it is too early yet to know for sure whether any POWs are actually being withheld."

The broadcast said Dulles "thus . . . unwittingly stamps himself a liar."

Peiping said flatly there is no basis in the armistic agreement for the United States to demand the return of "convicted POWs" and added:

"On the contrary, this claim is in contravention of the Geneva convention."

U. S. State Department officials said in Washington Dulles' statement made clear that regardless of the Geneva convention the truce agreement itself specifically states that all prisoners shall be returned.

Provisions Complicated

It said the Geneva convention has certain complicated provisions regarding retention of POWs, but said the armistice agreement overrides any such provisions. Neither the Korean Communists nor the United States signed the convention, but both have agreed to abide by it.

"The Communists are trying for something to justify their intention to violate the agreement," one U. S. official said.

The prisoner swap itself continued at Panmunjom, with another 409 promised by the Reds for Friday—84 Americans, 74 British, 7 Canadian and 250 South Koreans.

The 75 Americans returned Thursday brought the total of U. S. troops sent back to 823; the Reds said they held 3,313.

The full 400 men brought the total allied figure to 3,572 of the Reds' figure of 12,763.

Last of Chinese Return

The UNC Thursday shipped back the last 222 of 5,493 Chinese POWs who wanted to return to communism. Thursday's total Red shipment brought the number sent back to 24,546 of 74,000 Chinese and North Koreans promised.

The exchange Thursday opened just after a soaking rain.

Most of the Americans broke from the trucks smiling, despite the sodden, windy weather.

State Comptroller Is Empowered to Set Aside Money for Grading

The New York State Bridge Authority yesterday took final action to effect a contract between the state and Philip Totonelly, Inc., of Newburgh for clearing and rough-grading the western approach to the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge.

The authority's action authorized the state superintendent of public works to act as agent and supervise the work, and empowered the state comptroller to earmark $156,452, the amount of Totonelly's bid for completion of the project.

Plans Approved

All preliminary work and plans were approved at the session which opened at 3 p. m., in the authority's Ferry street office.

Lower Budget Is Director's Plan

Dodge Takes Steps Toward Cuttings, Tells Leaders to Expect Them

Washington, Aug. 13 (AP) — A new federal budget for the current fiscal year, with spending figures marked down below the levels approved by Congress, was reported in the making today.

It was learned budget director Joseph Dodge plans to get the new spending estimate out late this month. He has already ordered stringent money-conserving measures to go into effect immediately and has told government departments to plan budget slashes for next year at least as deep as this year's.

These steps were disclosed yesterday when a secret Dodge letter to all government department and agency heads came to light. It was dated July 9, more than a month before President Eisenhower publicly called for all government executive to "take every possible step" to cut spending immediately.

Would Drop Projects

Dodge not only ordered economizing up and down the line, but directed government executives to look for programs and projects, the government could drop. He directed heads of federal lending agencies to reduce lending and swell treasury coffers where they can by selling government-held mortgages to private business. He told service agencies to charge higher fees so as to put their offices on a self-supporting basis.

He called for reduced government payrolls. Additionally, he demanded intensified efforts to get the government out of business-type programs.

Editors Fail to Agree Upon McCarthy Probe Results

Washington, Aug. 13 (AP)—Did Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) pose a threat to the freedom of the American press by his closed-door questioning of James A. Wechsler, editor of the New York Post?

A special committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE) spent more than two months studying this question—and failed to agree on a yes or no answer.

The committee's report, made public last night, shows four of the 11 members called McCarthy's two-day interrogation of the editor "a peril to American freedom."

Opinion among the others, the report said, ranged through various degrees of concern all the way to the viewpoint that McCarthy's inquiries did no damage to press freedom.

The seven committeemen who did not join in the separate condemnation of McCarthy methods gave no indication of their individual views.

Sergeant Gives View

Freedom Village, Korea, Aug. 13 (AP)—A returning American sergeant said today that two fellow prisoners who collaborated with the Communists had "guts and brains." Sgt. Richard L. Cones, 21, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, said the two Americans already have been released. He refused to name them. "They have brains enough to know they have done something wrong and guts enough to come home and take their medicine," Cones said. He said five of the 187 men in his prison camp company were "definitely progressives," meaning they had succumbed to Communist influence. "I don't know what happened to the other three," Cones said. "They were taken away just before we left, but I think they are coming through, too."

Young Protests Allotment Of 1954 Wheat Acreage

A Napanoch resident has voiced strong opposition to the 1954 wheat acreage allotment for Ulster county on which growers will vote Friday at the Production and Marketing Administration office, U. S. Department of Agriculture, 54 John street.

G. Chandler Young in a letter to the PMA and the Freeman complains that county growers of wheat have been cut by about 35 per cent, whereas the cut for the entire nation is about 20 per cent.

The quotas do not become effective, according to John S. Geary, chairman of the county PMA, unless at least two-thirds of the nation's growers voting at the referendum tomorrow approve their use. Area farmers may cast their ballots at the John street office between 10 a. m. and 9 p. m.

Mentioning that no wheat in Ulster county has been placed under government loan in 1953, Young wrote "We can market our own grain or store it, and do. Why should we be forced to reduce our own acreage to support a government loan program which we do not use."

Emphasizes Tax Cases Will Be Prosecuted

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—U. S. Internal Revenue Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews says that tax evasion cases which should be prosecuted are going to be prosecuted—and the punishment is going to fit the crime.

And he reports substantial progress in the internal revenue service in reducing operating costs as well as in improving efficiency.

Andrews visited regional tax offices in New York city yesterday. He outlined his department's accomplishments in an address before 3,500 revenue department employes at Carnegie Hall and at a dinner meeting given in his honor last night by several business and legal groups.

Andrews told the dinner audience of more than 1,100 that tax agents have been alerted to watch for abuses in "entertainment expenses" claims in income tax returns. He said his service plans to take a sharp look at such expenses for items ranging from autos to yachts.

He endorsed the proposal that between 35 and 40 million wage earners who are subject to tax withholding and who have no income other than wages, be freed of the necessity of filing tax returns. Andrews said the proposal had been found practicable and would save the government money, and he hoped Congress would act next year to authorize elimination of the filing requirement for that category of taxpayers.

General Motors Transmission Plant Burns

Two Men Killed In Costly Blaze

Detroit, Aug. 13 (AP)—A broken building was all that was left today after a raging 35-million-dollar fire roared through the General Motors Corp. tranmission and instrument plant in suburban Livonia late yesterday.

Two men were killed, more than a score injured.

The ruins still smoldered today. The west wall of the building was buckled and cracked. Inside it looked like a black metal jungle of collapsed beams.

One GM official, who estimated the damage cost, said that production in the Cadillac, Oldsmobile and Pontiac plants would be hit. An estimated 45,000 workers may be out of their jobs temporarily.

The fire had raged for three hours before it was brought under control. Within another hour the dead were brought out of the building. They were:

Lt. William G. Degner, 43, acting chief of the protection force of the Ternstedt Instrument Division located in a wing of the building.

Danny Staley (age unav) a production worker.

Most of the injuries were slight.

Firefighters said that a spark from a welding torch set off oil which spread to the rest of the building.

The fire started just before 4 o'clock in the afternoon. A pair of plant safety men cleared 3,500 workers out of the building.

Five Children Suffocate To Death in Ice Box

Proctor, Ark., Aug. 13 (AP)—An old ice box that used to cool soft drinks in a country store caught four brothers and their sister in a death trap at a farm home near here last night.

The blond youngsters, ranging in age from 2 to 9, were found crumpled in the coffin-like box by a deputy sheriff called by the franctic mother.

The oldest, 9-year-old Edward Hallman, bore the only visible injuries. He apparently butted his head against the latched lid in a desperate effort to force it open.

T. H. McGough, Crittenden county coroner, said there was no evidence of foul play. "Looks like they were in the ice box playing when the overhead lid slammed down," he said.

Death was blamed on suffocation. The heavily insulated box is nearly airtight.

Deputies were called to the scene by Mrs. J. W. Hallman when she returned from the fields with her two oldest children and found the youngsters were missing.

Deputy Billy Williams said he and other officers searched the premises and were ready to scour nearby woods when he passed by the ice box on the front porch and lifted the lid.

There was the tragic huddle: 4-year-old twins, Odie and Tommy, in overalls, Edward and Wesley, 7, in blue jeans and without shirts; and Barbara Ann, 2, in a colorful dress.

The father, 34-year-old J. W. Hallman, was away from home, working in Rockford, Ill.

ECONOMY AND DEFENSES

Even in these days, when a man in Washington can say "thanks a billion" as easily as anything, $13 billion is no sum to treat casually. And that's the amount President Eisenhower and Congress together lopped off from former President Truman's January requests for new federal appropriations.

Of this reduction, the Eisenhower administration accounted for $9 billion, and Congress the rest. Their combined efforts produced a 19 per cent slash in the total of new money voted for the fiscal year which started this July 1.

Moreover, these cuts were accomplished by an administration which had to study and revise the entire national budget—insofar as it could in the interval between January 20, when Mr. Eisenhower took office, and August 3, the adjournment date of this congressional session.

For all this considerable effort, the government looks ahead to a deficit this year of several billion dollars. Consequently, the President felt he could not wisely undertake tax reductions now. His hope is, of course, that further budget savings will allow tax trimming next year.

These results have not satisfied a good many of Mr. Eisenhower's fellow Republicans, who believe that a balanced budget and lower taxes should have been possible in 1953. Some of these are worried about being accused of falling down on campaign promises. Others think the administration is following a "high-spending, high-taxes" course which they identify as Democratic.

But in contrast to this dissatisfaction, most of the 30 Republican governors recently endorsed the President's performance thus far in the financial field. They particularly supported Mr. Eisenhower's insistence on deferring tax cuts until a balanced budget could be achieved.

The governors' attitude attracted interest because they are traditionally regarded as being closer to the grass roots than lawmakers in Washington, who tend to get out of touch with the home folks during a long session. The governors do not seem to feel Mr. Eisenhower's handling of money problems will handicap the GOP at the polls in 1954.

They take the view there is something more vital than fulfilling a campaign promise, and that is the national interest. They fear the effect of too rapid budget cuts on the domestic economy.

Other men would support this position with the further argument that our security must come first. They believe the question must always be: "What will this cut do to the world-wide fabric of our defenses?"

Economy is a notable goal. But evidently the GOP governors are in the vanguard of those Americans who feel it must not be practiced at the expense of safety and well-being.

NEEDED BALANCE

"If the free world is in peril," says commentator Walter Lippman, "it is not because our enemies are so strong, but because the free nations are so badly governed; and they are badly governed because of the usurpation of power by the national legislatures."

France and Italy are good examples of what Lippman means. Italy has just lost the services of Alcide De Gasperi as Premier because he could not retain the support of the legislators who could agree on nothing else except opposition to his policies. France went for weeks without a Premier because no single leader could produce a majority of supporters.

The framers of our Constitution safeguarded our freedom by a balancing of power among three branches, legislative, judicial and executive. There have been instances of usurpation of power by one of the three but usually the strength of the other two was sufficient to correct the situation and restore a balance. We can be grateful that our Congress is free from the complete domination of a strong man and that our President is not entirely at the mercy of a Congress that can make him do as they wish. The system of checks and balances must be preserved.

THE COST OF ESPIONAGE

Malenkov's assurance that Russia has the hydrogen bomb cannot be taken as a bluff. We cannot afford to risk being wrong about that. If he is not bluffing and we acted on the assumption that he is, we may be fooled. It would be a disaster of the greatest magnitude.

Dr. Klaus Fuchs and Dr. Bruno Pontecorvo knew about the hydrogen bomb. Pontecorvo actually vanished into Russia with his family, and has probably been working on the hydrogen bomb in Russia. Fuchs was a Communist before he came to this country for the Manhattan Project and was not properly screened because he was recommended by the British, who did no screening against Communists.

This is a good moment for the 2,500 American clergymen who signed the petition for clemency for the Rosenbergs to search their consciences. Fuchs was a member of the Rosenberg apparatus.

The Pontecorvo story is not clear. This Italian-born scientist was a British subject. He is one of the top men in the field of atomic fission. Whether he is a Communist or not, I do not know. However, he was in a $10,000,000 suit against the United States Government in 1950, involving patents on the atomic bomb process. It was claimed that the process was invented by Drs. Enrico Fermi, Edoardo Amaldi, Bruno Pontecorvo, Franco Rasetti and Emilio Segre in Rome. A United States patent was granted in 1940 and was assigned to G. M. Giannini & Co., who was a party to the suit.

I have been told that when the matter came before the Atomic Energy Commission, the commissioner in charge took the position that the entire matter was top secret and therefore the suit could not be considered. If Pontecorvo got sore because he could not get his share of $10,000,000, we have indeed paid a terrific price for an official's bad judgment. If, on the other hand, he was, even in 1946, a Soviet spy, how did we become involved with him?

The disgusting thing about this whole atomic spy business is that, despite the Rosenberg, Gold, Greenglass, etc. trials, we still do not know who let these obscure people into the Manhattan Project. What kind of security system does this country have that in an enterprise so secret, Russia could plant an apparatus inside the Manhattan Project?

Who got them in? It makes no difference whether he is alive or dead, we ought to know who got them into the Manhattan Project. We do know that the Atomic Energy Committee of the Congress was set up as a watch-dog committee to see to it that the Atomic Energy Commission acted properly. The chairman of this committee was usually Brien McMahon of Connecticut. He is dead and cannot speak. During the 80th Congress, Bourke Hickenlooper of Iowa was chairman of this committee. He is alive and should tell all that he knows. General Leslie Groves, David Lilienthal, Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer are alive; they ran the Manhattan Project and the Atomic Energy Commission. They should be required to answer the questions: How did the spies get in? Who got them in?

In fact, a thorough investigation should go back to Arthur Adams, the Russian spy, who traveled about this country freely, setting up the apparatus which eventually turned over the atomic and hydrogen bombs to the Russians. The FBI kept a constant vigil over Adams, but they were forbidden to arrest him and he finally was permitted to leave this country with a sample of plutonium.

Who protected Adams? Who stopped the FBI from arresting him? The FBI files are sealed, but the Attorney General can make this data available. The President can order that it be made available.

Dr. Klaus Fuchs and Julius Rosenberg knocked the props from under our security. What else have they stolen? What have others stolen? Why not tell the American people the whole truth, however bad it is?

The various committees of Congress, investigating espionage, are given a bad name by those who fear their disclosures and by many honest men who dislike suspicions about other Americans. But the fact is that both our atom bomb and hydrogen bomb have been stolen by spies, most of whom were American citizens. Shouting down Joe McCarthy does not solve our tragic problem—the spy continues to steal. We need to know why spies are protected.

That Body of Yours

BUYING CHILDREN'S SHOES

I write often about the feet because normal feet mean to much to the general health and happiness and also the earning capacity of the individual. Also much of health, happiness and comfort depends on how parents and physicians watch the feet of children and particularly the purchase of children's shoes.

In the Journal of the American Medical Association, Dr. Louis Starr, Brooklyn, of the Department of Orthopaedic Surgery, New York University College of Medicine, New York City, states:

"The shapes of children's shoes are so well standardized that their shape is usually correct. Shoes are made over lasts, generally of maple wood, of the approximate shape of the human foot. A 'standard' or normal last is one in which a set of standard measurements are used throughout, namely, standard length, standard width, standard heel and standard ankle."

Shoes for children should be an exact fit, not too large so that the child will grow into them. Children often outgrow, rather than outwear, their shoes.

In fitting the shoes, the following points should be followed:

1. Eyelets should be parallel.
2. The tip of the big toe and second toe should be felt through the upper the distance between the toes and the tip of the shoe should be one-half to three-quarters inch (about the width of the adult's thumb).
3. The widest part of the child's foot—widest part of bone forming big toe to widest part of the little toe—should be the widest part of the shoe. The ball of the foot and the ball of the shoe should meet at the same point so that the foot and the shoe may bend at the same place.
4. The width across the ball of the foot should be noted. It should be possible to grasp a small fold of leather across the front of the vamp (upper surface of shoe) with the thumb and forefinger. If the leather wrinkles, the shoe is too narrow.
5. A shoe should fit in action as well as at rest. When the child raises his heel and bends forward so that weight of the body is on his toes, the shoe should not gape at the sides or at the back.
6. The child should walk around for several minutes. The back of the shoes should fit snugly without slipping or riding up and down and they should be comfortable.

Generally speaking, the first parts of the shoe to show wear are the outer side of the sole which shows the child is not flat-footed, then the back outer edge of the heel and the part of the tip of the sole, just beyond the most forward end of the big toe. Stores that have good shoe fitters soon become known to parents.

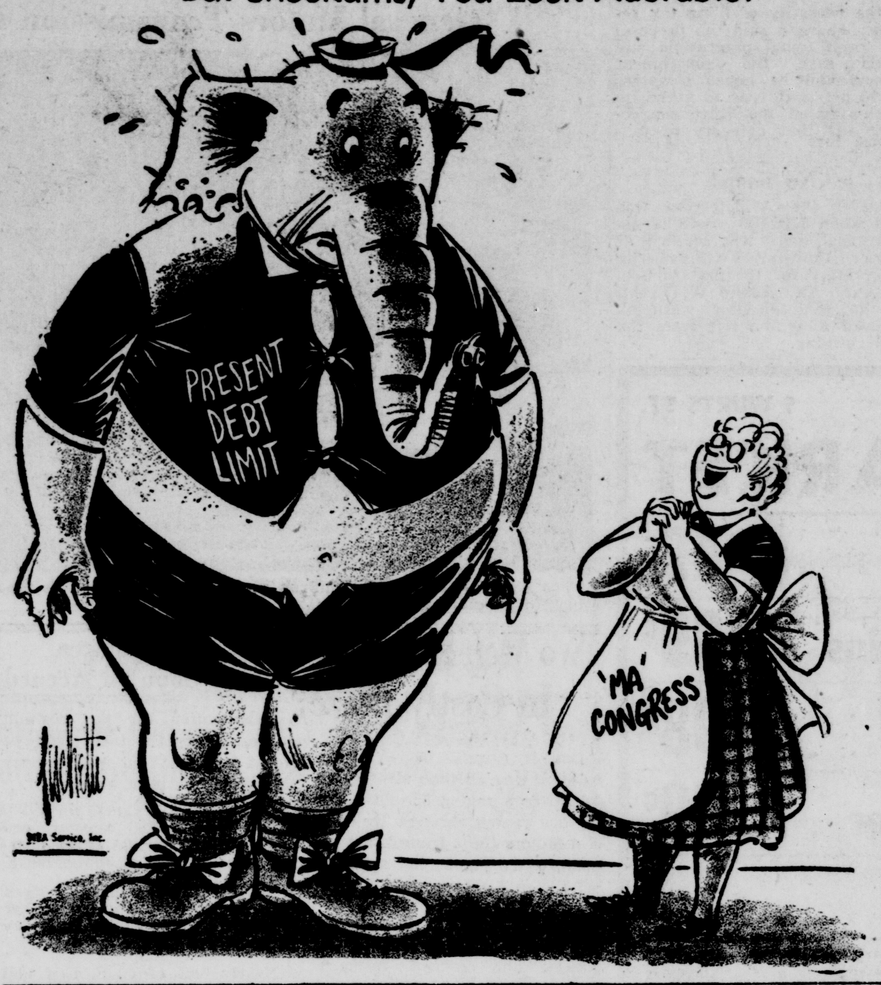
"—But Snookums, You Look Adorable!"



Edson's Washington News Notebook

Retirement of Gen. Omar N. Bradley as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff will remove from active duty the last of the World War 2 five-star generals and admirals.

The present intent is to create no more officers of this rank—unless the United States gets into another full-scale shooting war. From now on, a four-star officer will be as high as they come, in peacetime.

When Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway was made supreme commander of North Atlantic Treaty forces, it was planned to give him five-star rank. This was to give him equal standing with Field Marshal Lord Montgomery of the United Kingdom, and Marshal Juin of France, who were really Ridgway's NATO subordinates.

But to give General Ridgway a fifth star would have jumped him over four-star Generals Mark Clark and J. Lawton Collins. And the U. S. Navy and Air Force would have been left without officers of equal rank. So the idea had to be dropped.

Incidentally, Defense Secretary C. E. Wilson's get-acquainted party at Quantico, Va., for civilian and military leaders, pulled together one of the most brilliant galaxies ever assembled. At one time 268 stars were counted in attendance.

Diplomats Play 'Tag'

Foreign diplomats, who get their automobile license tags free in this country, sometimes make life difficult for the District of Columbia Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

One diplomat who drew a tag number 922—which added up to 13—brought his plate back and said he would drive without a license before he would use it.

The U. S. State Department—which assigns the first 125 numbers on the basis of diplomatic seniority in Washington—omits DPL (for Diplomatic) No. 13 altogether. Whoever would rate it simply draws DPL 14. DPL 1 goes to the dean of the diplomatic corps, Ambassador Morgenstierne of Norway.

There are now 1251 DPL plates in Washington. Embassy counselors, secretaries, attaches and clerks all get them. Even wives of diplomats get free tags in the two-car families.

When diplomats are called home they are supposed to turn in their license plates. But sometimes there's a little trouble with souvenir collectors who become forgetful.

Red's "Four-way" Auto

The first Russian-made automobiles to be sold west of the Iron Curtain were marketed recently in Rotterdam under the sales slogan, "The Big Four at Last Get Together." The importer explained that the motto meant the cars had four doors, four cylinders, four-wheel brakes, four speeds and cost 4444 florins. It figured out to an equivalent of $3,500.

Rehabilitation Ills

State programs for vocational rehabilitation of handicapped workers got a serious setback from Congress this year through one new provision.

After next July 1, the federal government will pay out no more than $1 for each 75 cents contributed by the states. Payments last year averaged about $1 federal money for each 67 cents contributed by the states.

More than 40 of the state legislatures do not meet next year, so they will have no chance to appropriate money to carry on vocational rehabilitation. Unless they call special sessions of their legislatures, which is unlikely, states will have to wait till 1955 in increase their programs.

In spite of severe criticism of its programs by Rep. Fred E. Busbey (R., Ill.), U. S. Office of Vocational Rehabilitation was otherwise treated pretty well by Congress this year. Federal appropriations of $23 million—$2 million more than last year—were approved to supplement state funds of $13 million.

But if the limitation of $1 federal money for each 75 cents of state money is applied next year, federal appropriations will be cut to $17 million for 1955.

Less Expensive "Franks"

After years of trying, Congress this year took a first step to put an end to what the Post Office Department calls "penalty mail."

This is U. S. government official mail which in the past has gone postage free. It amounts to $36 million worth of free mail a year, including $1.7 million of congressional franked mail.

From now on every government department and the Congress will have to ask for specific appropriations to cover their postage bills. As each agency orders its franked envelopes from the Post Office Department, it will have to include extra payment to cover postage.

Since the government agencies will now have to pay for their mail, or at least account for it, it's expected they'll cut down on the amount. In this way the Post Office Department hopes to save some money.

Buttoned-up Propaganda

National Committee for a Free Europe has received a report from Estonia indicating that private enterprise is not dead in that Communist-dominated country.

A certain Arnold Mendes bought up all the political phonograph records available in his country. His collection of dreary propaganda platters included speeches by Lenin, Stalin and all the lesser Red leaders.

Government officials were at first delighted to find that these goods were selling so well. Then they discovered that Mendes had improvised a factory in his basement where he melted down the records and made them into buttons.

The buttons sold readily and even minor government officials winked at the business for a bribe of a few scarce buttons for their own clothes.

Higher officials, however, clapped Mendes into jail and charged him with embezzling 384,708 rubles from the state.

Vanishing Tuna

Ottawa (AP)—The mystery of the the missing tuna off Canada's west coast still has fisheries officials puzzled after three years. First there were plenty of tuna; then there were none. In 1939, tuna of the albacore variety, a streamlined fish weighing from 10 to 20 pounds, moved into British Columbia waters for the first time in history. There were not many at the start and the war curtailed commercial possibilities. However, from 1944 on the the catch increased and during the 1948-1950 peak period, 6,500,000 pounds were landed with a value of $1,300,000. Then the fish began to vanish. The 1951 catch was a mere 190,000 pounds worth $33,000.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

Charles Anderson, of Delaware avenue, died.

Harold Faille, of Fairview avenue, taxi driver, was injured in an automobile accident on Broadway.

Miss Rachel Smith, of Kyserike, and John Conlin, of New London, Conn., were married in St. Joseph's Church here.

Miss Mildred Goldberg, of West Chester street, and Charles K. Bell, of Chicago, were married at Golden Rule Inn.

Miss Florence Walker, of Port Ewen, and Edmund Drake of this city, were married in Port Ewen.

Aug. 13, 1943—Kingston modified its milk cap code as a temporary measure.

The painting of the exterior of the county court house was completed.

Pratt Boice was elected president of the Town of Ulster Republican Committee.

An estimated 25,000 young chickens were destroyed in a fire at the Henry Rethier farm, Cottekill.

Ripley's—Believe It or Not!

A 30-mile road was built by Shah Kamal (1503) from Durgapur to Tura, India, for no other purpose but that his knife (chhora) might be carried to a brook and washed in it once a year. The road is now widely used. On the anniversary of Kamal's death a great procession of Muhammadans and Indians solemnly carry the knife to a brook in Tura where it is washed and then returned to Durgapur for next year's procession.

Wechsler Episode Will Point Up Restraints Imposed Upon American Press

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 13—It's an ill wind that blows no good, and it may turn out that the episode in which James A. Wechsler, editor of the New York Evening Post, was subjected to interrogation by a Congressional committee will focus attention on the restraints which have already been placed on the press by law notwithstanding the First Amendment to the Constitution.

For when Mr. Wechsler was subjected to some questions he considered irrelevant and which he need not have answered, there was really no infringement of the press unless to be asked embarrassing questions constitutes an infringement of anybody's freedom.

The American Society of Newspaper Editors, however, responding to the special request of Mr. Wechler, appointed a committee which now has reported its conclusions. The majority are noncommittal and recommend further study of the constitutional questions. The minority argues that freedom of the press is diminished when "a single newspaper, however worthy or unworthy, is subjected by one senator, however worthy or unworthy, to inconvenience, expense, humiliation, ridicule, abuse, condemnation and reproach, under the auspices of governmental power." The theory offered is that Congress allegedly can't interrogate anyone about anything it can't legislate about.

The fallacy in this is that Congress can constitutionally inquire into anything hypothetical on the remote theory that it might want to legislate on the subject some day. It can ask any questions it wishes on any subject at any time—though a witness, of course, doesn't have to answer and can challenge a committee's jurisdiction in a specific field if he likes.

Any member of Congress, moreover, who hasn't a committee forum can stand up in the Senate and publicly ask insulting and impertinent questions every day of any editor, and there isn't any restraint upon the senator except the condemnation of public opinion or the rebuttals that may come from other senators when he gets through talking. Senators regard freedom to criticize editors as being just as important to them as freedom to criticize senators is important to editors.

But the inquiry which the American Society of Newspaper Editors has just granted to Mr. Wechsler is far more important than the questions asked by Senator McCarthy about the present beliefs and political opinions of an editor who was once a member of the Communist group and now says he has long ago broken off such connections. For the editor's society has set a precedent which apparently requires it to make a study of inquiry whenever any member thinks freedom of the press has been infringed by any branch of the government.

Here are the laws now in existence which might be studied anew, since they plainly contravene the first amendment of the Constitution guaranteeing freedom of the press:

1. A law has been upheld by the Supreme Court that penalizes newspapers and threatens them with the loss of second-class mail privileges if they do not reveal their private and personal affairs—namely, the exact amounts of stock, bonds or notes held by individual owners or their families. Despite the recent comment by two judges of the court in the Rumley case that "inquiry into private and personal affairs is precluded," no newspaper or magazine today can distribute economically without conforming to the rules laid down by the Post Office Department concerning this disclosure of ownership.

2. A law that has taken away second-class mail privileges from a newspaper which editorially preached against the conduct of the war. The case arose during World War 1 against the editor of a Socialist newspaper in Milwaukee. The "U. S. Supreme Court reports" summarized the majority opinion handed down in 1921, as follows: "Federal legislation conferring upon the postmaster general power to revoke the second-class mail privilege enjoyed by a newspaper which that official finds, after a hearing fairly conducted, systematically to have contained false reports and false statements published with intent to interfere with the success of the military operations of the federal government, to promote the success of its enemies, and to obstruct its recruiting and enlistment service, in violation of the Espionage Act of June 15, 1917, is not unconstitutional, either as not affording the publisher a trial in a court of competent jurisdiction, or as infringing the constitutional freedom of speech and press, or as taking property without due process of law." This is still the supreme law of the land, and a congressional committee concerned with the operations of governmental agencies, including the Post Office Department, can ask any question about any editorial policy expressed in a national emergency.

3. A law which has been upheld as constitutional compels an employer to fire any editorial employe who, having joined a union, wants to resign from it and yet keep his job. An employer also is compelled to dismiss any reporter who after 30 days of employment doesn't join the union. There are 118 or more such union contracts in existence today with newspapers. These contracts compel reporters to become members of a CIO union, even though they may have conscientious objections to membership in any CIO organization. If that isn't "thought control," then the words have lost their meaning.

But in 1937, when the Supreme Court upheld the Wagner Law as it applied to press-association employes, no protest came from any society of newspaper editors or from any group of editors professing the "liberal" creed. Maybe times have changed and now that some "liberals" have been the victims of the governmental power of interrogation the whole subject of laws that violate the First Amendment to the Constitution will be re-examined. Perhaps the supporters of Mr. Wechsler's demand that editors be exempted from congressional interrogation on their policies now will join in a demand that Congress by statute exempt editorial employes from any labor laws that infringe freedom of the press.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The conduct of the Treasury and the Department of Justice in the test cases under the Withholding and Social Security taxes strongly indicates that no person need bother to comply with these onerous laws and regulations.

In the case of Vivien Kellems, who made a scrupulous report of the amounts of money which her employes properly owed under the Withholding tax, these two departments were afraid to try to apply the criminal penalties to this spirited rebel although she pleaded with them to do so in order that a straight test could be made. The Treasury took evasive action, attaching her bank account for the amount of money which it claimed to be due, even though each and every employe concerned had paid his or her taxes personally. In the end, there was a Mexican stand-off. The Treasury already had its money and Miss Kellems was "vindicated" but only at considerable expense for lawyers and at great inconvenience. The expense and the inconvenience in her case were a sweet distress, however, because Vivieh wanted publicity for an issue which she and others regarded as a patriotic, constitutional cause.

Nevertheless, many corporate employers are countless millions of dollars in arrears with their payments of money which, unlike Vivien, they actually did withhold from their employes but did not transmit to the Treasury. As long ago as December 11, 1951, the Bureau of Internal Revenue admitted that such employes owed the government about $632,263,000. The New York Times, in a story on the local situation in Manhattan, said "a drive by local Internal Revenue officials to collect more than $80,000,000 of unpaid income taxes, payroll and Social Security taxes has been under way for three weeks." About 12,500 warrants were out in the third district of New York, alone, for employers who were delinquent in income tax and Social Security deductions for their employes. Some of the delinquencies dated back four years and the Internal Revenue seemed then to have adopted a practical and apathetic attitude. Those who did pay were suckers.

When so many cases develop under any law, and it may be assumed that this New York phase was only typical of a situation covering the entire country, that law is failing. The government simply cannot afford to hire enough accountants, detectives or "field agents," and trial lawyers to pursue them all to their legal conclusions. In some cases, it had been found that the employers, running close to the break-even line anyway, had just helped themselves to money which they had held back from their em-

ECONOMY AND DEFENSES

Even in these days, when a man in Washington can say "thanks a billion" as easily as anything, $13 billion is no sum to treat casually. And that's the amount President Eisenhower and Congress together lopped off from former President Truman's January requests for new federal appropriations.

Of this reduction, the Eisenhower administration accounted for $9 billion, and Congress the rest. Their combined efforts produced a 19 per cent slash in the total of new money voted for the fiscal year which started this July 1.

Moreover, these cuts were accomplished by an administration which had to study and revise the entire national budget—insofar as it could in the interval between January 20, when Mr. Eisenhower took office, and August 3, the adjournment date of this congressional session.

For all this considerable effort, the government looks ahead to a deficit this year of several billion dollars. Consequently, the President felt he could not wisely undertake tax reductions now. His hope is, of course, that further budget savings will allow tax trimming next year.

These results have not satisfied a good many of Mr. Eisenhower's fellow Republicans, who believe that a balanced budget and lower taxes should have been possible in 1953. Some of these are worried about being accused of falling down on campaign promises. Others think the administration is following a "high-spending, high-taxes" course which they identify as Democratic.

But in contrast to this dissatisfaction, most of the 30 Republican governors recently endorsed the President's performance thus far in the financial field. They particularly supported Mr. Eisenhower's insistence on deferring tax cuts until a balanced budget could be achieved.

The governors' attitude attracted interest because they are traditionally regarded as being closer to the grass roots than lawmakers in Washington, who tend to get out of touch with the home folks during a long session. The governors do not seem to feel Mr. Eisenhower's handling of money problems will handicap the GOP at the polls in 1954.

They take the view there is something more vital than fulfilling a campaign promise, and that is the national interest. They fear the effect of too rapid budget cuts on the domestic economy.

Other men would support this position with the further argument that our security must come first. They believe the question must always be: "What will this cut do to the world-wide fabric of our defenses?"

Economy is a notable goal. But evidently the GOP governors are in the vanguard of those Americans who feel it must not be practiced at the expense of safety and well-being.

NEEDED BALANCE

"If the free world is in peril," says commentator Walter Lippman, "it is not because our enemies are so strong, but because the free nations are so badly governed; and they are badly governed because of the usurpation of power by the national legislatures."

France and Italy are good examples of what Lippman means. Italy has just lost the services of Alcide De Gasperi as Premier because he could not retain the support of the legislators who could agree on nothing else except opposition to his policies. France went for weeks without a Premier because no single leader could produce a majority of supporters.

The framers of our Constitution safeguarded our freedom by a balancing of power among three branches, legislative, judicial and executive. There have been instances of usurpation of power by one of the three but usually the strength of the other two was sufficient to correct the situation and restore a balance. We can be grateful that our Congress is free from the complete domination of a strong man and that our President is not entirely at the mercy of a Congress that can make him do as they wish. The system of checks and balances must be preserved.

THE COST OF ESPIONAGE

Malenkov's assurance that Russia has the hydrogen bomb cannot be taken as a bluff. We cannot afford to risk being wrong about that. If he is not bluffing and we acted on the assumption that he is, we may be fooled. It would be a disaster of the greatest magnitude.

Dr. Klaus Fuchs and Dr. Bruno Pontecorvo knew about the hydrogen bomb. Pontecorvo actually vanished into Russia with his family, and has probably been working on the hydrogen bomb in Russia. Fuchs was a Communist before he came to this country for the Manhattan Project and was not properly screened because he was recommended by the British, who did no screening against Communists.

This is a good moment for the 2,500 American clergymen who signed the petition for clemency for the Rosenbergs to search their consciences. Fuchs was a member of the Rosenberg apparatus.

The Pontecorvo story is not clear. This Italian-born scientist was a British subject. He is one of the top men in the field of atomic fission. Whether he is a Communist or not, I do not know. However, he was in a $10,000,000 suit against the United States Government in 1950, involving patents on the atomic bomb process. It was claimed that the process was invented by Drs. Enrico Fermi, Edoardo Amaldi, Bruno Pontecorvo, Franco Rasetti and Emilio Segre in Rome. A United States patent was granted in 1940 and was assigned to G. M. Giannini & Co., who was a party to the suit.

I have been told that when the matter came before the Atomic Energy Commission, the commissioner in charge took the position that the entire matter was top secret and therefore the suit could not be considered. If Pontecorvo got sore because he could not get his share of $10,000,000, we have indeed paid a terrific price for an official's bad judgment. If, on the other hand, he was, even in 1946, a Soviet spy, how did we become involved with him?

The disgusting thing about this whole atomic spy business is that, despite the Rosenberg, Gold, Greenglass, etc. trials, we still do not know who let these obscure people into the Manhattan Project. What kind of security system does this country have that in an enterprise so secret, Russia could plant an apparatus inside the Manhattan Project?

Who got them in? It makes no difference whether he is alive or dead, we ought to know who got them into the Manhattan Project. We do know that the Atomic Energy Committee of the Congress was set up as a watch-dog committee to see to it that the Atomic Energy Commission acted properly. The chairman of this committee was usually Brien McMahon of Connecticut. He is dead and cannot speak. During the 80th Congress, Bourke Hickenlooper of Iowa was chairman of this committee. He is alive and should tell all that he knows. General Leslie Groves, David Lilienthal, Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer are alive; they ran the Manhattan Project and the Atomic Energy Commission. They should be required to answer the questions: How did the spies get in? Who got them in?

In fact, a thorough investigation should go back to Arthur Adams, the Russian spy, who traveled about this country freely, setting up the apparatus which eventually turned over the atomic and hydrogen bombs to the Russians. The FBI kept a constant vigil over Adams, but they were forbidden to arrest him and he finally was permitted to leave this country with a sample of plutonium.

Who protected Adams? Who stopped the FBI from arresting him? The FBI files are sealed, but the Attorney General can make this data available. The President can order that it be made available.

Dr. Klaus Fuchs and Julius Rosenberg knocked the props from under our security. What else have they stolen? What have others stolen? Why not tell the American people the whole truth, however bad it is?

The various committees of Congress, investigating espionage, are given a bad name by those who fear their disclosures and by many honest men who dislike suspicions about other Americans. But the fact is that both our atom bomb and hydrogen bomb have been stolen by spies, most of whom were American citizens. Shouting down Joe McCarthy does not solve our tragic problem—the spy continues to steal. We need to know why spies are protected.

That Body of Yours

BUYING CHILDREN'S SHOES

I write often about the feet because normal feet mean to much to the general health and happiness and also the earning capacity of the individual. Also much of health, happiness and comfort depends on how parents and physicians watch the feet of children and particularly the purchase of children's shoes.

In the Journal of the American Medical Association, Dr. Louis Starr, Brooklyn, of the Department of Orthopaedic Surgery, New York University College of Medicine, New York City, states:

"The shapes of children's shoes are so well standardized that their shape is usually correct. Shoes are made over lasts, generally of maple wood, of the approximate shape of the human foot. A 'standard' or normal last is one in which a set of standard measurements are used throughout, namely, standard length, standard width, standard heel and standard ankle."

Shoes for children should be an exact fit, not too large so that the child will grow into them. Children often outgrow, rather than outwear, their shoes.

In fitting the shoes, the following points should be followed:

1. Eyelets should be parallel.

2. The tip of the big toe and second toe should be felt through the upper the distance between the toes and the tip of the shoe should be one-half to three-quarters inch (about the width of the adult's thumb).

3. The widest part of the child's foot—widest part of bone forming big toe to widest part of the little toe—should be the widest part of the shoe. The ball of the foot and the ball of the shoe should meet at the same point so that the foot and the shoe may bend at the same place.

4. The width across the ball of the foot should be noted. It should be possible to grasp a small fold of leather across the front of the vamp (upper surface of shoe) with the thumb and forefinger. If the leather wrinkles, the shoe is too narrow.

5. A shoe should fit in action as well as at rest. When the child raises his heel and bends forward so that weight of the body is on his toes, the shoe should not gape at the sides or at the back.

6. The child should walk around for several minutes. The back of the shoes should fit snugly without slipping or riding up and down and they should be comfortable.

Generally speaking, the first parts of the shoe to show wear are the outer side of the sole which shows the child is not flat-footed, then the back outer edge of the heel and the part of the tip of the sole, just beyond the most forward end of the big toe. Stores that have good shoe fitters soon become known to parents.

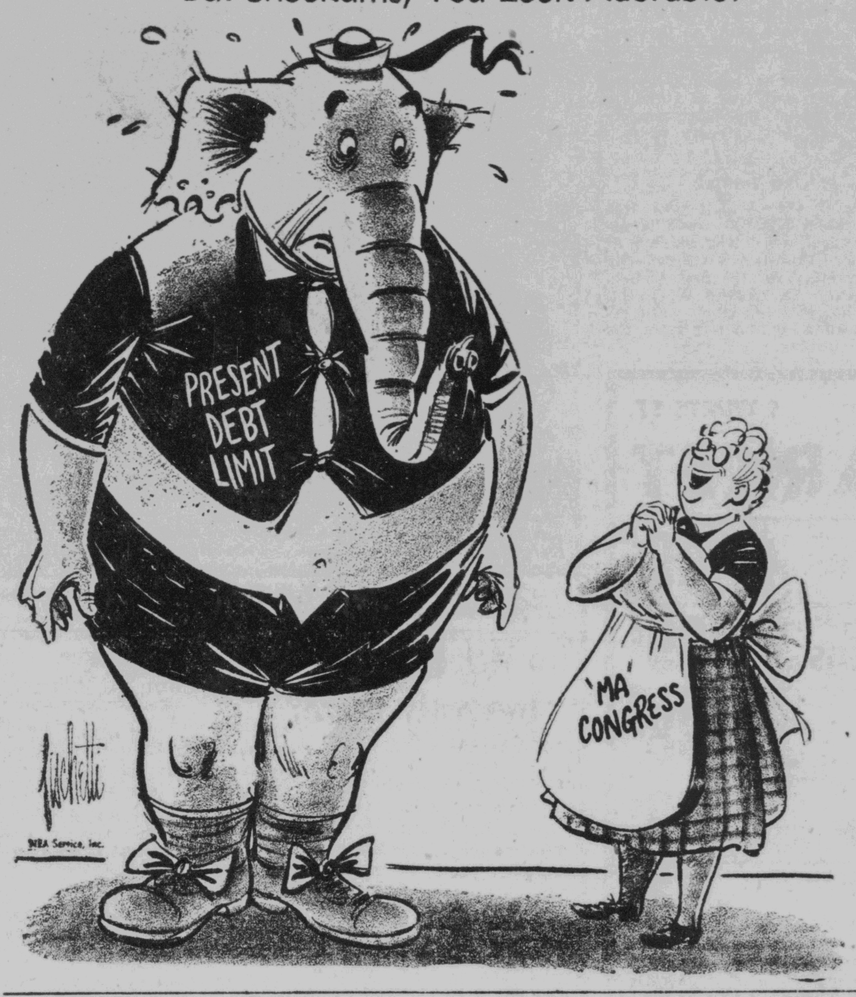
"---But Snookums, You Look Adorable!"



Edson's Washington News Notebook

Retirement of Gen. Omar N. Bradley as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff will remove from active duty the last of the World War 2 five-star generals and admirals.

The present intent is to create no more officers of this rank—unless the United States gets into another full-scale shooting war. From now on, a four-star officer will be as high as they come, in peacetime.

When Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway was made supreme commander of North Atlantic Treaty forces, it was planned to give him five-star rank. This was to give him equal standing with Field Marshal Lord Montgomery of the United Kingdom, and Marshal Juin of France, who were really Ridgway's NATO subordinates.

But to give General Ridgway a fifth star would have jumped him over four-star Generals Mark Clark and J. Lawton Collins. And the U. S. Navy and Air Force would have been left without officers of equal rank. So the idea had to be dropped.

Incidentally, Defense Secretary C. E. Wilson's get-acquainted party at Quantico, Va., for civilian and military leaders, pulled together one of the most brilliant galaxies ever assembled. At one time 268 stars were counted in attendance.

Diplomats Play 'Tag'

Foreign diplomats, who get their automobile license tags free in this country, sometimes make life difficult for the District of Columbia Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

One diplomat who drew a tag number 922—which added up to 13—brought his plate back and said he would drive without a license before he would use it.

The U. S. State Department—which assigns the first 125 numbers on the basis of diplomatic seniority in Washington — omits DPL (for Diplomatic) No. 13 altogether. Whoever would rate it simply draws DPL 14. DPL 1 goes to the dean of the diplomatic corps, Ambassador Morgenstierne of Norway.

There are now 1251 DPL plates in Washington. Embassy counselors, secretaries, attaches and clerks all get them. Even wives of diplomats get free tags in the two-car families.

When diplomats are called home they are supposed to turn in their license plates. But sometimes there's a little trouble with souvenir collectors who become forgetful.

Red's "Four-way" Auto

The first Russian-made automobiles to be sold west of the Iron Curtain were marketed recently in Rotterdam under the sales slogan, "The Big Four at Last Get Together." The importer explained that the motto meant the cars had four doors, four cylinders, four-wheel brakes, four speeds and cost 4444 florins. It figured out to an equivalent of $3,500.

Rehabilitation Ills

State programs for vocational rehabilitation of handicapped workers got a serious setback from Congress this year through one new provision.

After next July 1, the federal government will pay out no more than $1 for each 75 cents contributed by the states. Payments last year averaged about $1 federal money for each 67 cents contributed by the states.

More than 40 of the state legislatures do not meet next year, so they will have no chance to appropriate money to carry on vocational rehabilitation. Unless they call special sessions of their legislatures, which is unlikely, states will have to wait till 1955 in increase their programs.

In spite of severe criticism of its programs by Rep. Fred E. Busbey (R., Ill.), U. S. Office of Vocational Rehabilitation was otherwise treated pretty well by Congress this year. Federal appropriations of $23 million—$2 million more than last year—were approved to supplement state funds of $13 million.

But if the limitation of $1 federal money for each 75 cents of state money is applied next year, federal appropriations will be cut to $17 million for 1955.

Less Expensive "Franks"

After years of trying, Congress this year took a first step to put an end to what the Post Office Department calls "penalty mail."

This is U. S. government official mail which in the past has gone postage free. It amounts to $36 million worth of free mail a year, including $1.7 million of congressional franked mail.

From now on every government department and the Congress will have to ask for specific appropriations to cover their postage bills. As each agency orders its franked envelopes from the Post Office Department, it will have to include extra payment to cover postage.

Since the government agencies will now have to pay for their mail, or at least account for it, it's expected they'll cut down on the amount. In this way the Post Office Department hopes to save some money.

Buttoned-up Propaganda

National Committee for a Free Europe has received a report from Estonia indicating that private enterprise is not dead in that Communist-dominated country.

A certain Arnold Mendes bought up all the political phonograph records available in his country. His collection of dreary propaganda platters included speeches by Lenin, Stalin and all the lesser Red leaders.

Government officials were at first delighted to find that these goods were selling so well. Then they discovered that Mendes had improvised a factory in his basement where he melted down the records and made them into buttons.

The buttons sold readily and even minor government officials winked at the business for a bribe of a few scarce buttons for their own clothes.

Higher officials, however, clapped Mendes into jail and charged him with embezzling 384,708 rubles from the state.

The road is now widely used. On the anniversary of Kamal's death a great procession of Muhammadans and Indians solemnly carry the knife to a brook in Tura where it is washed and then returned to Durgapur for next year's procession.

Vanishing Tuna

Ottawa (AP)—The mystery of the the missing tuna off Canada's west coast still has fisheries officials puzzled after three years. First there were plenty of tuna; then there were none. In 1939, tuna of the albacore variety, a streamlined fish weighing from 10 to 20 pounds, moved into British Columbia waters for the first time in history. There were not many at the start and the war curtailed commercial possibilities. However, from 1944 on the the catch increased and during the 1948-1950 peak period, 6,500,000 pounds were landed with a value of $1,300,000. Then the fish began to vanish. The 1951 catch was a mere 190,000 pounds worth $33,000.

Wechsler Episode Will Point Up Restraints Imposed Upon American Press

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 13—It's an ill wind that blows no good, and it may turn out that the episode in which James A. Wechsler, editor of the New York Evening Post, was subjected to interrogation by a Congressional committee will focus attention on the restraints which have already been placed on the press by law notwithstanding the First Amendment to the Constitution.

For when Mr. Wechsler was subjected to some questions he considered irrelevant and which he need not have answered, there was really no infringement of the press unless to be asked embarrassing questions constitutes an infringement of anybody's freedom.

The American Society of Newspaper Editors, however, responding to the special request of Mr. Wechler, appointed a committee which now has reported its conclusions. The majority are noncommittal and recommend further study of the constitutional questions. The minority argues that freedom of the press is diminished when "a single newspaper, however worthy or unworthy, is subjected by one senator, however worthy or unworthy, to inconvenience, expense, humiliation, ridicule, abuse, condemnation and reproach, under the auspices of governmental power." The theory offered is that Congress allegedly can't interrogate anyone about anything it can't legislate about.

The fallacy in this is that Congress can constitutionally inquire into anything hypothetical on the remote theory that it might want to legislate on the subject some day. It can ask any questions it wishes on any subject at any time—though a witness, of course, doesn't have to answer and can challenge a committee's jurisdiction in a specific field if he likes.

Any member of Congress, moreover, who hasn't a committee forum can stand up in the Senate and publicly ask insulting and impertinent questions every day of any editor, and there isn't any restraint upon the senator except the condemnation of public opinion or the rebuttals that may come from other senators when he gets through talking. Senators regard freedom to criticize editors as being just as important to them as freedom to criticize senators is important to editors.

But the inquiry which the American Society of Newspaper Editors has just granted to Mr. Wechsler is far more important than the questions asked by Senator McCarthy about the present beliefs and political opinions of an editor who was once a member of the Communist group and now says he has long ago broken off such connections. For the editor's society has set a precedent which apparently requires it to make a study of inquiry whenever any member thinks freedom of the press has been infringed by any branch of the government.

Here are the laws now in existence which might be studied anew, since they plainly contravene the first amendment of the Constitution guaranteeing freedom of the press:

1. A law has been upheld by the Supreme Court that penalizes newspapers and threatens them with the loss of second-class mail privileges if they do not reveal their private and personal affairs—namely, the exact amounts of stock, bonds or notes held by individual owners or their families. Despite the recent comment by two judges of the court in the Rumley case that "inquiry into private and personal affairs is precluded," no newspaper or magazine today can distribute economically without conforming to the rules laid down by the Post Office Department concerning this disclosure of ownership.

2. A law that has taken away second-class mail privileges from a newspaper which editorially preached against the conduct of the war. The case arose during World War 1 against the editor of a Socialist newspaper in Milwaukee. The "U. S. Supreme Court reports" summarized the majority opinion handed down in 1921, as follows: "Federal legislation conferring upon the postmaster general power to revoke the second-class mail privilege enjoyed by a newspaper which that official finds, after a hearing fairly conducted, systematically to have contained false reports and false statements published with intent to interfere with the success of the military operations of the federal government, to promote the success of its enemies, and to obstruct its recruiting and enlistment service, in violation of the Espionage Act of June 15, 1917, is not unconstitutional, either as not affording the publisher a trial in a court of competent jurisdiction, or as infringing the constitutional freedom of speech and press, or as taking property without due process of law." This is still the supreme law of the land, and a congressional committee concerned with the operations of governmental agencies, including the Post Office Department, can ask any question about any editorial policy expressed in a national emergency.

3. A law which has been upheld as constitutional compels an employer to fire any editorial employe who, having joined a union, wants to resign from it and yet keep his job. An employer also is compelled to dismiss any reporter who after 30 days of employment doesn't join the union. There are 118 or more such union contracts in existence today with newspapers. These contracts compel reporters to become members of a CIO union, even though they may have conscientious objections to membership in any CIO organization. If that isn't "thought control," then the words have lost their meaning.

But in 1937, when the Supreme Court upheld the Wagner Law as it applied to press-association employes, no protest came from any society of newspaper editors or from any group of editors professing the "liberal" creed. Maybe times have changed and now that some "liberals" have been the victims of the governmental power of interrogation the whole subject of laws that violate the First Amendment to the Constitution will be re-examined. Perhaps the supporters of Mr. Wechsler's demand that editors be exempted from congressional interrogation on their policies now will join in a demand that Congress by statute exempt editorial employes from any labor laws that infringe freedom of the press.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The conduct of the Treasury and the Department of Justice in the test cases under the Withholding and Social Security taxes strongly indicates that no person need bother to comply with these onerous laws and regulations.

In the case of Vivien Kellems, who made a scrupulous report of the amounts of money which her employes properly owed under the Withholding tax, these two departments were afraid to try to apply the criminal penalties to this spirited rebel although she pleaded with them to do so in order that a straight test could be made. The Treasury took evasive action, attaching her bank account for the amount of money which it claimed to be due, even though each and every employe concerned had paid his or her taxes personally. In the end, there was a Mexican stand-off. The Treasury already had its money and Miss Kellems was "vindicated" but only at considerable expense for lawyers and at great inconvenience. The expense and the inconvenience in her case were a sweet distress, however, because Vivien wanted publicity for an issue which she and others regarded as a patriotic, constitutional cause.

Nevertheless, many corporate employers are countless millions of dollars in arrears with their payments of money which, unlike Vivien, they actually did withhold from their employes but did not transmit to the Treasury. As long ago as December 11, 1951, the Bureau of Internal Revenue admitted that such employes owed the government about $632,263,000. The New York Times, in a story on the local situation in Manhattan, said "a drive by local Internal Revenue officials to collect more than $80,000,000 of unpaid income taxes, payroll and Social Security taxes has been under way for three weeks." About 12,500 warrants were out in the third district of New York, alone, for employers who were delinquent in income tax and Social Security deductions for their employes. Some of the delinquencies dated back four years and the Internal Revenue seemed then to have adopted a practical and apathetic attitude. Those who did pay were suckers.

When so many cases develop under any law, and it may be assumed that this New York phase was only typical of a situation covering the entire country, that law is failing. The government simply cannot afford to hire enough accountants, detectives or "field agents," and trial lawyers to pursue them all to their legal conclusions. In some cases, it had been found that the employers, running close to the break-even line anyway, had just helped themselves to money which they had held back from their em-

The two offices already hit by the economy drive were at Guaymas, in Sonora State, and at Torreon, in Coahuila. The embassy said the consulate at Nogales has taken over their duties.

HOW CAN YOU MISS?—Bill Wiehr, of Sheboygan, Wis., demonstrates a highly versatile gun which is sure to bag game in one way or another. The muzzle-loader can shoot around a tree to get an elusive bird, and if one barrel misses, the other barrel is ready to fire. It has a built-in watch, thermometer, weather vane, mirror, spectacles for better sighting, and a knife for skinning the catch. A compass keeps the hunter on the trail, and if he's still unsuccessful in bagging any game, there's a can opener so he won't starve.

Religious Census Being Conducted By Methodist Unit

New Paltz, Aug. 12—On the opening day of the program to brief workers for the religious census, 11 women reported to make the survey here to learn the church affiliation of area residents.

The volunteers were Mrs. Alvin Beatty, Mrs. Annie Smith, Mrs. Eugene Trautwein, Mrs. Roman Hutton, Mrs. Herbert Phillips, Mrs. Walter Dyer, Mrs. Raymond Hasbrouck, Mrs. Joseph Graham, Miss Margaret Langwick, Mrs. Willet R. Porter, Jr., and Mrs. William Jay.

The primary purpose of the religious census here is to learn the persons for whom each church is responsible, it has been announced by the directors.

Lose Church Contacts

Surveys have shown, it was reported, that in the past 10 years 50 million Americans have changed homes, and, in moving to new areas have lost contact with their churches.

It was stressed that each year church membership decrease figures become greater.

Twenty-five and one-half million persons live in a different house than last year, a national survey revealed.

The religious census finds the uprooted people and lays the way for re-establishment of church contacts, a spokesman said.

Religion Necessary

Stressing the need for church affiliation, a director of the survey referred to President George Washington's Farewell Address in which he said, "Morality cannot be obtained without religion and morality is a necessary spring of popular government."

Each community, according to the spokesman, needs the influence of active churches and every family is happier for its church affiliation. He said, "If the church is to fulfill its proper work it must know the persons for whom there is responsibility."

The results of the census here will not be announced until the end of August. It is being conducted by the Commission on Evangelism and Membership of the New Paltz Methodist Church, with Mrs. William Jay and John Deeb as co-chairmen heading the volunteer workers.

Art Association Will Hold Exhibition Aug. 30

Last Saturday the demonstration on color was held. Mrs. Grace Cook and Miss Myra Gerald report the education classes for any member who can go. Interested members may obtain further information from either Mrs. Cook or Miss Gerald.

The outdoor art show of the New Paltz Association will stress informality this year. There will be no limit on the number of pictures a member may show. Larry Argiro is in charge of hanging the pictures. Pictures may be brought in up to 10 a.m. Sunday, Aug. 30, to Pine's store.

The show will open as soon as the pictures are placed. It will continue until dusk.

Mrs. Cook, who studied with an art group in Greenwich Village during the winter, has many paintings not seen in New Paltz on exhibit. Miss Gerald has some new Cape Cod scenes ready. George Newman reports he has new canvasses ready also.

Mrs. Vincent Lyons and committee will provide refreshments for the visitors.

Couples Club Has Added Effects at Playhouse

New Paltz, Aug. 12—Saturday evening, 16 members of the Couples Club, and guests, attended the Cragsmoor Playhouse, Ellenville, to see Bell, Book and Candle, a story of witchery and pranks. Effects not planned by the producer added to the performance. The lights on the mountain went out just before curtain time and delayed the performance. Houses used candles and lamps until power was restored. After the curtain went up the power failed again and lamps were placed on the stage and flash lights were used as spot lights on the actors. Barbara Glenn playing the roll of Gillian Holroyd, the young witch, and Alex Reed played Shepherd Henderson.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Phillips, the Rev. and Mrs. Willet Porter, Mr. and Mrs. S. Parks Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. William Jay, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pritchet and Mrs. and Mrs. William Van Vliet. Mr. and Mrs. William Parker accompanied the group.

Fire Department Sets Up Ambulance Aid Fund

New Paltz, Aug. 12—The New Paltz Fire Department which provides free ambulance service to residents of the village of New Paltz needs financial assistance to continue, it has been announced. Fire Department Plans 50th Anniversary March Wallkill, Aug. 12—The Wallkill Fire Department will celebrate its 50th anniversary Sept. 5 with a parade, band concert and block dance. Six neighboring fire companies of Plattekill, Modena, Walker Valley, Orange Hose of Walden, Gardiner and Shawangunk will participate in the big parade. The Walden Fife and Drum Corps has been secured for the parade and the George Washington band of Montgomery will provide concert and dance music in the block by the firehouse following the parade.

Line of march will assemble at 5 p. m. on the west side of the Wallkill river opposite the post office and the parade will begin at 5:30 p. m. Refreshments will be served to all visiting firemen and their families following this event, after which the concert and dance music will be presented.

All firemen are requested to be at the firehouse September 3 and 4 between 6 and 8 p. m. for fitting of uniforms by John Napolitano, foreman. All firemen are reminded that their regular meeting night of September 7 has been postponed until September 14 at 8 p. m., in order that no conflict will be made with Labor Day plans.

He blamed methodically cultivated hatred of America by Communist parties as the real reason for what he called serious anti-Americanism in non-Communist western Europe.

Piccard Goes 65 Feet

Castellamare, Italy, Aug. 13 (AP)—Auguste Piccard rode his bathysphere 65 feet down into the sea today and politely complimented two French officers who had just descended 5,082 feet. It was a test descent for the Swiss-Belgian explorer of things below and above the earth's surface who hopes eventually to take his stubby submarine device 12,790 feet down. That would beat the mark set yesterday by French navy officers Houet and Willm, who took a bathysphere to a new world record in the deeps off Toulon. Piccard said he was "pleased to hear" of the French exploit. He refused to predict whether he could better them.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—The stock market advanced today in a rather modest way with leadership concentrated in a few key areas. Gains ran to between 1 and 2 points in a few instances. Most gains, however, were small. That also held for losers.

American Cyanamid, yesterday's second most active issue, started with a gain of ¼ on a block of 1,500 shares. Later it lost that gain and slid down for a small fractional loss.

Du Pont was in demand with an opening block of 1,800 shares up 1⅜, a gain which held most of the time.

Coppers, aircrafts, and building materials were higher but without too much activity. Other areas of the list such as railroads, steels, motors, chemicals and oils, were steady to mixed.

Transformed Sheep

Helena, Mont. (AP)—Montana transplanted a wild bighorn mountain ram with curious results. The ram and 15 other bighorn sheep were planted on an Eastern Montana ranch with a view to restoring the breed in that region. The ram associated with a group of domestic sheep with these consequences: A Jordan rancher wondered what 11 wool-less lambs in his herd would bring on the market. Sportsmen wondered if this could be the start of a new game species. And Montana state biologists planned to learn if the hybrid offspring would be sterile.

Zoning Board Says 'No' to Application To Build Garage

A petition by Bernard Weber of 35 Klingburg avenue, to construct a four-truck garage in the Klingburg-Pettit avenue area was denied by the local zoning board last night and the board ruled against the conducting of a trucking business in that residential area.

Attorney Joseph Avis, chairman of the board, said Weber conducts a trucking business which deals in the hauling of sand, gravel and other similar materials, and the proposed garage would house four large trucks. Only one ton-and-a-half truck garage is allowed in residential areas.

Residents have complained of the noise and inconveniences of the business in that area and objected to the storing of dynamite in the vicinity, Avis said.

Residents Attend

The hearing was held in the city court room, city hall, and many residents of the area attended.

Weber will be allowed 60 days after notice in which to quit operating the business under terms of the board's ruling. The board is to prepare written copies of its decision.

The board ruled that the use of railroad ties for edging or border on an Abeel street property, owned by Ben Rhymer, of 421 Albany avenue, which is considered by complainants as a traffic hazard, is not a zoning problem and should be forwarded for police and traffic study.

Attorney Thomas Saccoman and Fred Baker are the other members of the board.

Four Boys Found Dead In Abandoned Ice Box

Richmond, Va., Aug. 13 (AP)—Four Richmond boys — three of them 7 and one 5—were found dead today in an abandoned ice box near their homes at McGuire Veterans Administration Hospital.

John Turner of the hospital's engineering staff made the discovery at 8:55 a. m. to bring to a macabre close a two-day search by upward of 1,000 in organized and volunteer groups aided by planes and helicopters.

It was a tragedy almost identical to one yesterday at Proctor, Ark., where five children were found suffocated in an old refrigerator.

The Richmond victims were children of two members of the hospital staff. Three of them, twins Woodrow and Wilson, 7, and George, 5, were the only children of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson Blackstock. The father is hospital maintenance engineer. The other boy, Walter Charles (Tex) Boykin, 7, was the son of the hospital's acting manager, Dr. J. Melvin Boykin, and Mrs. Boykin.

The old refrigerator, in an unused building less than 25 yards from the Boykin home, was one of the early places spotted for a check—but somehow was overlooked.

Nichols, Sr., vice commander of the RVA; Hubert Richter, commander of Joyce-Schirick Post 1386, VFW; Thomas Saccoman, commander of Post 150, American Legion; Michael Marchuk, secretary of Local 215, American Federation of Musicians, and Lt. Lower Budget Is

1, 1953, to June 30, 1954) by 4½ billion dollars. Appropriation requests by the administration and Congress amounted to about 13 billions less than Truman asked in his final budget.

Dodge's message dealt mainly with fiscal 1955, which begins next July 1. Eisenhower must send the fiscal 1955 budget to Congress in January. The book of more than 1,000 pages must go to the printer early in December. Dodge called for all next year's estimates to be in his hands by Sept. 15, for Budget Bureau revision.

Banks on Struggle

Washington, Aug. 13 (AP)—A French specialist in Soviet affairs said today Russia is banking on a fierce political struggle—rather than a war risking conflict with America—to achieve its goals in West Europe. A. Rossy spoke out in a speech prepared for delivery before a conference, sponsored by Johns Hopkins University, on "Soviet imperialism." He blamed methodically cultivated hatred of America by Communist parties as the real reason for what he called serious anti-Americanism in non-Communist western Europe.

Piccard Goes 65 Feet

Castellamare, Italy, Aug. 13 (AP)—Auguste Piccard rode his bathysphere 65 feet down into the sea today and politely complimented two French officers who had just descended 5,082 feet. It was a test descent for the Swiss-Belgian explorer of things below and above the earth's surface who hopes eventually to take his stubby submarine device 12,790 feet down. That would beat the mark set yesterday by French navy officers Houet and Willm, who took a bathysphere to a new world record in the deeps off Toulon. Piccard said he was "pleased to hear" of the French exploit. He refused to predict whether he could better them.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—The stock market advanced today in a rather modest way with leadership concentrated in a few key areas. Gains ran to between 1 and 2 points in a few instances. Most gains, however, were small. That also held for losers.

American Cyanamid, yesterday's second most active issue, started with a gain of ¼ on a block of 1,500 shares. Later it lost that gain and slid down for a small fractional loss.

Du Pont was in demand with an opening block of 1,800 shares up 1⅜, a gain which held most of the time.

Coppers, aircrafts, and building materials were higher but without too much activity. Other areas of the list such as railroads, steels, motors, chemicals and oils, were steady to mixed.

Transformed Sheep

Helena, Mont. (AP)—Montana transplanted a wild bighorn mountain ram with curious results. The ram and 15 other bighorn sheep were planted on an Eastern Montana ranch with a view to restoring the breed in that region. The ram associated with a group of domestic sheep with these consequences: A Jordan rancher wondered what 11 wool-less lambs in his herd would bring on the market. Sportsmen wondered if this could be the start of a new game species. And Montana state biologists planned to learn if the hybrid offspring would be sterile.

Zoning Board Says 'No' to Application To Build Garage

A petition by Bernard Weber of 35 Klingburg avenue, to construct a four-truck garage in the Klingburg-Pettit avenue area was denied by the local zoning board last night and the board ruled against the conducting of a trucking business in that residential area.

Attorney Joseph Avis, chairman of the board, said Weber conducts a trucking business which deals in the hauling of sand, gravel and other similar materials, and the proposed garage would house four large trucks. Only one ton-and-a-half truck garage is allowed in residential areas.

Residents have complained of the noise and inconveniences of the business in that area and objected to the storing of dynamite in the vicinity, Avis said.

Residents Attend

The hearing was held in the city court room, city hall, and many residents of the area attended.

Weber will be allowed 60 days after notice in which to quit operating the business under terms of the board's ruling. The board is to prepare written copies of its decision.

The board ruled that the use of railroad ties for edging or border on an Abeel street property, owned by Ben Rhymer, of 421 Albany avenue, which is considered by complainants as a traffic hazard, is not a zoning problem and should be forwarded for police and traffic study.

Attorney Thomas Saccoman and Fred Baker are the other members of the board.

Four Boys Found Dead In Abandoned Ice Box

Richmond, Va., Aug. 13 (AP)—Four Richmond boys — three of them 7 and one 5—were found dead today in an abandoned ice box near their homes at McGuire Veterans Administration Hospital.

John Turner of the hospital's engineering staff made the discovery at 8:55 a. m. to bring to a macabre close a two-day search by upward of 1,000 in organized and volunteer groups aided by planes and helicopters.

It was a tragedy almost identical to one yesterday at Proctor, Ark., where five children were found suffocated in an old refrigerator.

The Richmond victims were children of two members of the hospital staff. Three of them, twins Woodrow and Wilson, 7, and George, 5, were the only children of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson Blackstock. The father is hospital maintenance engineer. The other boy, Walter Charles (Tex) Boykin, 7, was the son of the hospital's acting manager, Dr. J. Melvin Boykin, and Mrs. Boykin.

The old refrigerator, in an unused building less than 25 yards from the Boykin home, was one of the early places spotted for a check—but somehow was overlooked.

Regular Veterans Association of New York State and the Ulster County Marine Corps League.

Harkins to Speak

Ceremonies at the armory will include an address by Lt. Col. Frank W. Harkins, commanding officer of the Guard Battalion, and two 30-minute War Department movies of the famous Blue Badge series, one on the European Theatre of Operations and the other on the Asiatic-Pacific Theatre. Refreshments will be served and music supplied by Don Pierson and his 12-piece orchestra which will play until 11:30 p. m.

Robert J. Funcheon, chairman of the committee in charge of the celebration, pointed out today that the ceremonies would pay due homage to those who made possible the end of World War 2 and would repay in part thousands of persons in the Kingston area who have 'generously supported so many worthwhile causes."

Members of the VJ Day committee, besides Funcheon, are George W. Nichols, Sr., vice commander of the RVA; Hubert Richter, commander of Joyce-Schirick Post 1386, VFW; Thomas Saccoman, commander of Post 150, American Legion; Michael Marchuk, secretary of Local 215, American Federation of Musicians, and Lt. Col. Harkins.

Lower Budget Is

1, 1953, to June 30, 1954) by 4½ billion dollars. Appropriation requests by the administration and Congress amounted to about 13 billions less than Truman asked in his final budget.

Dodge's message dealt mainly with fiscal 1955, which begins next July 1. Eisenhower must send the fiscal 1955 budget to Congress in January. The book of more than 1,000 pages must go to the printer early in December. Dodge called for all next year's estimates to be in his hands by Sept. 15, for Budget Bureau revision.

The weather bureau said the last storm of comparable intensity hit near the Philippines on Aug. 18, 1927. It added that the current storm "may hit Japan if it swerves its course."

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

To have contrary opinions you obviously have to ferret out general viewpoints to oppose. At times, general opinions are in what the engineer calls "a state of flux"—that is, they are flowing or changing. At the moment, common viewpoints on various public questions seem to be "changeable." It might be a convenient time, therefore, to use this space for a discussion of the theory of contrary opinion.

Every so often the Ruminator finds that he has to sit down and review the idea of contrary thinking in order to avoid slipping into the rut of "obvious thinking." It is much easier, and so natural, to let your mind ambie along the same path others are travelling. It is difficult to go in an opposite direction. I am reminded of something I read over the weekend, wherein the writer commented: "If you do not think through a subject you are through thinking." We cannot think through without examining both sides of questions.

The Ruminator has been at work on a revised pamphlet concerning the theory of contrary opinion, the title of which will be: "The Art of Contrary Thinking." The opening sentences will read something like this:

The art of contrary thinking may be stated simply: Thrust your mind out of a rut. In a word, be a nonconformist in the use of your mind.

In seeking an example to use in this discussion, let us take something outside economics and finance. The use of contrary thinking may be applied to almost any subject of wide general interest.

Over the past weekend the Malenkov announcement, which implies that Russia has the hydrogen bomb, caused a world-wide news-upheaval.

Numerous headlines expressed (with considerable inaccuracy) the thought that this announcement was held in "high skepticism" by officials in this country and others. (As a matter of fact, when you stopped to read below the headlines you found numerous comments by those who do not doubt that Russia may have the H-bomb.)

Inasmuch as the general look-and-run newspaper-reader glances at headlines and then turns to the sport pages, you have to give more importance to headlines than they actually reflect. The headline-line writer has two tasks: One, to fit the "lead" to the space allotted to the story, and secondly to employ words that attract attention. The sensationalism of the lead is patterned after the over-all policy of the newspaper. The policy of some papers would allot a banner heading, all across the top of the page, for a story to which another paper might only gave a one-column lead.

Again, the news-fact shows that Russia is still skillful in twisting world opinion. The H-bomb is sensational enough to detract from the Red barbarism depicted in Korea.

Further, when you stop to recall that the atomic bomb was not employed in the Korean war you realize that the H-bomb is, at the moment, a threat of what might come if a world war were to develop rather than a fear for its immediate use. It is also, from the opposite angle, a threat that a way to a world truce had better be found—or else!

You can doubtless drum up other sidelights on this one piece of news; e.g., that it will further split us and our allies on war policies.

To get down to a practical interpretation, the H-bomb event will crystallize opinion on air defense and continued preparedness until Russia's avowed peace intentions have some promise of fulfillment. From an economic standpoint, it is not a bearish news-event in the Ruminator's guess, but rather a further stimulant to future spending.

In the foregoing we have tried to illustrate how the mind will run off at tangents—some useful, some useless—when you endeavor to think contrarily on a given subject. Obviously, you could carry out this particular event to many pages of ruminations. We have only endeavored to illustrate the idea briefly.

Milk Price Decided

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—A uniform price of $3.96 per hundredweight (46.5 quarts) will be paid to dairy farmers for July milk deliveries to 403 pool-approved plants in the six-state New York milkshed. The producer butterfat differential for July will be 6.4 cents for each 1/10 pound of fat above or below the 3.5 per cent standard. The figures were announced yesterday by C. J. Blanford, market administrator of the New York metropolitan milk marketing area. The uniform price in June was $3.63. In July, 1952, it was $4.33.

To add extra flavor to cole slaw, mix savory seeds—celery caraway, or mustard—with the shredded cabbage and dressing.

PRETTY PEACH—Norma Jo Rushing, pretty "peach" at Southern Illinois University takes time out from classes to view the peach crop at Cobden, Ill. The commercial harvest of peaches in southern Illinois is expected to top more than half a million bushels this year. Quality prospects are supposed to be the best in many years.

Woodstock

Accent on Youth Enthuses Audience

Woodstock, Aug. 12 (AP)—Accent on Youth, a meditative comedy which moves at a leisurely but absorbing pace, opened to an enthusiastic audience Tuesday night at the Woodstock Playhouse. Directed by Michael Howard, the acting has finesse and warmth, and although the accent is on youth the compensations of age and experience are given substance and reality.

When an aging playwright unwittingly becomes embroiled in his own plot, events are likely to take a startling turn. Stephen Gaye is the playwright, played by Alexander Lockwood, and it is largely his show. With 19 successful plays to his credit, Gaye in a nostalgic mood creates a drama titled Old Love. In the casting of his play he almost succeeds in reviving an old love, while his beautiful young secretary suddenly assumes a major role in his life.

As a still bright flame in his life, the vivacious and glittering Genevieve Lang almost lures him to Finland, before Dickie Reynolds the young Romeo of his drama makes a decidedly muscular dent in his life.

Constance Coleman is the vivid Genevieve Lang and Willard Sage is the almost wordless Dickie Reynolds. Jo Rabb brings the verve of youth and a womanly wisdom to the secretary, Linda Brown.

Moving throughout the upheavals which take place in Gaye's study in Manhattan, William Darrid as his man Flogdell is unperturable and pompously funny, especially in the scene with Tom Emlyn Williams as the aging actor Frank Galloway, the morning after an especially youthful celebration.

As sometimes happens with theatre folk, they sometimes forget where the lines of a play leave off and reality begins. In Accent on Youth, the two worlds are deftly mingled with wit and disarming sincerity.

Two Dens From Pack 15 Visit Turning Mill

Woodstock, Aug. 12—Dens Four and Five, of Cub Pack 15 of Kingston, under the direction of Mrs. Henry P. Eighmey, den mother, visited the turning mill of Vosburgh and Stone of Shady on Tuesday morning. After the trip through the mill the group was entertained at a picnic lunch at the Eighmey home in Shady. In the afternoon the group went on a tour through the Candelier in Woodstock.

The group was also in charge of den chiefs Peter Showers and Vincent DeCicco of Kingston. The trip was an educational tour which is part of the summer program of Cub Pack 15.

Personal Notes

Woodstock, Aug. 12—Mr. and Mrs. William Hand were the guests Monday night at Camp Juvenile at Old Hurley, for a turkey dinner and entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Schneider spend the weekend as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Loeffler of Mt. Kisco. Their son, Gilbert, Jr., is now in Sun Valley, Idaho.

Serving on the jury for the Recent Work exhibition which opens Saturday, August 15, at the Woodstock Art Gallery is Louis Bouche, Frank Kleinholtz and Ilya Bolowsky.

Michael Howard, Playhouse director, and his wife Betty, entertained for departing cast members Carl Harbord, John Sydow and Lynn Olwin with an after theatre party Sunday night.

Rosendale-Tillson Post Beef Barbecue

A beef barbecue has been announced by Rosendale-Tillson Post, 1219, American Legion for Sportsmen's Park, Rosendale, Sunday, Aug. 23, starting at 1 p. m.

Commander Frederick H. Matthews stresses that the public may purchase tickets from any member of the post or make reservations by phoning Wilfred Doolittle, chairman, or John Tyler, both of Rosendale, or John Meyer, High Falls.

In announcing the barbecue, Matthews said the weather for the day is predicted as hot, and suggested that whole families eat their main meal that Sunday at the barbecue to relieve the ladies of rigorous kitchen chores.

Chairman Doolittle said the committee has contracted with a barbecue specialist to prepare the meal.

A sprinkle of finely chopped candied ginger makes a pear and cottage or cream cheese salad something special.

STEEL'S UP—Newschart shows steel production and capacity in the U. S. from 1939 through the estimated amount for 1953. Capacity increased steadily and it is expected that the 120 million ton mark will be reached in 1953. Production is expected to reach about 110 million tons, topping the previous record of about 105 million tons set in 1951.

IVATE'S TIMESAVER — Pvt. Thomas G. Sanders doesn't 'er from frayed nerves by bucking California traffic when he's a week-end pass from his base at Camp Roberts. He just revs the engine and takes off in his private plane. It gives him more time to enjoy those precious off-duty hours.

Late Bulletin

Paris, Aug. 13 (AP)—New walkouts were called today in the newspapers and national defense establishments as the gigantic strike wave involving four million workers rolled on in France.

No end to labor's great upheaval was in sight as the unions battled Premier Joseph Laniel's economy program.

There were no negotiations under way between the unions and the government, which was trying to cope with the situation by putting police, soldiers and even convicts to work cleaning streets and helping sort mail.

There was one bright development for thousands of annoyed tourists — custom agents quit their jobs in ever increasing numbers at ports, air fields and border points, so that baggage was going in and out uninspected.

Most of the luggage going out belonged to fleeing tourists.

Communists Have No Comment to Offer

Inchon, Korea, Aug. 13 (AP)—Communist delegates on the four-nations truce inspection team landed here today and answered questions from newsmen with two words—no comment.

Two Czechs and two Poles—one a woman lieutenant-colonel — came by helicopter from the Panmunjom neutral zone. Three Swedes and four Swiss made up the rest of the team.

The group will check the flow of men and material through the Seoul-Inchon area.

Under the truce agreement, inspection teams will be stationed at 10 ports of entry—five in the south and five in the north.

The four Red delegates met newsmen in the lounge of the comparatively luxurious Wolmi Island Officers Club, but gave out no information in bland answers relayed by a young Polish lieutenant acting as interpreter.

Asked how long they expected to stay, Polish Lt. Col. Ludwika Bibrowska and Czech Lt. Col. Jeroslav Cikanek conferred with the lieutenant and had him relay this answer:

"It doesn't depend on us. We would like to leave for our country as soon as possible."

A reporter asked how this could be arranged.

"We have no comment on this," the lieutenant answered.

He apologized for his "poor English" and was assured it was adequate—which brought a smile to his face.

Asked if they had any complaints to make about their treatment here, the Reds answered:

"We enjoyed the trip here and we have no comments."

To further questions he answered "it is my commander's wish to express you that we can't give any more information."

The Swedes and Swiss also attended; but reporters clustered around the Red delegates, who sat sipping highballs and smoking American cigarettes.

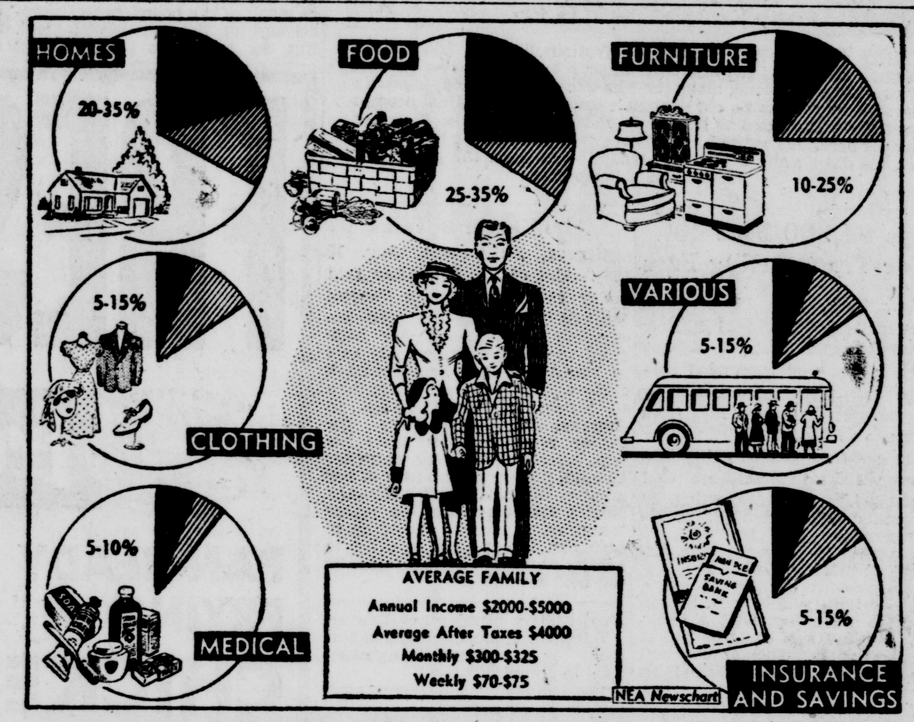
THE REV. ANITA PICKETT

The Rev. Anita Trueman Pickett, retired Unitarian minister, of route 1, Kingston, will attend the General Conference of the American Unitarian Association at Phillips - Andover Academy, August 21 through 25. Mrs. Pickett will be the delegate from the Baton Rouge (La.) Unitarian Fellowship, for which she preached several times last winter. She also preached at Galveston, Tex., Beaumont, Tex., Fairhope, Ala., and Jacksonville, Fla.

The General Assembly of Universalist Churches will hold simultaneous meetings at Andover, with several joint meetings scheduled. It is expected that a federation of the two national bodies will result, Mrs. Pickett said. The federation has been under consideration for several years.

Mrs. Pickett has resided in Kingston since her retirement from active ministry July 1, 1952. She was ordained in 1921 at Woburn, Mass., where her husband, the late Rev. Harold L. Pickett, was pastor. She held pastorates of her own at Rowe, Mass., was superintendent of Barnard Memorial at Boston, and was co-pastor with her husband at Peabody and Medfield, Mass. Later, her husband became pastor at Ware, Mass., and after his death in 1950 she served two years as the church's minister. Since her retirement she has been active as a supply minister.

WELCOME HOME FOR BREADWINNER—Clark Zep, 20, comes home to Colonie, N. Y., and is welcomed by his eight brothers. A former Pfc. in the Marines, Zep was given an honorable discharge so he could support his orphaned brood. Looking on as the former Leatherneck holds his Marine shirt are, left to right, Richard, Clark, Joseph, Douglas, Donald, Robert, Raymond, Harold and Clinton.



HERE'S WHERE YOUR MONEY GOES—Above Newschart shows the income of the typical American family of four, and how the income is budgeted percentagewise to purchase the necessities of life. According to the American Finance Conference, most families cannot with safety exceed the indicated maximum percentages for various expenditures, except under special circumstances. If the maximum is spent for some groups of purchases the amount spent for the other must be correspondingly reduced to maintain a balanced budget.

Taps for Neighbors

San Diego, Calif. (AP)—Over a period of several weeks Dickie Cooper, school-boy studying trumpet, stepped out on the porch of his home and played the military bugle call "taps" each night at 9 p. m. He and his family were relieved that the phone didn't jangle with protests. Then Dickie went away for a week-end. Neighbors called to inquire if he was sick. They missed the taps. Some said they'd lost sleep lying awake waiting for it.

Po'keepsie Man Is Hurt Near Bridge

Robert Heggerman of 53 Academy street, Poughkeepsie, received a fractured left elbow and multiple lacerations when his automobile and a tractor trailer collided head-on near the Mid-Hudson Bridge at 3:35 a. m. today, state police reported.

The accident occurred on a curve and grade on Route 44-45 about one-half mile west of the bridge. Heggerman was driving east, downgrade, and the tractor trailer, driven by James F. McKay, 48, of 43 Spring street, Chatham, was traveling west, upgrade, about 10 miles an hour, troopers said. McKay was not injured, according to the report.

The tractor was owned by F. S. George of Chatham and was hauling a trailer owned by the Service Transportation Company of Secaucus, N. J., and loaded with paper, troopers said.

Heggerman was taken by ambulance to Vassar Brothers Hospital in Poughkeepsie, where a condition report was not yet available this morning.

Woman Is Taken To Local Hospital

Mrs. Mary Amendola, 41, of 450 Albany avenue, was taken to the Benedictine Hospital yesterday following an incident described by police as a "dispute over a property line."

First reports of the dispute was received at 10:48 a. m., and Officers Crawford Millham and Charles McCullough were dispatched there. They indicated the property line disputed is between the maple block plant on Deyo street and the Amendola property.

A fence "was placed there and then taken down," the report said, and "in the process of the maneuvers the fence fell on Mrs. Amendola.

At 11:18 a. m., the report said, the officers requested an ambulance. Schultz was called and Mrs. Amendola was taken to the Benedictine Hospital. She suffered multiple contusions, her doctor said, and the hospital reported her condition as "fair" today.

Late Bulletin

Paris, Aug. 13 (AP)—New walkouts were called today in the newspapers and national defense establishments as the gigantic strike wave involving four million workers rolled on in France.

No end to labor's great upheaval was in sight as the unions battled Premier Joseph Laniel's economy program.

There were no negotiations under way between the unions and the government, which was trying to cope with the situation by putting police, soldiers and even convicts to work cleaning streets and helping sort mail.

There was one bright development for thousands of annoyed tourists — custom agents quit their jobs in ever increasing numbers at ports, air fields and border points, so that baggage was going in and out uninspected.

Most of the luggage going out belonged to fleeing tourists.

Columbia Buys Land At Rockefeller Center

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—Columbia University has become owner of virtually all the land on which Rockefeller Center is located.

Columbia has purchased from the Rockefeller interests almost all of the frontage along the east side of 6th avenue between 48th and 51st streets, for which it paid $5,500,000.

Rockefeller Center Inc. has leased back the property — 100 feet wide and 60,000 square feet —for a long term at about $200,000 a year.

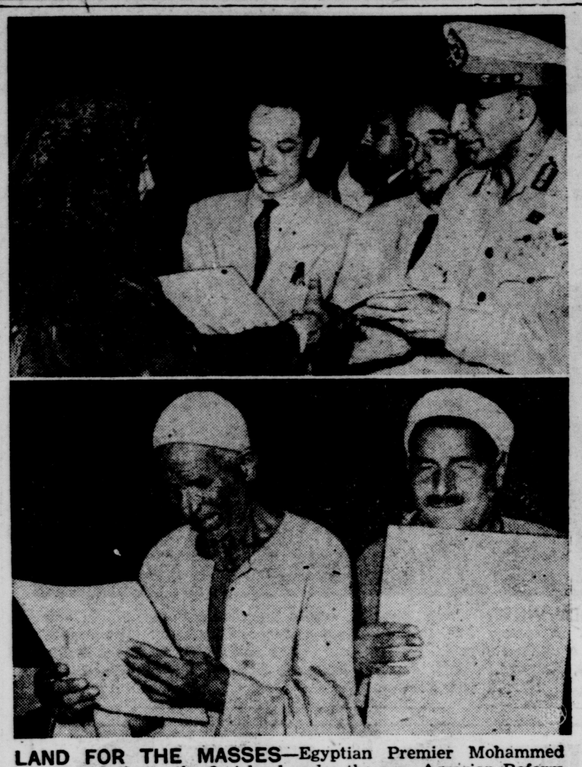
The deal, announced yesterday, brings Columbia's net rental return on the three-block commercial and amusement development to $3,800,000 annually.

Parts of several large Rockefeller Center buildings are on the land involved in the transaction.

The center also announced that the existing lease on the 125 million dollar development had been extended by the university from 1962 to 1973. Renewal options permit Rockefeller Center to extend the lease to 2069.

Laurance S. Rockefeller Jr., chairman of the board of Rockefeller Center, said the center has paid Columbia 72 million dollars rental since 1928 for use of the land. The first of the center's 15 buildings was opened in 1932.

The Fredonia Gas Light and Water Works Company was the first natural gas corporation in the United States. It was organized in 1858.



LAND FOR THE MASSES—Egyptian Premier Mohammed Naguib distributes the first land under the new Agrarian Reform Law at Itay El-Barud, along the Nile delta. Naguib, top, hands an ownership deed to an old peasant woman. Each landless peasant was given from two to five acres of land appropriated from big landowners. A poor peasant, bottom, tries to decipher the writing on his deed while a blind man at his side feels the paper that makes him a landowner.

Pays $4,500 Fine For Transporting Furs

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—Leo Morganstern, 41, of (53 Shelter Lane) Roslyn Heights, N. Y., was given a one-year suspended sentence and fined $4,500 yesterday for transporting stolen furs from Colorado to New York.

Morganstern pleaded guilty to a Denver federal indictment that accused him of transporting 53 fur coats valued at $158,000. He was arrested here last May 28 and agreed to have the case disposed of in New York.

Morganstern claimed he got a phone call from Albert H. Sonenblum to the effect that a bankrupt stock of furs could be had at bargain rates. The government contended the furs had been stolen from Millers Furriers, of Denver.

Sonenblum, named in the indictment for conspiracy, is awaiting trial in Denver.

Aly Mentions Talks

Geneva, Switzerland, Aug. 13 (AP)—Aides of the Aga Khan said today they knew of no "urgent business" hurrying the aged potentate's playboy son Aly back from the United States. Aly said in Paris yesterday he received a cable from his father asking him to return for urgent talks. In America for horse sales, the Prince reportedly cut short his trip before visiting his daughter Yasmin, now in the custody of her mother, Rita Hayworth. The Aga Khan's secretary said the prince "returned to Europe according to plan and is expected to drive to nearby Evian to visit his father in the next few days."

As Pegler Sees It

ployes and used it as capital in their businesses. As of then, in three New York Internal Revenue districts, there was a massive delinquency of $17,800,000 in payroll taxes. The proportion and amount probably have increased a great deal since then, not only in New York but all over the country.

For one reason, the Internal Revenue was exposed as a very corrupt department in which not only its own executives, selected in all cases for political services to the Roosevelt-Truman party, but bribe-givers with, political connections, had ducked or compromised taxes while honest men and companies paid in full as a matter of course. The folly of their honesty was not lost on honest men. For another, it has become quite plain that the government's machinery, including the courts, can't handle the job. Millions of people would be in the jury box all the time. And, finally, whether or not a crime is committed in such a case, the fact was plain that the wages of sin were painless.

To be sure, when judgment has been had after trial or where the delinquent has a bank account subject to instant attachment or has convertible assets, the treasury can get its pound of flesh or as much of the pound as the bank-account of the assets will yield. But the process is laborious and wasteful. A man authorized to speak for Internal Revenue admitted to me in Washington a few days ago that the honest citizen has to bear not only his share of the burden but the slackers' shares as well.

There is no saying at what point the system would break down entirely. In prohibition not only the overwhelming mass of criminal violations, swamping the enforcement agents, the district attorneys, and the courts, but a fierce popular resentment was equally responsible for failure of the noble experiment. In the case of the Income Withholding and Social Security taxes, the resentment is largely localized on the side of those who have to pay "matching" amounts for the "Social Security" of employes. The employes, on the whole, seem to be pleased with the Social Security tax. The majority of them never did really regard the Withholding tax as a tax on them at all. Wages already had been raised or soon were raised to provide the money for their withheld income taxes.

The cost and complexity of all such taxes for all employers, large and small, have never become any easier to bear. Big companies adjusted their affairs to increase their revenues to meet the expense. But small operators have suffered severe personal hardship and this goes, also, for the new classes of taxpayers, the housewives and the self-employed millions who were swept into the system in 1951. I met an old friend in Washington who formerly ran a news bureau and engaged in lobbying for American and foreign interests. He said he had finally fired sixteen employes to go it alone because the paperwork took too much of his time. As an individual, without a staff, he was making just as much for himself and he didn't have the bother of accounting and transmitting.

The Marshall girls, of Marshall, Tex., have never sent the treasury a cent of Social Security under the baby-sitter's tax. They "report" the amount which the treasury deems to be due under the schedules but they all make the treasury come and get it by attachment of their bank accounts every time. This costs the treasury a lot of manpower and money. If the same method of rebellion should become general, the whole thing would dry up and blow away. Martin Dies, now returned to Congress, was one of the attorneys for the Marshall girls. At that time he reported that only a few eccentrics in all Texas were paying this tax and guessed that "half a million" Texas housewives were ignoring it absolutely. They did not even file "reports." Although there is a criminal provision here again, as in Misss Kellems' case, the Department of Justice is afraid to meet the test in a criminal prosecution, lest the Supreme Court demolish the whole law, in which case the treasury would be in a terrible fix. Nobody can quite picture t plight of the pensioners drawi old-age payments in such cas But perhaps the states wo adopt their own devices. Anyw the United States got along wi out such pensions out of the tional taxes for a century and half and, after a little sho could do so again.

The self-employed person absolutely nothing to fear ever he fails to file any return. W can the D of J do to him? C anyone imagine a jury sending good citizen to prison for ref ing to fill out forms, mail th before certain deadlines and g up his hard-earned money fo problematical pension which doesn't want, at twice the cost the same protection to his la boy or baby-sitter? There is "employer" to pay half the of "Social Security" for the s employed person. He pays b halves himself and gets no m return, if he ever gets any turn, than the most ignorant, dolent, shiftless occasional han man. In other words, here i law which tells a superior citi and a tax-producer, at that, t he must buy insurance at a 100 per cent higher than t paid by other citizens.

Columbia Buys Land At Rockefeller Center

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—Columbia University has become owner of virtually all the land on which Rockefeller Center is located.

Columbia has purchased from the Rockefeller interests almost all of the frontage along the east side of 6th avenue between 48th and 51st streets, for which it paid $5,500,000.

Rockefeller Center Inc. has leased back the property — 100 feet wide and 60,000 square feet —for a long term at about $200,000 a year.

The deal, announced yesterday, brings Columbia's net rental return on the three-block commercial and amusement development to $3,800,000 annually.

Parts of several large Rockefeller Center buildings are on the land involved in the transaction.

The center also announced that the existing lease on the 125 million dollar development had been extended by the university from 1962 to 1973. Renewal options permit Rockefeller Center to extend the lease to 2069.

Laurance S. Rockefeller Jr., chairman of the board of Rockefeller Center, said the center has paid Columbia 72 million dollars rental since 1928 for use of the land. The first of the center's 15 buildings was opened in 1932.

The Fredonia Gas Light and Water Works Company was the first natural gas corporation in the United States. It was organized in 1858.

LAND FOR THE MASSES—Egyptian Premier Mohammed Naguib distributes the first land under the new Agrarian Reform Law at Itay El-Barud, along the Nile delta. Naguib, top, hands an ownership deed to an old peasant woman. Each landless peasant was given from two to five acres of land appropriated from big landowners. A poor peasant, bottom, tries to decipher the writing on his deed while a blind man at his side feels the paper that makes him a landowner.

Pays $4,500 Fine For Transporting Furs

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—Leo Morganstern, 41, of (53 Shelter Lane) Roslyn Heights, N. Y., was given a one-year suspended sentence and fined $4,500 yesterday for transporting stolen furs from Colorado to New York.

Morganstern pleaded guilty to a Denver federal indictment that accused him of transporting 53 fur coats valued at $158,000. He was arrested here last May 28 and agreed to have the case disposed of in New York.

Morganstern claimed he got a phone call from Albert H. Sonenblum to the effect that a bankrupt stock of furs could be had at bargain rates. The government contended the furs had been stolen from Millers Furriers, of Denver.

Sonenblum, named in the indictment for conspiracy, is awaiting trial in Denver.

Aly Mentions Talks

Geneva, Switzerland, Aug. 13 (AP)—Aides of the Aga Khan said today they knew of no "urgent business" hurrying the aged potentate's playboy son Aly back from the United States. Aly said in Paris yesterday he received a cable from his father asking him to return for urgent talks. In America for horse sales, the Prince reportedly cut short his trip before visiting his daughter Yasmin, now in the custody of her mother, Rita Hayworth. The Aga Khan's secretary said the prince "returned to Europe according to plan and is expected to drive to nearby Evian to visit his father in the next few days."

As Pegler Sees It

ployes and used it as capital in their businesses. As of then, in three New York Internal Revenue districts, there was a massive delinquency of $17,800,000 in payroll taxes. The proportion and amount probably have increased a great deal since then, not only in New York but all over the country.

For one reason, the Internal Revenue was exposed as a very corrupt department in which not only its own executives, selected in all cases for political services to the Roosevelt-Truman party, but bribe-givers with, political connections, had ducked or compromised taxes while honest men and companies paid in full as a matter of course. The folly of their honesty was not lost on honest men. For another, it has become quite plain that the government's machinery, including the courts, can't handle the job. Millions of people would be in the jury box all the time. And, finally, whether or not a crime is committed in such a case, the fact was plain that the wages of sin were painless.

To be sure, when judgment has been had after trial or where the delinquent has a bank account subject to instant attachment or has convertible assets, the treasury can get its pound of flesh or as much of the pound as the bank-account of the assets will yield. But the process is laborious and wasteful. A man authorized to speak for Internal Revenue admitted to me in Washington a few days ago that the honest citizen has to bear not only his share of the burden but the slackers' shares as well.

There is no saying at what point the system would break down entirely. In prohibition not only the overwhelming mass of criminal violations, swamping the enforcement agents, the district attorneys, and the courts, but a fierce popular resentment was equally responsible for failure of the noble experiment. In the case of the Income Withholding and Social Security taxes, the resentment is largely localized on the side of those who have to pay "matching" amounts for the "Social Security" of employes. The employes, on the whole, seem to be pleased with the Social Security tax. The majority of them never did really regard the Withholding tax as a tax on them at all. Wages already had been raised or soon were raised to provide the money for their withheld income taxes.

The cost and complexity of all such taxes for all employers, large and small, have never become any easier to bear. Big companies adjusted their affairs to increase their revenues to meet the expense. But small operators have suffered severe personal hardship and this goes, also, for the new classes of taxpayers, the housewives and the self-employed millions who were swept into the system in 1951. I met an old friend in Washington who formerly ran a news bureau and engaged in lobbying for American and foreign interests. He said he had finally fired sixteen employes to go it alone because the paperwork took too much of his time. As an individual, without a staff, he was making just as much for himself and he didn't have the bother of accounting and transmitting.

The Marshall girls, of Marshall, Tex., have never sent the treasury a cent of Social Security under the baby-sitter's tax. They "report" the amount which the treasury deems to be due under the schedules but they all make the treasury come and get it by attachment of their bank accounts every time. This costs the treasury a lot of manpower and money. If the same method of rebellion should become general, the whole thing would dry up and blow away. Martin Dies, now returned to Congress, was one of the attorneys for the Marshall girls. At that time he reported that only a few eccentrics in all Texas were paying this tax and guessed that "half a million" Texas housewives were ignoring it absolutely. They did not even file "reports." Although there is a criminal provision here again, as in Misss Kellems' case, the Department of Justice is afraid to meet the test in a criminal prosecution, lest the Supreme Court demolish the whole law, in which case the treasury would be in a terrible fix. Nobody can quite picture t plight of the pensioners drawi old-age payments in such cas But perhaps the states wo adopt their own devices. Anyw the United States got along wi out such pensions out of the i tional taxes for a century and half and, after a little sho could do so again.

The self-employed person absolutely nothing to fear ever he fails to file any return. W can the D of J do to him? anyone imagine a jury sending good citizen to prison for ref ing to fill out forms, mail th before certain deadlines and g up his hard-earned money fo problematical pension which doesn't want, at twice the cost the same protection to his la boy or baby-sitter? There is "employer" to pay half the of "Social Security" for the s employed person. He pays b halves himself and gets no m return, if he ever gets any turn, than the most ignorant, dolent, shiftless occasional han man. In other words, here i law which tells a superior citi and a tax-producer, at that, t he must buy insurance at a 100 per cent higher than paid by other citizens.

Economy Drive Is Getting Close Watch in United States

By SAM DAWSON

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—President Eisenhower's new economy drive will be scanned closely by all those who work for the government, by all those who do business with the government—and should be by all those who pay taxes to the government.

He has told heads of departments and agencies to try hard to cut spending this fall so that the federal debt ceiling won't have to be raised.

Those businessmen, however, who have been disappointed because the previous economy drive appeared to them to be stronger on good intentions than in actual savings, are more interested in the second part of his directive: More cuts in the huge governmental spending total to be spelled out in the budget submitted next January.

Some assert that while the administration made much this year of the momentum of spending and the hangover of appropriations still available for spending, this argument might run a little thin when the second year starts in January. The new budget, they feel, is likely to show more cuts.

Are Entirely Sympathetic

Many businessmen, of course, are entirely sympathetic with the administration's struggles with big government's spending problems. Some just hope that more can be done.

The new budget will start taking form after September 15, when the requests for new funds are made. The budget director will try to pare them. He will also try to guess what next year's revenues will be.

The treasury hopes for more tax returns from business. It bases this hope on the fact that in the first half of this year corporate earnings, for industry as a whole, were running 17 per cent ahead of the first six months of 1952.

But next year's incomes will be a different story. With the new year the excess profits tax is scheduled to die, and the treasury will lose that revenue. As of now, the law also provides that next April the ordinary tax on corporate income, which is now 52 per cent, is to drop back to 47 per cent. Unless Congress changes this, it means another drop in revenues for the treasury.

In January, also, individual income tax rates are due by law to drop by around 10 per cent. This will cut into the future revenues the treasury might get otherwise.

Expects Bigger 'Take'

But this year the total of personal incomes is running well ahead of last year. And they will be subject to present high tax rate. The treasury expects to take in more from individuals when the March deadline rolls around than it did last March.

The income tax rate drop for individuals will be at least partly offset for many because the social security tax rate goes up January 1 to 2 per cent from the present 1½ per cent. This year if you made $3,600 or more, your boss withheld $54 of it, put an equal amount of his own with it and sent it to the treasury. Next year the boss will keep back $72 of your pay, add $72 of his own, and the treasury will get $144.

Like individuals, business' chief concern with government spending is the tax it takes to sustain it.

But business has still another concern in the spending slash the President is ordering for next year—because some businesses get considerable orders for goods from the government. They'll want to know where and how much the cuts will be.

Bronx Police Seize Two Men in Policy Bank in Apartment

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—Bronx police yesterday broke up a $10,000-a-day policy bank branch and seized two men—one claiming to to be a brother of Tami Mauriello, prizefighter, and the other out on $10,000 bail on a previous policy charge—it was announced last night by Deputy Inspector Thomas L. Burns.

The prisoners, booked on charges of possessing policy slips and conspiring to violate the policy laws, were Alfred Mauriello, 27, of 1792 Merrill street, the Bronx, and Salvatore Speciale, 36, of 209 E. 107th street, Manhattan.

Discovery of the office was accidental. A tenant at 671 Menida avenue, the Bronx, telephoned to the Simpson street station that there was a gas leak on the fourth floor. Patrolmen John Jones and John Mulqueen went there in a radio car, traced the fumes to an apartment got no answer, forced the door, found and stopped a leaking stove burner. Inspecting the three-room place, they reported, they found two tabulating machines, a few chairs and tables but little other furniture, and a mass of policy-play records.

They notified Precinct Capt. Dennis Casey, who inspected the premises and passed the word to Burns. Deputy Inspector Elmer Metz assigned two plainclothes patrolmen, who waited at the Manida street flat until Mauriello an Speciale entered, police said.

The plainclothesmen seized the men, the tabulating machines, and the numbers-play records which, Burns later announced, were for a week's business, showing 3,500,000 plays at from 25 cents to $15 per play.

Mauriello, who claimed to be a brother of the pugilist, had notations of 125,000 plays in his personal possession when arrested Burns said. Speciale, he said, carried $1,100 in small bills. Speciale, he added, was arrested on a policy charge in Throggs Neck, the Bronx, 10 days ago, and was out on $10,000 bail when seized yesterday.

In Night Court Magistrate Louis Pagnucco held the prisoners in $4,000 bail each for appearance Aug. 20 in Bronz Gamblers Court.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

There's good shopping news for the economy-minded housewife this week—most of the nation's food stores are cutting prices on pork chops, sirloin steak, rib roasts and frying chickens.

Also, there are many good values in the vegetable department.

Loin pork chops have gone down in many cities for the second straight week.

One big chain says its weekend prices for loin chops will be off 10 cents a pound in Boston and Detroit, nine cents in Los Angeles, and four to six cents in Pittsburgh, Chicago and Jacksonville, Fla.

Sirloin will be 10 cents lower in Detroit and Chicago, and off four cents in Jacksonville and New York. Rib roasts will be two to six cents lower in most cities. Leg of lamb also will be down four to six cents in many places but will be higher in some parts of the east.

Frying Chickens Features

Frying chickens will be features in a number of cities, with reductions of from two to six cents a pound.

Other meat and fish department specials reported by some stores include fresh haddock, flounder and swordfish.

Egg prices range from four cents lower to two cents higher. Butter is generally unchanged.

Produce men say vegetables are definitely lower. Good buys are peppers, cabbage, tomatoes, celery, beans, egg plant, squash and radishes. Western carrots and lettuce are higher.

There are unusually good buys in locally grown potatoes in some regions.

While little change is noted in the level of fruit prices, Bartlett pears, peaches, oranges and grapes are being reduced in some cities.

Food prices generally — and meat in particular — should decline about 10 per cent within the next year, according to Hugo Slotkin, president of Hygrade Food Products Corp. Slotkin bases his forecast on a general survey of the cattle ranges, supplies and government policies.

Permanent Cake

Appomattox, Va. (AP)—It was quite an operation — getting this piece of cake to Mrs. John C. Moore. But eat it? Not on your life. The 4 by 6 inch slice of fruit cake topped with lemon icing is something special. Here's how Mrs. Moore happened to get it: She received the cake from Mrs. Annie Truman of Beckley, W. Va., whose daughter married Mrs. Moore's son. Mrs. Truman has a sister who lives in London and her son is a member of the guard at Buckingham Palace. And the cake is a slice of the one baked especially for the coronation of Queen Elizabeth. Each guardsman was given a slice, and this particular guardsmans' mother sent it to Mrs. Truman who sent it to Mrs. Moore.

Poughkeepsie Plans Five Parking Lots

Poughkeepsie, Aug. 12 — The Common Council at its Monday session will take action to purchase five midtown parking lots, two or three of which should be in operation by fall.

This announcement was made by Chairman Kimlin (R.-Fifth Ward) of the council's off-street parking committee.

Kimlin said a revised figure of $60,000 for paving and lighting the lots will make the estimated cost of purchase and improvement $280,000.

Mayor Stevens had said the city might spend $200,000 to $250,000 for lots and $40,000 for improvements.

Kimlin said the five lots will accommodate an estimated 930 cars, and fill a long felt need for central business section and fringe area permanent parking places.

The lots are to be self liquidating, paying for themselves over a period of years, the alderman emphasized.

Norwegian Emigrants

Oslo (AP)—Norwegian emigration to foreign countries set a new post-war record in 1952 with nearly one out of every 1,000 Norwegians settling abroad, police records showed here. Emigrants included 1,535 men and 1,423 women. Nearly two thirds of the total, or 1,988 persons settled in the United States, while 906 Norwegians found new homes in Canada.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

There's good shopping news for the economy-minded housewife this week—most of the nation's food stores are cutting prices on pork chops, sirloin steak, rib roasts and frying chickens.

Also, there are many good values in the vegetable department.

Loin pork chops have gone down in many cities for the second straight week.

One big chain says its weekend prices for loin chops will be off 10 cents a pound in Boston and Detroit, nine cents in Los Angeles, and four to six cents in Pittsburgh, Chicago and Jacksonville, Fla.

Sirloin will be 10 cents lower in Detroit and Chicago, and off four cents in Jacksonville and New York. Rib roasts will be two to six cents lower in most cities. Leg of lamb also will be down four to six cents in many places but will be higher in some parts of the east.

Frying Chickens Features

Frying chickens will be features in a number of cities, with reductions of from two to six cents a pound.

Other meat and fish department specials reported by some stores include fresh haddock, flounder and swordfish.

Egg prices range from four cents lower to two cents higher. Butter is generally unchanged.

New Attorney Asks Jelke Be Freed; Questions Jurors

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—Counsel for Minot (Mickey) Jelke has questioned the impartiality of two members of the jury which found the young margarine heir guilty of compulsory prostitution.

Jelke's new attorney, George Washington Herz, filed a petition in State Supreme Court yesterday to have Jelke freed on bail pending appeal of the vice convictions.

The 23-year-old Jelke currently is serving eight months in the workhouse on a conviction of illegal possession of two pistols.

After serving that sentence, Jelke is slated to serve three to six years on two vice counts.

Herz contended two of the jurors—not identified by name—were allowed to serve at Jelke's trial after their impartiality was questioned by defense counsel.

One juror, Herz said, was quizzed about a report that he was the landlord of a building which housed prostitutes. The juror denied the allegation.

Herz said another juror, member of the all-male panel, was "recognized" by 19-year-old Pat Ward, star witness for the prosecution, the juror denied he knew her.

Says Jurors in Fear

Jelke's attorney said both jurors were questioned privately by General Sessions Judge Francis L. Valente, who presided at the trial.

The questioning, Herz charged, "in effect placed the jurors in fear of exercising their free judgment and in effect constituted a coercion of the jurors and deprived the defendant of a trial by a fearless and impartial jury."

The prosecution's presentation of the trial was conducted behind closed doors, with press and public barred. Valente ruled that an open trial would be against public decency and morals. The brief defense testimony was open to the public.

Calls Trial Unfair

Herz termed the judge's action a "prejudicial error" which he said denied his client a fair and public trial.

Scheduled for release on the gun charges Oct. 6, Jelke must start serving time on the vice counts before the Appellate Division of the State Supreme Court passes on his appeal.

The higher court, Herz said, will not hear arguments until November. Pending appeal, Herz seeks Jelke's release on bail in custody of the young man's mother, Mrs. Ralph Teal.

A hearing on the motion was set for next Monday.

Herz's affidavit also said "a thorough search of the record fails to disclose any material evidence outside the polluted source of prostitutes' and accomplices' testimony."

Will Build Holy Land In State of Florida

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—Plans are underway for building in Florida a mile-square replica of the Holy Land — a permanent community featuring the ancient buildings and terrain and complete with camels, street bazaars, lakes and gardens.

As announced yesterday in the September issue of the Catholic Digest magazine, the two-million-dollar project "will be an exact, in-scale reproduction of the hills, the wayside, and the urban architecture of ancient Judea."

The project, organized by Broadway producer Eddie Dowling and associates, will be known as Holy Land, Inc. Backers include persons of various faiths.

Trucks Roll Again

Boston, Aug. 13 (AP)—Trucks began rolling in force today throughout southern New England with the settlement of a nine-day strike of 13,000 AFL drivers. An agreement was reached early yesterday and ratified during the day by members of 13 AFL teamster locals and by the employers. The new contract calls for an hourly wage of $1.67; a guarantee of 48 hours work per week; overtime after 40 hours; nine instead of seven holidays; regular pay plus time and a half for Sunday and holiday work; three weeks vacation on the 12th instead of 15th year; two weeks vacation after five years and one week after 150 days; eight cents of the increase to be retroactive to April 11; the owners to pay $2.40 a week beginning April 1, 1954 for a health and welfare fund to be administered by the union. Under the old contract, the drivers got $1.52 an hour with overtime rates beginning after 48 hours.

Naigles Endorses Tobacco Program, 'Swing Is Our Way'

A program designed to afford more than a million of the nation's retailers an opportunity to keep abreast of modern trends in streamlined consumer merchandising has been endorsed by Haskell Naigles of the Rosenbaum Company, wholesale tobacco distributors, 115 Green street, president of the New York Association of Tobacco Distributors and chairman of its membership committee.

Known as "Swing Is Our Way," the program will feature a merchandiser-refresher course for retailers, employing a realistic, graphic and visual technique. Training material which will be distributed by NATD, sponsor of the program, will illustrate pictorially the application of modern merchandising ideas.

The campaign will begin September 28, 1953, and terminate January 23, 1954, at which time four of the nation's outstanding retailers of tobacco and associated products will be selected for awards as retailers of the year.

Must Visit Parents

Freedom Village, Korea, Aug. 13 (AP)—One American soldier freed by the Communists today said he was asked to visit the parents of a prisoner who elected to stay behind and tell them he wants "no more of the American way of life." "I don't know how to explain it to them," said Cpl. Walter G. Adelman of Lockport, Ill. Adelman said nine men in Camp 1 chose to stay with the Communists. He did not identify the man whose parents he must see. "He thinks he is going to be great," Adelman said. "I just don't know how I can tell his folks what happened to him."

After serving that sentence, Jelke is slated to serve three to six years on two vice counts.

Herz contended two of the jurors—not identified by name—were allowed to serve at Jelke's trial after their impartiality was questioned by defense counsel.

One juror, Herz said, was quizzed about a report that he was the landlord of a building which housed prostitutes. The juror denied the allegation.

Herz said another juror, member of the all-male panel, was "recognized" by 19-year-old Pat Ward, star witness for the prosecution, the juror denied he knew her.

Says Jurors in Fear

Jelke's attorney said both jurors were questioned privately by General Sessions Judge Francis L. Valente, who presided at the trial.

The questioning, Herz charged, "in effect placed the jurors in fear of exercising their free judgment and in effect constituted a coercion of the jurors and deprived the defendant of a trial by a fearless and impartial jury."

The prosecution's presentation of the trial was conducted behind closed doors, with press and public barred. Valente ruled that an open trial would be against public decency and morals. The brief defense testimony was open to the public.

Calls Trial Unfair

Herz termed the judge's action a "prejudicial error" which he said denied his client a fair and public trial.

Scheduled for release on the gun charges Oct. 6, Jelke must start serving time on the vice counts before the Appellate Division of the State Supreme Court passes on his appeal.

The higher court, Herz said, will not hear arguments until November. Pending appeal, Herz seeks Jelke's release on bail in custody of the young man's mother, Mrs. Ralph Teal.

A hearing on the motion was set for next Monday.

Herz's affidavit also said "a thorough search of the record fails to disclose any material evidence outside the polluted source of prostitutes' and accomplices' testimony."

Will Build Holy Land In State of Florida

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—Plans are underway for building in Florida a mile-square replica of the Holy Land — a permanent community featuring the ancient buildings and terrain and complete with camels, street bazaars, lakes and gardens.

As announced yesterday in the September issue of the Catholic Digest magazine, the two-million-dollar project "will be an exact, in-scale reproduction of the hills, the wayside, and the urban architecture of ancient Judea."

The project, organized by Broadway producer Eddie Dowling and associates, will be known as Holy Land, Inc. Backers include persons of various faiths.

Trucks Roll Again

Boston, Aug. 13 (AP)—Trucks began rolling in force today throughout southern New England with the settlement of a nine-day strike of 13,000 AFL drivers. An agreement was reached early yesterday and ratified during the day by members of 13 AFL teamster locals and by the employers. The new contract calls for an hourly wage of $1.67; a guarantee of 48 hours work per week; overtime after 40 hours; nine instead of seven holidays; regular pay plus time and a half for Sunday and holiday work; three weeks vacation on the 12th instead of 15th year; two weeks vacation after five years and one week after 150 days; eight cents of the increase to be retroactive to April 11; the owners to pay $2.40 a week beginning April 1, 1954 for a health and welfare fund to be administered by the union. Under the old contract, the drivers got $1.52 an hour with overtime rates beginning after 48 hours.

Naigles Endorses Tobacco Program, 'Swing Is Our Way'

A program designed to afford more than a million of the nation's retailers an opportunity to keep abreast of modern trends in streamlined consumer merchandising has been endorsed by Haskell Naigles of the Rosenbaum Company, wholesale tobacco distributors, 115 Green street, president of the New York Association of Tobacco Distributors and chairman of its membership committee.

Known as "Swing Is Our Way," the program will feature a merchandiser-refresher course for retailers, employing a realistic, graphic and visual technique. Training material which will be distributed by NATD, sponsor of the program, will illustrate pictorially the application of modern merchandising ideas.

The campaign will begin September 28, 1953, and terminate January 23, 1954, at which time four of the nation's outstanding retailers of tobacco and associated products will be selected for awards as retailers of the year.

Must Visit Parents

Freedom Village, Korea, Aug. 13 (AP)—One American soldier freed by the Communists today said he was asked to visit the parents of a prisoner who elected to stay behind and tell them he wants "no more of the American way of life." "I don't know how to explain it to them," said Cpl. Walter G. Adelman of Lockport, Ill. Adelman said nine men in Camp 1 chose to stay with the Communists. He did not identify the man whose parents he must see. "He thinks he is going to be great," Adelman said. "I just don't know how I can tell his folks what happened to him."

Two Ex-Convicts Are Arraigned on Two Indictments

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—Two ex-convicts, who allegedly were part of a six-man gang which preyed on theatres and taverns, were arraigned yesterday before Bronx County Judge Eugene Schulz on two eight-count robbery indictments and held in $100,000 bail each. No date was set for pleading.

The suspects are Lawrence Debe, 23, of 24-26 29th street, Astoria, Queens, and Herbert Frakt, 25, of 1239 Simpson street, the Bronx. They, along with a "John Doe" and a "Richard Doe," were indicted for the holdup last July 27 of the Dover Theatre, 174th street and Boston Road, the Bronx.

Police said only four of the six-man gang took part in the holdup, in which $395 was taken. Police are still seeking the two men mentioned but not named in the indictments.

Assistant Bronx District Attorney Lawrence Peltin said in court yesterday that the two men have admitted taking part in 14 holdups.

The two men were arrested the day after the theatre robbery, largely because a vacationing detective noted the license number of the getaway car before he realized a holdup had been committed.

Planes Are Delivered

Washington, Aug. 13 (AP)—Boeing Airplane Co. said today it is delivering to the air force two new plane types—one is called the world's fastest day or night long-range photo ship and the other a convertible bomber. Both are modifications of the B47 bomber. The photo plane, RB47E, is fitted with such equipment as light-operated camera shutters triggered by flashes, and air conditioning to keep lenses unclouded. The RB47B the company said, can be used as a bomber or converted for photographic use.

Gets Three Months For Carrying Food

Berlin, Aug. 13 (AP)—East German food-seekers brought word today of a three-month jail sentence given a Soviet zoner for bringing an American food parcel back from West Berlin. It was the first report here of such a penalty.

Arrivals from the Communist-held territory said a Brandenburg railway official, caught by the Communist police as he carried his package through the Potsdam rail station, was summarily tried and sentenced to three months in prison.

Border crossers told also of two new measures which have stirred up considerable resentment:

1. People's police handling the control point on East Berlin's Warsaw bridge seized dozens of packages and threw them into the Spree river.

2. Police checking all passes on trains are tearing up those which do not belong to the holder.

Many East Germans bring the passes of friends to pick up food packages for them. An East German who lacks an identity pass is in trouble. A new one costs him 30 marks—several days pay for the average worker—and loss of the old one means an additional fine of 30 marks.

In spite of the tight controls, those still coming over the border say most packages are being smuggled through.

The West has distributed almost two and a half million parcels since the distribution started July 27.

The current distribution is to end Saturday, but West Berlin officials say they plan to start up again Aug. 27.

Bus Terminal Planned

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—The City Planning Commission has before it today a proposal to build a three million dollar west side bus terminal building and garage that would accomodate airline buses operating between New York and Newark Airport. In an application submitted to the commission yesterday, the 10-42 Corp. said the building would be erected at the exits and entrances of the Lincoln Tunnel.

Farran 'Sees' Mistake

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—James Farran of Brooklyn has a check for $40,005 from a dry cleaning firm, but he'll still settle for $7.50 cash from a shirt they lost in the wash. "That," said Farran, "is what I call a settlement. But I'm sure it was a mistake." He got the check yesterday as recompense for loss of a $14.95 shirt.

FLYING TURK—Maj. Sahiba Gocken, Turkey's only woman combat pilot, arrives in the U. S. for advanced flight training. Daughter of Kemal Ataturk, founder of the Turkish Republic, she served as a fighter pilot during World War II.

Italy Turns to Pella In Financial Crisis

Rome, Aug. 13 (AP)—Italy turned today to Giuseppe Pella, a trusted financial expert in five cabinets, for help in her deepening government crisis.

The 51-year-old Christian Democrat, longtime ally of former Premier Alcide De Gasperi, was called to the summer home of President Luigi Einaudi for consultations.

Einaudi was expected to ask Pella to form a "business government"—a cabinet designed to push through a budget on which the politically confused nation can operate until a more permanent solution is found.

Italy was thrown into a new muddle yesterday when Christian Democrat Attilio Piccioni told the president he could not form a cabinet.

A "business" government apparently would be only a temporary cure. There was growing speculation that eventually Einaudi would have to call for new elections in hopes of getting the nation back to political stability.

Clinic Scheduled

A child health conference will be conducted by the Ulster County Department of Health at the health center in Stone Ridge from 9 to 11 a. m. on Wednesday, August 19. Transportation will be provided for those who have no way to reach the clinic, telephone 4743.

Payment Delayed

Goldsboro, N. C. (AP)—A nervous bridegroom has squared things with the minister who married him. Russell Edwards of Princeton, N. C., explained that just before the ceremony he slipped a bill into his pocket in order to pay the preacher. The ceremony done, Edwards fumbled in his pocket, pulled out something and slipped it to the preacher. He later discovered that the money was still in his pocket. He had given the parson a receipt he was carrying for his wedding suit. The money has been mailed to the minister.

Fire Moving Job

Ottawa, Kan. (AP)—When the fire trucks couldn't go to the fire, they brought the fire to the trucks. A diesel engine caught fire outside the city limits and the trucks were prohibited from leaving town. The railroad hooked a switch engine to the train and pulled it into the city limits where the firemen did their duty.

Two Ex-Convicts Are Arraigned on Two Indictments

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—Two ex-convicts, who allegedly were part of a six-man gang which preyed on theatres and taverns, were arraigned yesterday before Bronx County Judge Eugene Schulz on two eight-count robbery indictments and held in $100,000 bail each. No date was set for pleading.

The suspects are Lawrence Debe, 23, of 24-26 29th street, Astoria, Queens, and Herbert Frakt, 25, of 1239 Simpson street, the Bronx. They, along with a "John Doe" and a "Richard Doe," were indicted for the holdup last July 27 of the Dover Theatre, 174th street and Boston Road, the Bronx.

Police said only four of the six-man gang took part in the holdup, in which $395 was taken. Police are still seeking the two men mentioned but not named in the indictments.

Assistant Bronx District Attorney Lawrence Peltin said in court yesterday that the two men have admitted taking part in 14 holdups.

The two men were arrested the day after the theatre robbery, largely because a vacationing detective noted the license number of the getaway car before he realized a holdup had been committed.

Planes Are Delivered

Washington, Aug. 13 (AP)—Boeing Airplane Co. said today it is delivering to the air force two new plane types—one is called the world's fastest day or night long-range photo ship and the other a convertible bomber. Both are modifications of the B47 bomber. The photo plane, RB47E, is fitted with such equipment as light-operated camera shutters triggered by flashes, and air conditioning to keep lenses unclouded. The RB47B the company said, can be used as a bomber or converted for photographic use.

Gets Three Months For Carrying Food

Berlin, Aug. 13 (AP)—East German food-seekers brought word today of a three-month jail sentence given a Soviet zoner for bringing an American food parcel back from West Berlin. It was the first report here of such a penalty.

Arrivals from the Communist-held territory said a Brandenburg railway official, caught by the Communist police as he carried his package through the Potsdam rail station, was summarily tried and sentenced to three months in prison.

Border crossers told also of two new measures which have stirred up considerable resentment:

1. People's police handling the control point on East Berlin's Warsaw bridge seized dozens of packages and threw them into the Spree river.

2. Police checking all passes on trains are tearing up those which do not belong to the holder.

Many East Germans bring the passes of friends to pick up food packages for them. An East German who lacks an identity pass is in trouble. A new one costs him 30 marks—several days pay for the average worker—and loss of the old one means an additional fine of 30 marks.

In spite of the tight controls, those still coming over the border say most packages are being smuggled through.

The West has distributed almost two and a half million parcels since the distribution started July 27.

The current distribution is to end Saturday, but West Berlin officials say they plan to start up again Aug. 27.

Bus Terminal Planned

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—The City Planning Commission has before it today a proposal to build a three million dollar west side bus terminal building and garage that would accomodate airline buses operating between New York and Newark Airport. In an application submitted to the commission yesterday, the 10-42 Corp. said the building would be erected at the exits and entrances of the Lincoln Tunnel.

Farran 'Sees' Mistake

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—James Farran of Brooklyn has a check for $40,005 from a dry cleaning firm, but he'll still settle for $7.50 cash from a shirt they lost in the wash. "That," said Farran, "is what I call a settlement. But I'm sure it was a mistake." He got the check yesterday as recompense for loss of a $14.95 shirt.

FLYING TURK—Maj. Sahiba Gocken, Turkey's only woman combat pilot, arrives in the U. S. for advanced flight training. Daughter of Kemal Ataturk, founder of the Turkish Republic, she served as a fighter pilot during World War II.

Italy Turns to Pella In Financial Crisis

Rome, Aug. 13 (AP)—Italy turned today to Giuseppe Pella, a trusted financial expert in five cabinets, for help in her deepening government crisis.

The 51-year-old Christian Democrat, longtime ally of former Premier Alcide De Gasperi, was called to the summer home of President Luigi Einaudi for consultations.

Einaudi was expected to ask Pella to form a "business government"—a cabinet designed to push through a budget on which the politically confused nation can operate until a more permanent solution is found.

Italy was thrown into a new muddle yesterday when Christian Democrat Attilio Piccioni told the president he could not form a cabinet.

A "business" government apparently would be only a temporary cure. There was growing speculation that eventually Einaudi would have to call for new elections in hopes of getting the nation back to political stability.

Clinic Scheduled

A child health conference will be conducted by the Ulster County Department of Health at the health center in Stone Ridge from 9 to 11 a. m. on Wednesday, August 19. Transportation will be provided for those who have no way to reach the clinic, telephone 4743.

Payment Delayed

Goldsboro, N. C. (AP)—A nervous bridegroom has squared things with the minister who married him. Russell Edwards of Princeton, N. C., explained that just before the ceremony he slipped a bill into his pocket in order to pay the preacher. The ceremony done, Edwards fumbled in his pocket, pulled out something and slipped it to the preacher. He later discovered that the money was still in his pocket. He had given the parson a receipt he was carrying for his wedding suit. The money has been mailed to the minister.

Fire Moving Job

Ottawa, Kan. (AP)—When the fire trucks couldn't go to the fire, they brought the fire to the trucks. A diesel engine caught fire outside the city limits and the trucks were prohibited from leaving town. The railroad hooked a switch engine to the train and pulled it into the city limits where the firemen did their duty.

CHRISTOPHER GALLO

Pvt. Christopher P. Gallo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gallo of 48 Van Buren street, recently completed eight weeks of basic training at Fort Lewis, Wash., and is now attending an MP School at Fort Baker, Sausalito, Calif. He was inducted into the army May 7, 1953. He was formerly employed at The Mohican Company.

Completes Cruise

Seaman John H. Bentley, USN, son of Mrs. Catherine Bentley of 249 Clinton avenue, returned to his home port of Halifax, Nova Scotia, August 6, aboard the destroyer USS Perry. The ship was on a month's cruise with units of a hunter-killer task group which was commanded by Rear Admiral W. L. Erdmann, USN.

Teen-Agers Urged To Continue Study

Secretary of Labor Martin P. Durkin today called upon parents to encourage their teen-age youth to give up their summer jobs and return to school this fall.

"Last year a third of America's 16-and-17-year olds, 20 per cent more than in 1951, failed to return to school after taking summer jobs," the secretary said. "From 1944 until last fall, there had been a steady decline in the number of boys and girls who stayed out of school for work.

"I hope fathers and mothers will prevent a repetition of last year's increase in school stay-outs, for this is a serious problem. Young people are lured by plentiful jobs at good pay and fail to realize that by not finishing their education now, they jeopardize future earnings and advancement. Moreover, our country needs trained people and informed citizens in our efforts to build a free and peaceful world.

Census Figures

"Every year of schooling increases adult income. The 1950 census shows that men high-school graduates 25 years old and over averaged $752 more in 1949 than 8th-grade graduates, women, $675 more. High-school graduates make almost as much at 25 as 8th graders make at 45.

"Going to high school involves expense, but a suitable part-time job, school-work programs, or community student aid can help. Parents should not be misled by short-term opportunities for teenage jobs. They should think of the long haul and give their children the break that education affords."

Snuggle Dollies

Attends MP School

CHRISTOPHER GALLO

Pvt. Christopher P. Gallo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gallo of 48 Van Buren street, recently completed eight weeks of basic training at Fort Lewis, Wash., and is now attending an MP School at Fort Baker, Sausalito, Calif. He was inducted into the army May 7, 1953. He was formerly employed at The Mohican Company.

Completes Cruise

Seaman John H. Bentley, USN, son of Mrs. Catherine Bentley of 249 Clinton avenue, returned to his home port of Halifax, Nova Scotia, August 6, aboard the destroyer USS Perry. The ship was on a month's cruise with units of a hunter-killer task group which was commanded by Rear Admiral W. L. Erdmann, USN.

Teen-Agers Urged To Continue Study

Secretary of Labor Martin P. Durkin today called upon parents to encourage their teen-age youth to give up their summer jobs and return to school this fall.

"Last year a third of America's 16-and-17-year olds, 20 per cent more than in 1951, failed to return to school after taking summer jobs," the secretary said. "From 1944 until last fall, there had been a steady decline in the number of boys and girls who stayed out of school for work.

"I hope fathers and mothers will prevent a repetition of last year's increase in school stay-outs, for this is a serious problem. Young people are lured by plentiful jobs at good pay and fail to realize that by not finishing their education now, they jeopardize future earnings and advancement. Moreover, our country needs trained people and informed citizens in our efforts to build a free and peaceful world.

Census Figures

"Every year of schooling increases adult income. The 1950 census shows that men high-school graduates 25 years old and over averaged $752 more in 1949 than 8th-grade graduates, women, $675 more. High-school graduates make almost as much at 25 as 8th graders make at 45.

"Going to high school involves expense, but a suitable part-time job, school-work programs, or community student aid can help. Parents should not be misled by short-term opportunities for teenage jobs. They should think of the long haul and give their children the break that education affords."

Self-Dumping Lake

Anchorage, Alaska (AP)—Lake George, the unique self-dumping lake, has done it again. The annual emptying of the picturesque Chugach Mountains lake is a phenomenon of the ice. It is sealed with a barrier of ice each winter. As summer brings the big thaw, the barrier weakens gradually under the pressure of the mounting 26 mile long, 4 mile wide reservoir. The flow builds to river proportions, ripping out chunks of weakened ice the size of a small house and tossing them along in the torrent down a mountain gorge. This year, the breakup was nearly a month ahead of last year, due to the warm summer. The runoff raised the Knik and Matanuska rivers five feet and the rush of debris and ice threatened bridges and trestles. The lake is 50 miles north of Anchorage.

Try Peach Sundae Shortcake

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

During July and August more peaches are sold than any other fresh fruit. So let's make the most of our succulent opportunity.

For a superspecial dessert, use this fresh Elberta peach sundae shortcake. I learned about it on a recent food-news-gathering visit to the Piedmont section of South Carolina at the foot of the Blue Ridge Mountains. It's the largest fresh peach producing and shipping area in the United States.

Peach "Sundae" Shortcake
(Serves 6)

Four to five fresh Elberta peaches, ¼-½ cup sugar (depending on sweetness of peaches), 1 9-inch cake layer (white cake, sponge), 6 scoops ice cream (peach, lemon or vanilla).

Peel and dice peaches. Sprinkle with sugar and let stand 5 minutes. Arrange on top of cake. Place ice cream scoops in circle around center. Garnish center with a sprig of mint if desired. Serve cut in wedges with a scoop of ice cream on each piece.

Note: If desired top of cake may be spread with a thin layer of a lemon butter frosting before covering with peaches. If peaches must be prepared ahead of serving time, dip pieces in fresh lemon juice to prevent browning.

Here's a gala dinner: Blueberry and grapefruit cup, roast broiler-fryer chickens, watercress stuffing, giblet gravy, whipped potatoes, garden peas, corn sticks, butter or margarine, romaine lettuce salad, French dressing, fresh Elberta peach sundae shortcake, coffee.

Making Right Play Is Mark of Champ

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Today's hand is the sort that an expert never misplays. He makes the right play automatically, even if he is half asleep at the time, whereas the average player may sometimes make the wrong play even if he is wide awake at the time.

There is nothing magic about this difference. It's just a matter of having worked out the combination of cards once for all, after which the expert can recognize the situation without ever having to think about it again. Maybe if we work it out now, any reader who is uncertain about the correct play will be able to play this combination correctly for the rest of his life.

West opens the queen of clubs against the sound contract of four spades. South wins with the king of clubs and naturally decides to draw trumps immediately in order to safeguard his contract.

If South begins the trumps by leading the king or the queen, he is a dead duck. East will eventually get a trump trick, and South will surely also lose three heart tricks.

South's reasoning should go something like this: "I can easily draw the trumps unless one opponent has all four of them. If West has all four in this case, he is sure to win a trump trick, and there is nothing that I can do about it. Let's see what I can do if East has all four of the trumps."

After some thought, South sees that the correct plan is to begin the trumps by leading a low trump to dummy's ace. When West discards a club, the situation is quite clear. Dummy therefore returns a low trump, and East must play the ten (otherwise South would successfully finesse the nine of spades).

South must now get back to dummy with the king of diamonds in order to lead another trump through East. A finesse is sure to succeed since East has the jack-eight of spades and South has the king-nine. After taking this finesse, South can draw the last trump and claim ten tricks.

We can cover this situation with a general rule. If you are missing four trumps headed by the jack-ten, win the first trump trick in the hand that has a single high trump. This leaves you in position to take two finesses if it turns out that the appropriate defender has all four of the trumps. If the trumps break normally, no finesse is necessary; and if the wrong defender has all four trumps, you can do nothing about it.

Ripping Job

Raleigh, N. C. (AP)—The prisoner was known as "the Beaver," police told the judge, because of his talent for ripping his way into stores with his bare hands. He admitted tearing a hole in a jewelry store roof with his hands, climbing out again with $5,500 worth of watches. "Well," said the judge, "let him try his talent on some steel bars. Ten to eighteen years."

DeWitt and Darrow To Attend Courses

Deweese W. DeWitt, executive secretary and treasurer of Home-Seekers' Savings and Loan Association and H. Van Wyck Darrow, executive vice-president of the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston will leave on Saturday for Bloomington, Ind., to take a two weeks course at Indiana University sponsored by the American Savings and Loan Institute.

Classes include effective speech, human relations, economics, business management and advertising.

This is the first year for Darrow and the third and final year for DeWitt. As a requirement for graduation a thesis on some phase of Savings and Loan procedure is required and DeWitt has chosen the subject "A Successful Program for Reducing Delinquencies."

Washing powders are great for laundering dirty clothes but dishes aren't clothes. This new Lux Liquid Detergent is especially designed for dishwashing. One canful of this new Lux Liquid Detergent will wash more dishes than several boxes of the most popular laundry powder... And Lux Liquid Detergent is almost as mild as Lux Toilet Soap.

JUDGING from the way this new Lux Liquid Detergent is selling, an awful lot of women have stopped "laundering" their dishes with laundry powder.

Here's why: this can in your kitchen is the next best thing to a dishwashing machine.

Lux Liquid Detergent literally soaks dishes clean. Gets between the clinging grease and the dish. Dissolves the grease. For fast, efficient dishwashing—with or without wiping—no powder can touch it.

It's pre-dissolved. It smells wonderful. And it's almost as mild as Lux Toilet Soap.

Will you try it? There's a money-back Lever Brothers guarantee, of course. But we really believe you'll love it.

Though They're All Crippled They Are All 'Good Scouts'

One of the most unusual Girl Scout troops anywhere in the world is located in Topeka, Kan., at the Capper Foundation for Crippled Children. Eleven girls, all receiving special therapy for various crippling ailments, now belong to Topeka Girl Scout Troop No. 9. Their troop leader, Mrs. Herbert J. Schlesinger, says the girls are far more active than their braces and wheel chairs would seem to permit. "And do these girls keep me busy thinking up things for them to do?" Mrs. Schlesinger says. "They want to go on wheel-chair hikes, they want to cook out of doors, and do everything else other Girl Scouts do. They're an energetic group even though they are crippled." At a recent day camp in one of Topeka's wooded parks, some of the 11 troop members roamed the area in wheel chairs while others on crutches and with braces helped out. The entire philosophy of the troop's leaders is to treat each girl just "as though she was the same as any other girl." Recenly the girls had an outdor cook-out back of the foundation's headquarters building. They also learn to cook in the foundation's kitchen. It takes a little longer han for most girls, but the results are sometimes surprisingly better. The experiment in better living is working out better than the fondest hopes of Mrs. Louise A. Scott, executive director of Topeka Girl Scouts, when she founded the troop six years ago. "Besides the obvious unusual aspect of the troop," Mrs. Scott said, "there are some other things that cause the troop to be unusual. One of these is the fact that there are several age groups in the one troop. And we have had boys in the troop. And I don't mean Boy Scouts," Mrs. Scott pointed out, "I mean real Girl Scouts. These boys were at the foundation center and were included right along with the girls." The Capper Foundation for Crippled Children was founded in 1920 by the late U. S. Sen. Arthur Capper of Kansas. When he died two years ago, his will disclosed he had left a quarter of a million dollars to the foundation.

Mrs. Herbert J. Schlesinger (behind flag) pins the Girl Scout emblem on Sherry Moore while other members of Troop 9 watch from wheel chairs or especially built therapeutic chairs.

Girl Scouts at the Capper Foundation for Crippled Children do a little baking. They do a good job, even though many use crutches or wear cumbersome leg braces.

Engineers Report Sewage Problem

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—Professional engineers of New York city today asked Congress to stop the U. S. Military Academy and other government installations from discharging untreated sewage into waters in the metropolitan area.

The New York Chapter of the New York State Society of Professional Engineers, Inc., petitioned New York state members of Congress to initiate legislation for the construction of sewage treatment plants to abate pollution from federal establishments here.

The engineers singled out five federal installations as offenders. They named the Military Academy, Governors Island, Ellis Island, Hoffman Island and Swinburne Island.

"New York metropolitan beaches and harbor areas are continually threatened by pollution from federal installations which are beyond control of existing city and state agencies," the engineers said.

They charged that the discharge of untreated sewage from the federal establishments constitute "a contribution to a grave menace to the health, welfare and recreational facilities" of the metropolitan area.

Fish to Fry

Aurora, Colo. (AP)—C. E. Tupps, mayor of this Denver suburb, is a beef raiser by trade and didn't know what exactly to do with the 200 pounds of fish he and his wife caught during a Gulf of California vacation. Then he hit upon a solution—a free fish fry for city employes and their families at the fire hall. About 150 showed up.

Rear Adm. Ralph Earl of Springfield, Mass., chief of the U. S. Navy section in Greece, left in an amphibian plane with Charles Yost, U. S. Charge D'Affaires, for Patras to set up a headquarters to coordinate all American aid and rescue efforts. Yost ordered the heads of all three U. S. Missions to Greece—diplomatic, economic and military—"to put aside all other work and concentrate all efforts on plans to assist the Grek government and the Red Cross in coping with the disaster."

U. S. Will Give Help

Maj. Gen. Charles Hart, chief of the U. S. Military Mission, assured the Greek government that all U. S. equipment and supplies would be made available for the emergency.

The U. S. carrier Roosevelt was standing off Italy. The heavy cruiser Salem, flagship of the U. S. 6th Fleet, already is at Argostolion.

The Greek Navy Ministry ordered all its ships to stand by ready to steam to the island. A battalion of Greek engineers made ready to go to Zakynthos.

Adm. Lord Mountbatten, NATO naval commander in the Mediterranean, flew from Malta for Argostolion, a former British naval base.

FBI Is Checking Gasoline Price Rise

Washington, Aug. 13 (AP)—The Justice Department said today the FBI is being used "in some aspects" of an investigation the anti-trust division is making into retail gasoline prices.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Staneley A. Barnes, who heads the division, said FBI agents were assigned to the matter some time ago.

The department is seeking to find out if there was any collusion among gasoline companies in connection with a recent general advance in prices east of the Rocky mountains.

Barnes told Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) in a letter made public by the latter last week that it appeared market leaders had put up their prices and other concerns followed suit.

higher income families, because they pay more income taxes and thus get a bigger dollar reduction.

Ruml Gives Opinion

Washington, Aug. 13 (AP)—Beardsley Ruml says the government could repeal most federal excise taxes and lower other taxes if it scaled down its estimated revenue requirements to what he considers actually necessary.

The author of the pay-as-you-go income tax plan made his suggestion to the House Ways and Means Committee yesterday as it neared the end of hearings on general revision of the tax laws.

Ruml told the committee that the present system of budget-figuring overstates federal revenue requirements by 12 billion dollars a year because of:

1. Lack of efficiency and economy, which he said is costing two billion dollars a year.

2. "Improper" inclusion of two billion dollars of capital items—such as government loans, stockpiling payments, and surplus purchases—as government expense when, he said, they actually are "revenue producing assets."

On Self-Financing Basis

3. Four billion dollars worth of investments which he said could be organized on a self-financing basis under "authorities" similar to state agencies which operate toll highways or port facilities.

4. Four billion dollars which he contended could be saved by abolishing the present so-called federal budget in favor of a consolidated cash budget.

Ruml asserted that such procedural changes, with a reduction in estimated tax requirements amounting to 12 billion dollars, would more than offset the loss of three or four billion dollars realized annually by excise taxes now collected on a wide variety of things.

"With budget reform it is apparent that other taxes can also be reduced," Ruml added.

He excluded alcoholic beverages, tobacco and gasoline from items on which he said excise taxes should be removed immediately. He said they required "special consideration."

Military Ceremony Held at St. Joseph's

Miss Jacquelyn Ann Steuding became the bride of Ensign Marshall Weston Cone at a military wedding held Tuesday, Aug. 11 at a nuptial Mass in St. Joseph's Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Steuding, 93 Lucas avenue, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell T. Cone of North Muskegon, Mich. The Rev. John D. Simmons performed the 11 a. m. ceremony.

Miss Marguerite Flaherty sang On This Day, Oh Beautiful Mother; Mother Beloved; Oh, Lord I Am Not Worthy and Ave Maria. Mrs. Frank W. Rafferty was organist. The church was decorated with white gladioli and white satin bows at the pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of peau d'ange lace and tulle over bridal satin, fashioned with a bateau neckline, molded bodice and long, tapered sleeves. Her bouffant floor length skirt was paneled in lace and tulle. A crown with pearl studded orange blossoms secured her finger tip French illusion veil. She carried orchids and swansonia on a white prayer book.

BEST TO ASK ABOUT MARKING

A letter in this morning's mail explains: "I want to give a bride who lives at a distance a piece of silver, and would like to send it on to her properly marked, because I think a gift of silver looks unfinished without marking. I don't, however, know the kind of marking she likes, nor what initials she is using. With so little information to go by, do you think I should send the piece plain and let her take care of the markings?"

Ask her how she is having her silver marked and maybe she can send a sketch of the kind of initials she prefers.

Too Many Cookies

Dear Mrs. Post: I baked cookies for two church functions we had this past winter and apparently they made a hit because now every time they have a charitable function, I am asked by the committee in charge of refreshments to bake cookies for the food booth. I am a very outgiving person and like nothing better than to give to others, but this really is becoming a hardship both in cost and time—and frankly I cannot keep up with it. What can I say to these ladies when I am asked to bake without seeming uncharitable?

Answer: Tell them exactly what you have told me and they'll surely understand.

When to Omit "Mr."

Dear Mrs. Post: My boy friend and I have been having an argument as to the correct way for a man to give his name both over the telephone and when introducing himself to someone. In other words, does he announce himself as Mr. Joe Doe, or John Doe?

Answer: He gives his name both over the telephone and when introducing himself as John Doe. If he is calling a customer of the company he works for he says, "Mr. Doe of the X company."

Hand-Written Invitations

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married soon and as we are having only about 50 guests at the wedding, I am going to write the invitations by hand instead of having them engraved. I would like to know if I may use colored stationery or if it has to be white?

Answer: For a wedding it must be white!

Should a lady offer her hand when greeting friends, or on being introduced? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Heads New Committee

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt shown in Washington, D. C., as she announces that she has accepted the national chairmanship of National Issues Committee, which she described as a non-partisan information and education group. Mrs. Roosevelt added that "strongly organized forces" are trying to destroy international cooperative efforts by the United States and endangering welfare at home.

Bodice of Dress Has Mermaid Look

BY GAILE DUGAS, NEA Woman's Editor

Idea behind he fairly wide use of the full skirt is that a woman wants the circulation of air during hot weather. The sheath, of course is settling down into classic fashion, acceptable the year around and very smart for summer in black.

There's a third story in dressy separates, those handy tops and skirts that lead lives of infinite variety. These are worn increasingly for patio and terrace during the day as well as for informal dinners and parties in the evening. They are liked by shrewd shoppers since one top may do for wear with several skirts. They eliminate problems of fit and create endless possibilities for color manipulation.

To return to the sheath, many of these are marked by the high neck and low back. There are also many scoop necks, halters, and more camisole tops in preference to straplessness.

Stoles and waist-length cardigans are popular as cover-ups. Stoles may be oblong, triangular or gently rounded, and sweaters get all manner of trim, from ribbon to pearls and diamante. Many of these sweaters are dyed to match the cotton dresses with which they're worn.

Knights' Picnic Is Planned for Sept. 6

Kingston Council 275, Knights of Columbus, will hold its 10th annual picnic at Spring Lake, Lucas avenue extension, Sunday, Sept. 6, it was announced today by Grand Knight Kenneth T. Clark. Grounds will be open at 1 p. m. and the picnic will continue until dark.

As in former years, buses will run regular trips to the picnic grounds from St. Mary's Church, St. Joseph's Church and the Central Post Office at half hour intervals. There will be many events for the children, including pony rides, a merry-go-round and games.

Members of the Knights are asked to make returns on the tickets they have received as soon as possible. In case of rain, the picnic will be held on Labor Day, Sept. 7, at Spring Lake.

Currents are so fierce around Cape Hatteras because Arctic waters and the warm Gulf Stream collide there.

Young Protests

1) Ulster county growers of wheat have been cut by about 35 per cent on acreage, whereas the cut for the entire nation is about 20 per cent. Ulster county is an area where much more wheat is used than is produced. This cut in acreage in this territory not only penalizes the wheat grower but all other farmers who feed wheat to their stock, as the buyer must bear transportation costs on shipped in wheat. Therefore the allotment for this county should be higher than the national average, not lower.

2) No wheat in Ulster county has been placed under government loan in 1953. We can market our own grain, or store it, and do. Why should we be forced to reduce our own acreage to support a government loan program which we do not use?

Says Canadian Wheat Sold

3) Feed dealers assure me that a number of carloads of Canadian wheat have been marketed in Ulster county in 1953. This wheat has been purchased by the dealers at a lower price than they pay for homegrown grain. Can our government, in good faith, ask, nay demand that the wheat growers of Ulster county drastically reduce their wheat acreage, and thus their incomes, when at the same time they allow cheap foreign wheat to be imported and marketed under our very noses?

4) Whenever there are hungry people in the world, and there are at this time, is it just, humane, or wise to restrict food production in any manner? Why cannot we sell them some of our surpluses at a price which they can afford to pay?

Thinks of Taxpayer

5) Furthermore, I believe that the United States government should end the excessively high subsidization of the farmer and let him stand on his own feet. Agriculture must solve its own problems and not forever lean on the taxpayer if we are to have a free, sound economy in this country.

I therefore ask you gentlemen of the county committee to protest our Ulster county wheat allotment to the New York State Committee and to the United States secretary of agriculture.

Fewer Marriages

Canberra (AP)—Fewer Australians married in 1952, but government statistics show they married younger. Last year there were 74,172 marriages, the lowest total for three years. But the average age of bridegrooms was 28.74 years, and that of brides 25.61, compared with 28.92 and 25.71 in 1951. Two hundred and six girls of 15 years and under married last year, including one girl of 13. The boys were more cautious. They waited until they were 16 at least.

Heads New Committee

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt shown in Washington, D. Mrs. Roosevelt added that "strongly organized forces" are trying to destroy international cooperative efforts by the United States and endangering welfare at home.

Bodice of Dress Has Mermaid Look

BY GAILE DUGAS, NEA Woman's Editor

Idea behind he fairly wide use of the full skirt is that a woman wants the circulation of air during hot weather. The sheath, of course is settling down into classic fashion, acceptable the year around and very smart for summer in black.

There's a third story in dressy separates, those handy tops and skirts that lead lives of infinite variety. These are worn increasingly for patio and terrace during the day as well as for informal dinners and parties in the evening. They are liked by shrewd shoppers since one top may do for wear with several skirts. They eliminate problems of fit and create endless possibilities for color manipulation.

To return to the sheath, many of these are marked by the high neck and low back. There are also many scoop necks, halters, and more camisole tops in preference to straplessness.

Stoles and waist-length cardigans are popular as cover-ups. Stoles may be oblong, triangular or gently rounded, and sweaters get all manner of trim, from ribbon to pearls and diamante. Many of these sweaters are dyed to match the cotton dresses with which they're worn.

There are many embroideries, appliques, checked ginghams and prints in cottons. And embroideries are used in linen as well.

Knights' Picnic Is Planned for Sept. 6

Kingston Council 275, Knights of Columbus, will hold its 10th annual picnic at Spring Lake, Lucas avenue extension, Sunday, Sept. 6, it was announced today by Grand Knight Kenneth T. Clark. Grounds will be open at 1 p. m. and the picnic will continue until dark.

As in former years, buses will run regular trips to the picnic grounds from St. Mary's Church, St. Joseph's Church and the Central Post Office at half hour intervals. There will be many events for the children, including pony rides, a merry-go-round and games.

All members of the Knights of Columbus, their families and friends are cordially invited to attend this affair.

Members of the Knights are asked to make returns on the tickets they have received as soon as possible. In case of rain, the picnic will be held on Labor Day, Sept. 7, at Spring Lake.

Currents are so fierce around Cape Hatteras because Arctic waters and the warm Gulf Stream collide there.

Young Protests

1) Ulster county growers of wheat have been cut by about 35 per cent on acreage, whereas the cut for the entire nation is about 20 per cent. Ulster county is an area where much more wheat is used than is produced. This cut in acreage in this territory not only penalizes the wheat grower but all other farmers who feed wheat to their stock, as the buyer must bear transportation costs on shipped in wheat. Therefore the allotment for this county should be higher than the national average, not lower.

2) No wheat in Ulster county has been placed under government loan in 1953. We can market our own grain, or store it, and do. Why should we be forced to reduce our own acreage to support a government loan program which we do not use?

Says Canadian Wheat Sold

3) Feed dealers assure me that a number of carloads of Canadian wheat have been marketed in Ulster county in 1953. This wheat has been purchased by the dealers at a lower price than they pay for homegrown grain. Can our government, in good faith, ask, nay demand that the wheat growers of Ulster county drastically reduce their wheat acreage, and thus their incomes, when at the same time they allow cheap foreign wheat to be imported and marketed under our very noses?

4) Whenever there are hungry people in the world, and there are at this time, is it just, humane, or wise to restrict food production in any manner? Why cannot we sell them some of our surpluses at a price which they can afford to pay?

Thinks of Taxpayer

5) Furthermore, I believe that the United States government should end the excessively high subsidization of the farmer and let him stand on his own feet. Agriculture must solve its own problems and not forever lean on the taxpayer if we are to have a free, sound economy in this country.

I therefore ask you gentlemen of the county committee to protest our Ulster county wheat allotment to the New York State Committee and to the United States secretary of agriculture.

Fewer Marriages

Canberra (AP)—Fewer Australians married in 1952, but government statistics show they married younger. Last year there were 74,172 marriages, the lowest total for three years. But the average age of bridegrooms was 28.74 years, and that of brides 25.61, compared with 28.92 and 25.71 in 1951. Two hundred and six girls of 15 years and under married last year, including one girl of 13. The boys were more cautious. They waited until they were 16 at least.

Jones Dairy Defeats Merchants, 3-2, to Take Over First Place

Red Hinkley Squelches Big Threat in Seventh

Jones Dairy's resurgent nine moved into first place in the City Baseball League yesterday and there is a strong suspicion that they will not be dislodged for the remainder of the second round.

Highly underrated Bruce "Red" Hinkley got the decision over Zeke Klosterman and the Colonial Merchants, 3 to 2, in a fast moving thriller that dumped the losers into a second place tie with Wiltwyck Motors at 3 wins and 2 losses.

With a 4-1 record and resembling the Dairy teams of yesteryear, Manager Schatzel's squad shapes up as the team to beat for the 1953 crown.

Hinkley allowed only three hits yesterday but had to fight hard in the clutches. He responded magnificently to a seventh inning challenge by the Merchants and ended the game by starting a unique double play, pitcher-third baseman-first baseman. Manager Schatzel made a spectacular leaping catch of Nippy Jones' relay across the diamond for the second half of the twin killing.

Klosterman was equally adamant and it took a pair of unearned tallies to swing the tide for the Dairymen. He permitted six hits and fanned four to Hinkley's three. Neither pitcher allowed a walk.

Merchants Make Bid

The Merchants made a last desperate bid in the seventh but Specs Ebelheiser's failure to move two runners on a bunt proved fatal. Ward Dunham led off with a single to center, only the third hit off Hinkley and Tom Carlino let Chuck Engle's rocket sail through his legs on a potential DP play to put runners on first and second with none out.

Jones Dairy moved into a set position for a forceout at third base and the Merchants moved right into the trap. Nippy Jones, the third sacker, stayed anchored while Manager Schatzel moved in to cover the bunt. Ebelheiser bunted straight at the oncoming mgr. and Lou Singer, running for Dunham, was a dead duck at third base. Joe Carlino then rapped a sharp grounder to Hinkley, who tossed to Jones at third and Nippy fired across the diamond to get Carlino for the DP and third out.

Jones Lead 3-0

Jones led 3-0 in their half of the second. Sal Misasi tripled over Eric Goercke's head in deep center and scored when Rybinacker booted Van Loan's grounder. Hinkley singled to right sending Van Loan to third and the Dairyman continued home when Engle's relay from the outfield took a weird hop over Baumer's head at third base. That was the end of the Jones scoring for the day but Hinkley courageously made it stand up.

The Merchants made it 3-2 in the fifth when Joe Carlino tripled to right center and scored on Bill DuBois' fly to center.

Big Sal Misasi and Tom Carlino had two hits apiece for the Joneses, Misasi getting a fluke double in addition to his booming triple. Carlino had two singles.

Major League Batters Head For All-Time Homer Records

By BEN PHLEGAR

The major leagues are two-thirds of the way through a fence busting campaign that threatens to endanger a flock of modern home run records.

At least five already have been equalled or broken. The National League is well on the road to a new all-time seasonal total. Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee is keeping close to Babe Ruth's 1927 pace—the year Babe clouted his never-equalled 60.

One mark was tied and one surpassed last night.

At St. Louis Ray Boone hit a bases loaded homer in the ninth inning, providing the winning margin as Detroit beat the Browns 7-3. It was his fourth grand slam drive of the season, tieing a major league record shared by nine other players including Ruth (in his Boston Red Sox days of 1919), Lou Gehrig and Ralph Kiner.

Yanks Extend Record

At Washington Yogi Berra homered in the first inning of the New York Yankees' 22-1 landslide against the Senators for the Yankees' 100th homer of the season—the 30th year since 1920 that the Yanks have hit 100 or more. No other club comes close to this all-time mark.

The other records equalled or erased this season include:

Most seasons of 100 or more homers by a National League club—22 by the New York Giants who have 122 to date. (Old mark 21 by the Giants).

Most homers in five consecutive games—20 by the St. Louis Browns (old mark 17 by the Yankees).

Consecutive home runs in an inning—three by the St. Louis Browns (equals a record held by numerous teams).

Snider Grand Slams

Grand slam home runs played vital roles in two National League games yesterday. At New York Duke Snider blasted his second bases-loaded drive in three games as the Dodgers came from behind to nip the Giants 6-5. And at Chicago Andy Seminick cleared the bases with a homer in the ninth for the winning margin as Cincinnati whipped the Cubs 10-6. The Cubs won the second game of the doubleheader 3-1.

The Yankees' lop-sided victory increased their league lead to seven games over the Chicago White Sox who lost to Cleveland 7-4. Boston beat Philadelphia 3-2 in 10 innings.

Braves Keep Rolling

Milwaukee clipped half a game off Brooklyn's lead — now seven games — by winning a doubleheader from St. Louis 8-2 and 5-3. Robin Roberts became the first pitcher of the season to win 20 games as Philadelphia beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 8-4.

In their last dozen games Washington pitchers had yielded only 16 runs. The Yankees smashed this mark to bits with a 28 hit barrage, highest in either league this season.

Of the nine home runs yesterday five came in the National League, running the senior circuit total to 867 for the year. The all-time record is 1,100 in the National League in 1950. American Leaguers have hit 642 this season, slightly off their record 1950 pace when they totalled 973.

Ostrom Poughkeepsie Choice For Series Opener Saturday

Veteran Southpaw Has Five Straight

Billy "The Kid" Ostrom, veteran southpaw pitcher, will be on the mound for the Poughkeepsie All Stars Saturday night when they oppose the Colonials at municipal stadium in the first game of the Hudson Valley semi-pro baseball series.

The Colonials meet the Newburgh Jewels at the Hill City on Sunday at 2:30 p. m.

Ostrom, the peerless southpaw who performed brilliantly for the pre-war Recreations, while of an age when he justly earned his nickname, now is a seasoned performer who has lost none of his pitching acumen or his feared ability.

Wins Five Straight

The Poughkeepsians, undefeated in five games this season, will have Dick Whitesell on the firing line against the Newburgh Jewels in the Bridge City opener Sunday night at 8:30.

Whitesell, former football great at Syracuse when he was a running mate of Tommy Maines, is manager of the Poughkeepsie squad which is stamped by most observers as the team to beat in the round robin competition for the valley diadem.

Ostrom requested that he be given the starting assignment at the stadium, for although he turned in some memorable games for the Recreations, he still is the target of some of the bleacherites, who delight in making him the subject of barbed remarks. This was especially evident when Kingston fans journeyed to Poughkeepsie for some of those hotly contested Colonial League clashes of bygone years.

"I want Kingston," Ostrom told Whitesell. And the manager was quick to agree for the fabulous lefthander has been brilliant in his five winning efforts to date.

The Ostrom Record

Here's the Ostrom record:

Washington Pilots 3, Poughkeepsie 4. A five-hitter for Billy, who walked three and struck out seven. Two runs were earned.

Georgia Chain Gang 1, Poughkeepsie 4. In this game Ostrom didn't yield an earned run and scattered eight hits. He walked two and struck out seven.

New York Giant Rookies 2, Poughkeepsie 11. The All Stars breezed to victory as Ostrom walked five and fanned seven on an eight-hit job.

Thus in five straight victories, Ostrom has yielded 11 runs (seven of them earned); has given 33 hits, 11 walks and fanned 35 in 45 innings, starting and finishing each game.

With Ostrom in such rare form, Manager Whitesell has not made an appearance with the team in its Sunday contests. But hurling for the PAL squad in the Poughkeepsie Twilight League, Dick has been the best flinger in the circuit, as is attested by the team's record of 13-2, tops for the loop.

Tiger Outfielder Felled by Pitch

St. Louis, Aug. 13 (AP)—Detroit outfielder Jim Delsing, struck with a pitched ball in the fourth inning of last night's game with the St. Louis Browns, was resting comfortably and "doing well" at Jewish Hospital today.

Veteran southpaw Harry (The Cat) Brecheen tossed the pitch that felled the 27-year-old former Brownie.

Delsing crumbled unconscious at the plate but was revived in the Detroit clubhouse.

Canadian-Owned Horse Wins in Three Heats

Goshen, Aug. 13 (AP)—A 29-year-old Vermont farm boy, who seven years ago literally begged for a job, today was the toast of light harness horse racing after driving a finely tuned filly to victory in the richest of all Hambletonian stakes.

Harry Harvey brought the Canadian-owned Helicopter home first in the second and third heats of the $117,117.98 buggy whip derby yesterday at Good Time Park to become the youngest driver ever to win the classic.

And in winning the third and deciding heat, Harvey beat 71-year-old Tom Berry, the man who finally tired of discouraging the youngster and gave him a job. Five years with the old master and Harvey switched to a job as fourth string driver with trainer-driver Del Miller.

"Del gave me a fine filly and I was lucky," said the modest New England horseman after winning the second mile in 2:02 4/5 and the third in 2:02 3/5.

Helicopter, daughter of Hoot Mon, 1947 Hambletonian winner and ninth filly to win the classic, was purchased as two-year-old for $7,500 by the Canadian road-building brothers, J. Elgin and C. E. Armstrong of Brampton, Ont., from Miller and the latter's partner, Johnny Simpson.

She was foaled at Menges Mills, Pa., and sold by Richard Hoke as a weanling to the Castleton Farm for $1150. Miller and Simpson took her out of Castleton yearling sales for $2,000. The Canadians turned the filly over to Miller to train.

Hanover Fastest

Morse Hanover turned in the fastest time of 2:01 3/5 in winning the first heat for W. C. Evans' Milkway Farm of Rockville Center, N. Y.—a heat in which Helicopter wound up 17th in the record field of 23 three-year-old trotters.

In winning the third mile, young Harvey beat out Berry, driving Kimberly Kid for Leonard Buck's Allwood Stable of Far Hills, N. J., and but for a break in stride near the finish, Berry might have beaten the man to whom he gave a job after receiving a half-dozen letters and answering none of them.

Second money of $22,955.12 went to Morse Hanover. Third share of the purse, $13,773.07, was won by Margaret Critchfield's Singing Sword of Wooster, Ohio, with Miller handling the reins. Singing Sword wound up second in the first mile and third in the next two.

Harvey Pointer First

Westbury, Aug. 13 (AP)—Harvey Pointer, owned and driven by Jack Brown of Macon, Ga., scored a half length victory last night over Henley's Mc in the Huntington Pace at Roosevelt Raceway. Brown took Harvey Pointer to the top at the three quarters, then held off the late rally of Henley's Mc., who closed gamely along the rail. Scamper Home was third. The time for the mile was 2:06.1. Harvey Pointer returned $9.50 for $2.

Hitsman Heads Rhinebeck Field

The leading dirt track driver in the area, Hitsman finished third in the 50-lap feature last week. He was Mutual's champion in 1952 and is a threat to retain his crown.

Saturday's program consists of seven big events capped by the 30-lap feature. Other stars to appear with Hitsman are Stan and Bob Disbrow, Doug Garrison, Doc Carlson, Bill Secor, Hal McCarty and Ken Gootermote.

New Hogan Personality Pleases Jersey Fans

Jamesburg, N. J., Aug. 13 (AP)—Ben Hogan showed a new face yesterday. The bantam Texan, fabled for his stony faced, methodical play, yesterday shot a Forsgate Country Club course exhibition match with a smile.

Some 5,500 spectators, who surged against ropes and guards to get a close look, saw the U. S. and British Open champ do the 71-par course in a 35-34-69.

Jones Dairy Defeats Merchants, 3-2, to Take Over First Place

Red Hinkley Squelches Big Threat in Seventh

Jones Dairy's resurgent nine moved into first place in the City Baseball League yesterday and there is a strong suspicion that they will not be dislodged for the remainder of the second round.

Highly underrated Bruce "Red" Hinkley got the decision over Zeke Klosterman and the Colonial Merchants, 3 to 2, in a fast moving thriller that dumped the losers into a second place tie with Wiltwyck Motors at 3 wins and 2 losses.

With a 4-1 record and resembling the Dairy teams of yesteryear, Manager Schatzel's squad shapes up as the team to beat for the 1953 crown.

Hinkley allowed only three hits yesterday but had to fight hard in the clutches. He responded magnificently to a seventh inning challenge by the Merchants and ended the game by starting a unique double play, pitcher-third baseman-first baseman. Manager Schatzel made a spectacular leaping catch of Nippy Jones' relay across the diamond for the second half of the twin killing.

Klosterman was equally adamant and it took a pair of unearned tallies to swing the tide for the Dairymen. He permitted six hits and fanned four to Hinkley's three. Neither pitcher allowed a walk.

Merchants Make Bid

The Merchants made a last desperate bid in the seventh but Specs Ebelheiser's failure to move two runners on a bunt proved fatal. Ward Dunham led off with a single to center, only the third hit off Hinkley and Tom Carlino let Chuck Engle's rocket sail through his legs on a potential DP play to put runners on first and second with none out.

Jones Dairy moved into a set position for a forceout at third base and the Merchants moved right into the trap. Nippy Jones, the third sacker, stayed anchored while Manager Schatzel moved in to cover the bunt. Ebelheiser bunted straight at the oncoming mgr. and Lou Singer, running for Dunham, was a dead duck at third base. Joe Carlino then rapped a sharp grounder to Hinkley, who tossed to Jones at third and Nippy fired across the diamond to get Carlino for the DP and third out.

The winners stung Klosterman early, racking up a run in the first inning when Schatzel got a life on Felipe's bobble and scored on singles by Tom Carlino and Nippy Jones.

Jones Lead 3-0

Jones led 3-0 in their half of the second. Sal Misasi tripled over Eric Goercke's head in deep center and scored when Rybinacker booted Van Loan's grounder. Hinkley singled to right sending Van Loan to third and the Dairyman continued home when Engle's relay from the outfield took a weird hop over Baumer's head at third base. That was the end of the Jones scoring for the day but Hinkley courageously made it stand up.

The Merchants made it 3-2 in the fifth when Joe Carlino tripled to right center and scored on Bill DuBois' fly to center.

Big Sal Misasi and Tom Carlino had two hits apiece for the Joneses, Misasi getting a fluke double in addition to his booming triple. Carlino had two singles.

Major League Batters Head For All-Time Homer Records

By BEN PHLEGAR

The major leagues are two-thirds of the way through a fence busting campaign that threatens to endanger a flock of modern home run records.

At least five already have been equalled or broken. The National League is well on the road to a new all-time seasonal total. Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee is keeping close to Babe Ruth's 1927 pace—the year Babe clouted his never-equalled 60.

One mark was tied and one surpassed last night.

At St. Louis Ray Boone hit a bases loaded homer in the ninth inning, providing the winning margin as Detroit beat the Browns 7-3. It was his fourth grand slam drive of the season, tieing a major league record shared by nine other players including Ruth (in his Boston Red Sox days of 1919), Lou Gehrig and Ralph Kiner.

Yanks Extend Record

At Washington Yogi Berra homered in the first inning of the New York Yankees' 22-1 landslide against the Senators for the Yankees' 100th homer of the season—the 30th year since 1920 that the Yanks have hit 100 or more. No other club comes close to this all-time mark.

The other records equalled or erased this season include:

Most seasons of 100 or more homers by a National League club—22 by the New York Giants who have 122 to date. (Old mark 21 by the Giants).

Most homers in five consecutive games—20 by the St. Louis Browns (old mark 17 by the Yankees).

Consecutive home runs in an inning—three by the St. Louis Browns (equals a record held by numerous teams).

Snider Grand Slams

Grand slam home runs played vital roles in two National League games yesterday. At New York Duke Snider blasted his second bases-loaded drive in three games as the Dodgers came from behind to nip the Giants 6-5. And at Chicago Andy Seminick cleared the bases with a homer in the ninth for the winning margin as Cincinnati whipped the Cubs 10-6. The Cubs won the second game of the doubleheader 3-1.

The Yankees' lop-sided victory increased their league lead to seven games over the Chicago White Sox who lost to Cleveland 7-4. Boston beat Philadelphia 3-2 in 10 innings.

Braves Keep Rolling

Milwaukee clipped half a game off Brooklyn's lead — now seven games — by winning a doubleheader from St. Louis 8-2 and 5-3. Robin Roberts became the first pitcher of the season to win 20 games as Philadelphia beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 8-4.

In their last dozen games Washington pitchers had yielded only 16 runs. The Yankees smashed this mark to bits with a 28 hit barrage, highest in either league this season.

Of the nine home runs yesterday five came in the National League, running the senior circuit total to 867 for the year. The all-time record is 1,100 in the National League in 1950. American Leaguers have hit 642 this season, slightly off their record 1950 pace when they totalled 973.

Ostrom Poughkeepsie Choice For Series Opener Saturday

Veteran Southpaw Has Five Straight

Billy "The Kid" Ostrom, veteran southpaw pitcher, will be on the mound for the Poughkeepsie All Stars Saturday night when they oppose the Colonials at municipal stadium in the first game of the Hudson Valley semi-pro baseball series.

Game time is 8:30 p. m. in the inaugural of the round robin playoff involving Kingston, Newburgh and Poughkeepsie.

The Colonials meet the Newburgh Jewels at the Hill City on Sunday at 2:30 p. m.

Ostrom, the peerless southpaw who performed brilliantly for the pre-war Recreations, while of an age when he justly earned his nickname, now is a seasoned performer who has lost none of his pitching acumen or his feared ability.

Wins Five Straight

The Poughkeepsians, undefeated in five games this season, will have Dick Whitesell on the firing line against the Newburgh Jewels in the Bridge City opener Sunday night at 8:30.

Whitesell, former football great at Syracuse when he was a running mate of Tommy Maines, is manager of the Poughkeepsie squad which is stamped by most observers as the team to beat in the round robin competition for the valley diadem.

Ostrom requested that he be given the starting assignment at the stadium, for although he turned in some memorable games for the Recreations, he still is the target of some of the bleacherites, who delight in making him the subject of barbed remarks. This was especially evident when Kingston fans journeyed to Poughkeepsie for some of those hotly contested Colonial League clashes of bygone years.

"I want Kingston," Ostrom told Whitesell. And the manager was quick to agree for the fabulous lefthander has been brilliant in his five winning efforts to date.

The Ostrom Record

Here's the Ostrom record:

Washington Pilots 3, Poughkeepsie 4. A five-hitter for Billy, who walked three and struck out seven. Two runs were earned.

Georgia Chain Gang 1, Poughkeepsie 4. In this game Ostrom didn't yield an earned run and scattered eight hits. He walked two and struck out seven.

Jersey City Cardinals 3, Poughkeepsie 4. Billy gave seven hits in this tilt, walked one and fanned seven. One run was earned.

New York Giant Rookies 2, Poughkeepsie 11. The All Stars breezed to victory as Ostrom walked five and fanned seven on an eight-hit job.

Poughkeepsie 7, Philadelphia Brown Bombers 2. Ostrom gave five hits, didn't issue a walk and fanned seven.

Thus in five straight victories, Ostrom has yielded 11 runs (seven of them earned); has given 33 hits, 11 walks and fanned 35 in 45 innings, starting and finishing each game.

With Ostrom in such rare form, Manager Whitesell has not made an appearance with the team in its Sunday contests. But hurling for the PAL squad in the Poughkeepsie Twilight League, Dick has been the best flinger in the circuit, as is attested by the team's record of 13-2, tops for the loop.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching—Robin Roberts, Philadelphia Phillies, became the first major league pitcher this season to win 20 games, stopping Pittsburgh, 8-1.

Batting—Ray Boone, Detroit Tigers, hit his fourth grand slam home run of the season, tieing the major league record, as the Tigers defeated St. Louis 7-3.

Tiger Outfielder Felled by Pitch

St. Louis, Aug. 13 (AP)—Detroit outfielder Jim Delsing, struck with a pitched ball in the fourth inning of last night's game with the St. Louis Browns, was resting comfortably and "doing well" at Jewish Hospital today.

Veteran southpaw Harry (The Cat) Brecheen tossed the pitch that felled the 27-year-old former Brownie.

Delsing crumbled unconscious at the plate but was revived in the Detroit clubhouse.

Canadian-Owned Horse Wins in Three Heats

Goshen, Aug. 13 (AP)—A 29-year-old Vermont farm boy, who seven years ago literally begged for a job, today was the toast of light harness horse racing after driving a finely tuned filly to victory in the richest of all Hambletonian stakes.

Harry Harvey brought the Canadian-owned Helicopter home first in the second and third heats of the $117,117.98 buggy whip derby yesterday at Good Time Park to become the youngest driver ever to win the classic.

And in winning the third and deciding heat, Harvey beat 71-year-old Tom Berry, the man who finally tired of discouraging the youngster and gave him a job. Five years with the old master and Harvey switched to a job as fourth string driver with trainer-driver Del Miller.

"Del gave me a fine filly and I was lucky," said the modest New England horseman after winning the second mile in 2:02 4/5 and the third in 2:02 3/5.

Helicopter, daughter of Hoot Mon, 1947 Hambletonian winner and ninth filly to win the classic, was purchased as two-year-old for $7,500 by the Canadian road-building brothers, J. Elgin and C. E. Armstrong of Brampton, Ont., from Miller and the latter's partner, Johnny Simpson.

She was foaled at Menges Mills, Pa., and sold by Richard Hoke as a weanling to the Castleton Farm for $1150. Miller and Simpson took her out of Castleton yearling sales for $2,000. The Canadians turned the filly over to Miller to train.

Hanover Fastest

Morse Hanover turned in the fastest time of 2:01 3/5 in winning the first heat for W. C. Evans' Milkway Farm of Rockville Center, N. Y.—a heat in which Helicopter wound up 17th in the record field of 23 three-year-old trotters.

In winning the third mile, young Harvey beat out Berry, driving Kimberly Kid for Leonard Buck's Allwood Stable of Far Hills, N. J., and but for a break in stride near the finish, Berry might have beaten the man to whom he gave a job after receiving a half-dozen letters and answering none of them.

Second money of $22,955.12 went to Morse Hanover. Third share of the purse, $13,773.07, was won by Margaret Critchfield's Singing Sword of Wooster, Ohio, with Miller handling the reins. Singing Sword wound up second in the first mile and third in the next two.

Harvey Pointer First

Westbury, Aug. 13 (AP)—Harvey Pointer, owned and driven by Jack Brown of Macon, Ga., scored a half length victory last night over Henley's Mc in the Huntington Pace at Roosevelt Raceway. Brown took Harvey Pointer to the top at the three quarters, then held off the late rally of Henley's Mc., who closed gamely along the rail. Scamper Home was third. The time for the mile was 2:06.1. Harvey Pointer returned $9.50 for $2.

Hitsman Heads Rhinebeck Field

The leading dirt track driver in the area, Hitsman finished third in the 50-lap feature last week. He was Mutual's champion in 1952 and is a threat to retain his crown.

Saturday's program consists of seven big events capped by the 30-lap feature. Other stars to appear with Hitsman are Stan and Bob Disbrow, Doug Garrison, Doc Carlson, Bill Secor, Hal McCarty and Ken Gootermote.

New Hogan Personality Pleases Jersey Fans

Jamesburg, N. J., Aug. 13 (AP)—Ben Hogan showed a new face yesterday. The bantam Texan, fabled for his stony faced, methodical play, yesterday shot a Forsgate Country Club course exhibition match with a smile.

Some 5,500 spectators, who surged against ropes and guards to get a close look, saw the U. S. and British Open champ do the 71-par course in a 35-34-69.

Even the crowding didn't stop Hogan's joviality, which began at his pre-game shot-making exhibition during which he wisecracked and, at one point, impersonated comedian Bob Hope.

Subway Grill regained the winning formula and Alpine Climbers continued in the role of giant killers in yesterday's bracket of City Softball League games.

The Grillmen broke a 5-5 tie with a run in the top of the seventh to shade the Lincoln Park Inn, 6 to 5, for their 17th win in 19 games.

Alpines got another well pitched game from Don Koeppen to trip the powerful Esopus Legion, 8 to 3. The Climbers ran up a 7-1 lead in the first three innings off Charlie Bock and were never threatened.

Hilltop Wins 23-0

In other games, Beichert's held a fourth place tie with Alpines by tripping Sickler's Delivery, 7 to 4; and Hilltop crushed VFW, 23-0, scoring in every inning and running up a 17-0 lead in the first three innings.

Subways and Lincolns scored three each in the second and two more in the fifth. That left it 5-5 before the Grills crashed through with the winner in the seventh. The winners collected 16 hits off Ferrell McElrath, including three each by Tom Spada, Sonny Barnes and Joe Scholar, who had a triple. Several players on both sides had two hits each.

George Schatzel's double with the bases loaded was the key blow in Alpine's victory over Esopus. Koeppen pitched a seven hitter and contributed a single and triple to the Alpine attack. George Magley hit three singles for the winners and Bob Shaver matched the output for Esopus.

Crash 26 Hits

Hilltop assaulted Ken Dyson with a barrage of 26 hits, including home runs by Bill Tierney, Fred Schryver, Ronnie Scheffel and George Glaser to crush the VFW, 23-0.

The Hilltoppers also had four doubles and a triple and racked up eight runs in the second and six in the third. Meanwhile, Joe Enright breezed on a three-hitter.

Beichert's put all their eggs in one basket— a seven-run fourth inning—to trip Sicklers. It was just as well, too, because Putzie Brown permitted only one hit outside that big inning. Danny Basch checked the Deliverymen with six safeties, one a triple by Alecca.

Police Stop VFW Rally To Cop FYL Contest, 5-4

Giannuzzi Hurls Three-Hitter

The Police nine squelched a seventh inning rally by the VFW to cop a 5-4 squeaker in yesterday's Fraternal Youth League game at the municipal stadium.

The victory squared the Police record at five wins and five losses, while the VFW dipped below the .500 mark with four wins and five setbacks.

Stout pitching by Lorenzo Giannuzzi enabled the Police to gain a 3-0 lead in the first five innings. VFW broke through for a single tally in the sixth and Police retaliated with two to lead 5-1 going into the final frame. Giannuzzi permitted only three hits but nine walks kept him in trouble in the late innings.

Hoffman Triples

Joe Hoffman's triple to left and Ronnie Ashdown's bunt single gave VFW its first run in the sixth and spoiled Giannuzzi's hopes for a shutout.

The seventh was something of a nightmare for the Police. Ronnie Quarantino, Melvin Williams and Pete Esposito walked in succession to load the bases. Bob Dawkins' fly to right field was deep enough to score Quarantino. Williams also tallied when the relay was fouled up and the third run resulted when Amato booted Joe Pino's grounder. That left it 5-4 and the dangerous Ronnie Ashdown was deliberately walked. The strategy proved sound as the next batter, Charlie Bishop, grounded to second to end the threat.

Hamilton Hits Homer

George Hamilton, who pounded three hits, got the Police off to a flying start with a home run in the first innings. Dick Amato scored the second run on a walk, an error and an infield out. Pino wild pitched the next two Police tallies across and Hamilton knocked in a legitimate tally in the sixth.

Joe White, Police first sacker, stroked a pair of singles. Joe Beaver got the third VFW safety.

Durocher Gets 2-Year Contract And Starts Rebuilding Program

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—Fortified by a new two-year contract, Manager Leo Durocher of the New York Giants said today he was prepared to trade any of his star players if it meant improving the club for 1954.

The fiery little skipper, dismayed by mid-summer collapse of the Giants that virtually eliminated them from pennant contention, cautioned that he was not planning anything drastic but—.

"There is not a man on this club who is indispensable," he said. "There is nobody I wouldn't trade if I thought that by doing so it would help us achieve our aim.

"Right now I have one goal in sight—a pennant in 1954. There are some good players on this team. Undoubtedly they'll be around next year. But you can bet there are several who won't be here. Naturally, I'm not going to mention names, but those fellows know who I have in mind. It will be up to them during the remainder of the season to show me why they should be kept."

Durocher stubbornly refused to concede to Brooklyn, insisting that "anything can happen" but deep down in his heart Leo knows that this season has been a total loss as far as the Giants are concerned. From now on, all his thoughts and actions will be aimed at rebuilding the Giants.

Highlanders Score 18-9 Win Over Jays

The cellar-ridden Highlanders reared up to blast second-place Blue Jays, 18-9, yesterday in the Boys Club Pee Wee League.

Off to a fast start with five runs in the first, the Highlanders survived an 8-run rally by the Blue Jays in the second and then settled to a steady diet of scoring while Eddie Cosenza pitched shutout ball in the last four innings.

Donkeys Unscathed But Town of Esopus Is Full of Bruises

The donkeys came through unscathed in that travesty on baseball staged last night at Ross Field in Port Ewen

Approximately 1,000 spectators came away from the "game" convinced that donkey baseball is geared strictly for those sound of wind and limb —and extremely agile.

Neither the Gay Blades or Ball and Chainers scored so it ended 0 and 0. But the town reeked with aching backs, stiff muscles, charley horses and every sprain known to man this morning.

Knute Beichert was the first victim. He was rendered hors (no pun intended) de combat before the game started when one of the less docile beasts planted a hoof in his stomach. He was given first aid treatment and returned to the field —as a spectator.

Out of Doors with Field & Stream

By AL McCLANE
(Fishing Editor)

This may be the "off" season for Florida tourists but it is the middle of Florida's top fishing period. And in one day's fishing I caught pompano, lady-fish, mackerel, bluefish, sea trout and jack crevalle.

Ray Harmon of Riviera showed me a snook bar he had all staked out. More light tackle record snook have been caught here than any place on the map.

Actually, this fishing is unique in that the fish are in very shallow water where you can cast to them individually, either with flies, plugs or spoons. This isn't possible on most snook grounds as old "Spanish bass," the South's No. 2 salt-water gamefish (second only to sea trout in pounds taken), are noctural feeders.

We went into the lee of an island, Ray tossing a mullet type surface plug, and your agent heaving a gold wobbling spoon. I hooked sea trout, a ladyfish, a jack crevalle and a few minutes later, a school of blues slashed across the surface It was a real picnic.

When a snook finally hit, he was a strong one. The fish grabbed my spoon and walked right along the surface with his gill flaps wide open. He wasn't more than a 12-pounder, but the line snapped like a string.

Another one broke off before I changed spools on my spinning reel. I keep thinking that a six-pound line is practical for this type of fishing, but when I rigged up with eight-pound test no more fish popped free. That seems to be the right size monafilament for all but the largest salt water species.

The Duke Delivers

Brooklyn Dodgers center fielder Duke Snider watches ball sail into upper right field stands at Polo Grounds for a grand-slam homer off Giants pitcher Ruben Gomez, in seventh inning of game in New York. The blow, on which Wayne Belardi, Junior Gilliam and Bobby Morgan scored ahead of Snider, tied the score at 5-5. Dodgers got another run in eighth to win 6-5. Giant catcher is Ray Noble. Art Gore is the umpire.

Durocher Gets 2-Year Contract And Starts Rebuilding Program

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—Fortified by a new two-year contract, Manager Leo Durocher of the New York Giants said today he was prepared to trade any of his star players if it meant improving the club for 1954.

The fiery little skipper, dismayed by mid-summer collapse of the Giants that virtually eliminated them from pennant contention, cautioned that he was not planning anything drastic but—.

"There is not a man on this club who is indispensable," he said. "There is nobody I wouldn't trade if I thought that by doing so it would help us achieve our aim.

"Right now I have one goal in sight—a pennant in 1954. There are some good players on this team. Undoubtedly they'll be around next year. But you can bet there are several who won't be here. Naturally, I'm not going to mention names, but those fellows know who I have in mind. It will be up to them during the remainder of the season to show me why they should be kept."

Durocher stubbornly refused to concede to Brooklyn, insisting that "anything can happen" but deep down in his heart Leo knows that this season has been a total loss as far as the Giants are concerned. From now on, all his thoughts and actions will be aimed at rebuilding the Giants.

Grillmen Shade Lincolns, 6-5 For 17th Win

Don Koeppen Stops Esopus Legion, 7-4

Subway Grill regained the winning formula and Alpine Climbers continued in the role of giant killers in yesterday's bracket of City Softball League games.

The Grillmen broke a 5-5 tie with a run in the top of the seventh to shade the Lincoln Park Inn, 6 to 5, for their 17th win in 19 games.

Alpines got another well pitched game from Don Koeppen to trip the powerful Esopus Legion, 8 to 3. The Climbers ran up a 7-1 lead in the first three innings off Charlie Bock and were never threatened.

Hilltop Wins 23-0

In other games, Beichert's held a fourth place tie with Alpines by tripping Sickler's Delivery, 7 to 4; and Hilltop crushed VFW, 23-0, scoring in every inning and running up a 17-0 lead in the first three innings.

Subways and Lincolns scored three each in the second and two more in the fifth. That left it 5-5 before the Grills crashed through with the winner in the seventh. The winners collected 16 hits off Ferrell McElrath, including three each by Tom Spada, Sonny Barnes and Joe Scholar, who had a triple. Several players on both sides had two hits each.

George Schatzel's double with the bases loaded was the key blow in Alpine's victory over Esopus. Koeppen pitched a seven hitter and contributed a single and triple to the Alpine attack. George Magley hit three singles for the winners and Bob Shaver matched the output for Esopus.

Crash 26 Hits

Hilltop assaulted Ken Dyson with a barrage of 26 hits, including home runs by Bill Tierney, Fred Schryver, Ronnie Scheffel and George Glaser to crush the VFW, 23-0.

The Hilltoppers also had four doubles and a triple and racked up eight runs in the second and six in the third. Meanwhile, Joe Enright breezed on a three-hitter.

Beichert's put all their eggs in one basket— a seven-run fourth inning—to trip Sicklers. It was just as well, too, because Putzie Brown permitted only one hit outside that big inning. Danny Basch checked the Deliverymen with six safeties, one a triple by Alecca.

Donkeys Unscathed But Town of Esopus Is Full of Bruises

The donkeys came through unscathed in that travesty on baseball staged last night at Ross Field in Port Ewen

Approximately 1,000 spectators came away from the "game" convinced that donkey baseball is geared strictly for those sound of wind and limb —and extremely agile.

Neither the Gay Blades or Ball and Chainers scored so it ended 0 and 0. But the town reeked with aching backs, stiff muscles, charley horses and every sprain known to man this morning.

Knute Beichert was the first victim. He was rendered hors (no pun intended) de combat before the game started when one of the less docile beasts planted a hoof in his stomach. He was given first aid treatment and returned to the field —as a spectator.

Highlanders Score 18-9 Win Over Jays

The cellar-ridden Highlanders reared up to blast second-place Blue Jays, 18-9, yesterday in the Boys Club Pee Wee League.

Off to a fast start with five runs in the first, the Highlanders survived an 8-run rally by the Blue Jays in the second and then settled to a steady diet of scoring while Eddie Cosenza pitched shutout ball in the last four innings.

Giannuzzi Hurls Three-Hitter

The Police nine squelched a seventh inning rally by the VFW to cop a 5-4 squeaker in yesterday's Fraternal Youth League game at the municipal stadium.

The victory squared the Police record at five wins and five losses, while the VFW dipped below the .500 mark with four wins and five setbacks.

Stout pitching by Lorenzo Giannuzzi enabled the Police to gain a 3-0 lead in the first five innings. VFW broke through for a single tally in the sixth and Police retaliated with two to lead 5-1 going into the final frame. Giannuzzi permitted only three hits but nine walks kept him in trouble in the late innings.

Hoffman Triples

Joe Hoffman's triple to left and Ronnie Ashdown's bunt single gave VFW its first run in the sixth and spoiled Giannuzzi's hopes for a shutout.

The seventh was something of a nightmare for the Police. Ronnie Quarantino, Melvin Williams and Pete Esposito walked in succession to load the bases. Bob Dawkins' fly to right field was deep enough to score Quarantino. Williams also tallied when the relay was fouled up and the third run resulted when Amato booted Joe Pino's grounder. That left it 5-4 and the dangerous Ronnie Ashdown was deliberately walked. The strategy proved sound as the next batter, Charlie Bishop, grounded to second to end the threat.

Hamilton Hits Homer

George Hamilton, who pounded three hits, got the Police off to a flying start with a home run in the first innings. Dick Amato scored the second run on a walk, an error and an infield out. Pino wild pitched the next two Police tallies across and Hamilton knocked in a legitimate tally in the sixth.

Joe White, Police first sacker, stroked a pair of singles. Joe Beaver got the third VFW safety.

By AL McCLANE
(Fishing Editor)

This may be the "off" season for Florida tourists but it is the middle of Florida's top fishing period. And in one day's fishing I caught pompano, lady-fish, mackerel, bluefish, sea trout and jack crevalle.

Ray Harmon of Riviera showed me a snook bar he had all staked out. More light tackle record snook have been caught here than any place on the map.

Actually, this fishing is unique in that the fish are in very shallow water where you can cast to them individually, either with flies, plugs or spoons. This isn't possible on most snook grounds as old "Spanish bass," the South's No. 2 salt-water gamefish (second only to sea trout in pounds taken), are noctural feeders.

We went into the lee of an island, Ray tossing a mullet type surface plug, and your agent heaving a gold wobbling spoon. I hooked sea trout, a ladyfish, a jack crevalle and a few minutes later, a school of blues slashed across the surface It was a real picnic.

When a snook finally hit, he was a strong one. The fish grabbed my spoon and walked right along the surface with his gill flaps wide open. He wasn't more than a 12-pounder, but the line snapped like a string.

Another one broke off before I changed spools on my spinning reel. I keep thinking that a six-pound line is practical for this type of fishing, but when I rigged up with eight-pound test no more fish popped free. That seems to be the right size monafilament for all but the largest salt water species.

Rotary Enjoys Chicken Barbecue

Members of the Kingston Rotary Club and their families numbering some 200 enjoyed barbecued chicken Wednesday evening at the annual Rotary picnic held at Harry Beatty's farm. The barbecued broilers were raised by Carolyn Myer, aged 10, of Hurley as a 4-H Club project. This was her first year as a poultry raiser. Previously she raised pheasants under the Conservation Department program.

Cooked over charcoal in a large pit, the barbecued broilers were delicious. Members of the local service club cooked and served the food. The picnic was an outstanding success.

West Point Cadet Dies of Suffocation

Falls Church, Va., Aug. 13 (AP)—Walter Thomas Grow, 21, West Point cadet and son of Maj. Gen. Robert W. Grow whose diary was stolen by the Communists, died of suffiocation in a fire at the family home here last night.

Members of the family said they heard the youth cry out and when they hurried to investigate they found his upstairs room a mass of flames.

Young Grow's body was found near a window to which he apparently had tried to make his way.

Damage was confined to the upper portion of the house, centering in Walter Grow's room. He had just come home on summer vacation from the military academy where he was a third classman.

The elder Grow, now retired from army service, was military attache in Moscow at the time Red agents got their hands on his diary while he was on a visit to Frankfurt, Germany. The Communists used and twisted the contents of the diary in a propaganda campaign.

Another rubbed his hands happily and grinned at cameramen who asked him to smile, telling them:

"Sure, this is the first time I smiled in a long time."

The Red songs rang out defiantly on cue from cheer leaders.

Food and Cleanups

The Allied soldiers were rushed to nearby Freedom Village for food, quick cleanups and interviews.

There they began answering a big question: Were conditions as bad in all the bleak north Korean prison stockades as in the chill Camp 5 at Pyoktong?

And from their first stories the answer appeared to be yes.

A sergeant said 34 American prisoners were "shipped out" of camp 1 two days before the armistice was signed.

Sgt. Harry E. Borie of Philadelphia, said the Chinese accused the 34 of being instigators."

Eight other men were formally sentenced by court martial to terms of one to three years "mostly for slugging progressives."

He said at least seven "progressives" were hospitalized from beatings at the time the armistice was signed and he added concerning "progressives — "hanging is too good for them."

Three men estimated that 10 per cent of the Americans at Camp 1 were "rats" who collaborated with the Chinese and spied against other prisoners. Most of the "rats" also wore the hated tag of "progressives"—POWs who fell for Red indoctrination.

Sgt. Reginald Smith, 32, of Macon, Ga., said there were about 50 "progressives" in his company of 300.

The Pyoktong camp was "mental torture," Smith said, adding: "It got where you could not trust your best friend."

Bridge Authority

as soon as word of final approval was received.

A certified copy of the contract was forwarded to State Comtroller J. Raymond McGovern following the bridge authority's action yesterday.

A spokesman for Totonelly's office said earlier this week that the contractor would be on the site for about three months, clearing the .67 of a mile of the approach eastward from Route 32. The bridge is to be built three miles north of Kingston Point.

Grain for China

San Francisco (AP)—Peiping radio says Communist China intends to double its annual grain production within the next ten years to reach an output of 300,000,000 tons a year. The figure was announced by Teng Tzu-hwei, vice-chairman of the Financial and Economic Affairs committee of the ruling Red Administration Council, said a broadcast heard by the Associated Press in San Francisco. He said the production increase could be accomplished only by mechanizing China's agriculture through big-scale farm collectives.

Good Neighbors

Clarinda, Ia. (AP)—Being "good neighbors" paid off for Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shields, farmers near here. Mr. and Mrs. Shields both were suffering from tuberculosis. They had to go to a sanitarium for two years so they put their household goods and farm equipment up for sale at auction. Auctioneers donated their services and friends and neighbors got together to push bids to levels that were amazingly high. In addition the neighbors bought $1,100 in U. S. bonds for the Shields' two daughters, Nancy, 8, and Jo Ann, 6, who will live with their maternal grandparents. Neighbors said the Shields long have been active in organizing "good neighbor" activity for other farm families.

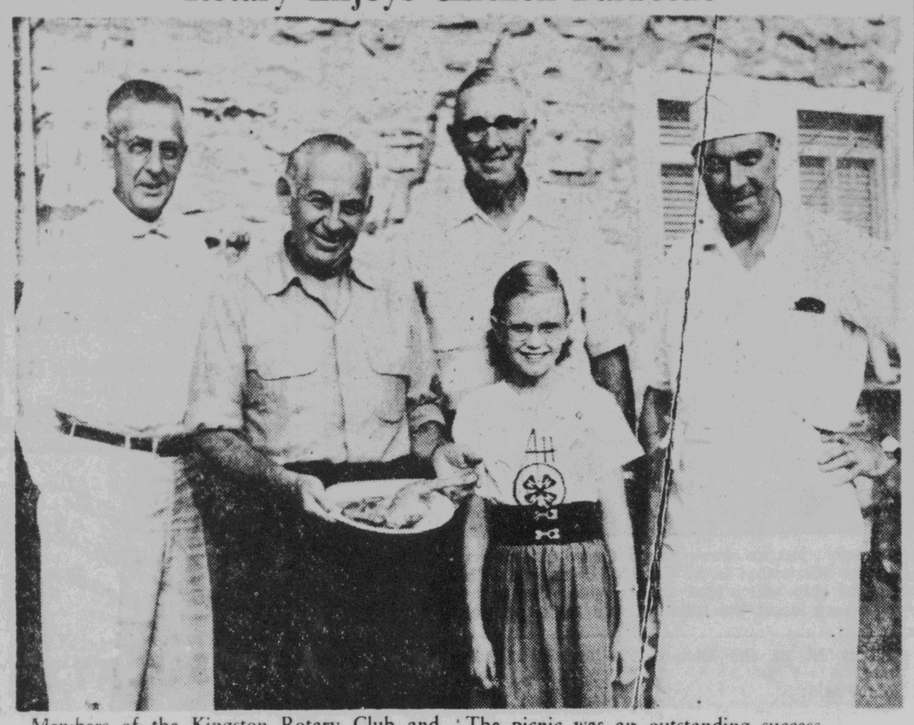
Rotary Enjoys Chicken Barbecue



Members of the Kingston Rotary Club and their families numbering some 200 enjoyed barbecued chicken Wednesday evening at the annual Rotary picnic held at Harry Beatty's farm. The barbecued broilers were raised by Carolyn Myer, aged 10, of Hurley as a 4-H Club project. This was her first year as a poultry raiser. Previously she raised pheasants under the Conservation Department program.

Cooked over charcoal in a large pit, the barbecued broilers were delicious. Members of the local service club cooked and served the food. The picnic was an outstanding success.

West Point Cadet Dies of Suffocation

Falls Church, Va., Aug. 13 (AP)—Walter Thomas Grow, 21, West Point cadet and son of Maj. Gen. Robert W. Grow whose diary was stolen by the Communists, died of suffiocation in a fire at the family home here last night.

Members of the family said they heard the youth cry out and when they hurried to investigate they found his upstairs room a mass of flames.

Young Grow's body was found near a window to which he apparently had tried to make his way.

Damage was confined to the upper portion of the house, centering in Walter Grow's room. He had just come home on summer vacation from the military academy where he was a third classman.

The elder Grow, now retired from army service, was military attache in Moscow at the time Red agents got their hands on his diary while he was on a visit to Frankfurt, Germany. The Communists used and twisted the contents of the diary in a propaganda campaign.

Editors Fail to editor was questioned in detail about his past politics and other matters April 24 and May 5 by the Senate Investigating Subcommittee.

Wechsler contended the transcript, later made public, would show McCarthy, as chairman of the subcommittee, was trying to intimidate an editor whose newspaper had criticized him.

McCarthy denied any such intention. He said the questioning was justified because Wechsler had written a book circulated by the State Department in one of its overseas libraries, which the subcommittee was investigating.

Wechsler is an acknowledged ex-Communist. He told the senators he quit the Communist party in 1937 at the age of 22 and has opposed it actively since then.

In New York, McCarthy said in an interview yesterday he was pleased that the ASNE Committee has urged all editors to read the hearing transcript.

He said also he was happy that the view of the four members who criticized the interrogation of Weschler "are not shared by the majority of the committee." He said he did not believe their opinion was that of "the majority of American newspapermen."

Weschler, also in New York, said in a statement it was "notable that no member of the committee chose to offer a public defense of MsCarthy's actions while four distinguished editors, including the committee chairman, upheld my view that a very real challenge to the press was presented by these hearings."

The full committee of editors agreed that hearings such as the one McCarthy conducted should be open to the press and public and advised all editors to seek legal advice on whether they should answer questions about their editorial and news judgments if they are ever called before any investigating committee.

"If there is a genuine constitutional question here, then it should be raised and settled," said the report.

Wiggins was one of the four editors who filed a separate statement blasting the Wechsler hearing as a definite menace to press freedom. The others were Herbert Brucker of the Hartford (Conn.) Courant, William M. Tugman of the Eugene (Ore.) Register-Guard and Eugene S. Pulliam Jr. of the Indianapolis News.

They said:

"Newspapers put to the necessity of explaining to government agencies ....their news and editorial policies....would exist under an intimidation and harassment wholly incompatible with American ideas of liberty."

"The noblest senator that ever lived," said the four editors, "cannot interrogate the meanest editor that ever existed, under auspices of government power, without putting in jeopardy the people's right to a free press."

The four editors also signed the full committee's no-verdict report.

The other seven members, who likewise signed the full report, were Paul Block Jr. of the Toledo (Ohio) Blade and the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, Raymond L. Crowley of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, William H. Fitzpatrick of the Wall Street Journal, George W. Healy Jr. of the New Orleans Times-Picayune, L. D. Hotchkiss of the Los Angeles Times, Joseph W. Lee of the Topeka (Kan.) State Journal and James S. Pope of the Louisville Courier-Journal and Times.

Hydrant Was Leaking

Police were notified at 3:45 a. m. today that a fire hydrant at East Chester street and Broadway was leaking. Officers Crawford Millham and Charles McCullough were dispatched there and reported that it apparently had been struck by a car or truck. The water and fire departments were notified.
